FACTS ABOUT SOUTH AFRICA.

Boer sympathizers lay stress upon the "trekking" tendency of the South African Dutch. Upon that natural characteristic of all pioneer peoples, the imagination has built a mass of wild fancy. The British become greedy land-grabbers, the Boer farmers have been robbed of their homes, and have taken flight from invading Huns and Vandals.

The Spokesman-Review says: The facts present a very different story. Property rights have been respected in Cape Colony and Natal, as they are always respected in all parts of the British empire. Indeed, if the British government has been at fault on that matter, it has faulted from a too severe regard for the rights of property.

The following estimate of the white population in South Africa, made by F. E. Garrett, of the Cape assembly, is revealing:

	Dutch.	English.
Transvaal	80,000	123,000
Free State	78,000	15,000
Natal	6,000	45,000
Cape Colony	265,000	194,000
Totals	429,000	377,000
Total whites	806,000

It is seen from this table that 265,000 Boers prefer British government in Cape Colony, as compared with 80,000 Boers who prefer Kruger government in the Transvaal and 78,000 who prefer Boer government in the Orange Free State.

But note the difference. In Cape Colony 265,000 Boers have every political right that is enjoyed by the 194,000 English. They control the Cape legislature and make the laws. It is majority rule in the broadest and most liberal application. In the Transvaal, upon the opposing hand, the 80,000 Boers have divested the 123,000 English, Americans and Europeans of all rights and privileges of government. They will not permit the outlanders to become naturalized, vote, hold office or bear arms. Their constitution expressly prohibits Jews and Roman Catholics from holding office. The government is a bald travesty of republican principles and institutions.

GERMAN UNREST.

The emperor of Germany is a strong man, and has a powerful army completely at his control, else he might have a revolution on his hands. For William's political friendship for England in her contest with the Boers is not shared by the German people. They are at no more pains than is necessary to escape the charge of lese majeste to show their disgust with their ruler's conduct. They scarcely disguise their hatred of England, and their sympathy with the Boers. The German press, while necessarily cautious in its language, is almost unanimous in voicing the popular sentiment. There is great dissatisfaction, and much unrest, among the German people, over the rumored and apparent political and diplomatic commerce between William and Chamberlain and Salisbury. If the German people had their way, they would join Russia, and even their old enemy, France, in an anti-Anglo coalition. But in this instance William is wiser than his people. He, like the United States, has only the beginning of a navy, as compared with that of England, and England has no use for much of her navy in South African waters. Russia's objects are her own, and would not be ultimately beneficial to Germany; and Russia, too, is deficient in a great navy. As to France, she would be a weak and troublesome ally. So William and his counsellors may be unpopular just now, but they are probably wise.—Telegram

The "Dewey Bible."

The Boston Pilot tells of an exhorter who was holding forth on the common and solemnly presented to his hearers the alternative of "salvation or damnation—the King James Bible or the Douay Bible." Among the audience was a citizen who had been imbibing somewhat freely. This gentleman apparently misunderstood the preacher, for he yelled: "Hooray for the Dewey Bible!" The crowd took up the cry and the exhorter was compelled to suspend further effort.

More Women Commercial Travelers.

Women commercial travelers are considerably on the increase. Their tact and persuasiveness render them successful. The increase has been largely due to the freedom in traveling which women now claim.

Easily Explained.

"Did you notice how Mrs. Timmid's gown was covered with dust and feathers?"
"Yes; she always crawls under the bed when it thunders."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised 'Electric Bitters'; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed, at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store.
