ENGLAND'S MISTAKEN COURSE

It ought to be apparent to the British government that the repeated seizure of German vessels in South African waters is bad policy. A German historian, in an article in one of the American magazines recently, said there was only one man in Germany who did not hate England, and that was the Kaiser. The story now is that the Kaiser himself is beginning to get angry at England. This may or may not be true, but the folly of England's course is pretty apparent to most persons by this time, says the Globe-Democrat.

Probably there is considerable truth in the report that there is an understanding between England and Germany in regard to the Boer war, and the distribution of territory in South Africa which will take place after the conflict ends. The story has been repeated with great circumstantiality recently, and it has never been formally denied by either the British or the German government, although there were some cautious disclaimers on the part of German officials in regard to one or two of the things which Germany was said to have agreed to. The story in its broad features, that there is an understanding between the two governments, and that each is going to have more territory in South Africa after the war ends than it has now, is probably correct.

Nevertheless, the activity of the British war-ships in overhauling and searching German merchant vessels and seizing their cargoes, or part of them, is calculated to disturb the arrangement which has been entered into between the heads of the two countries. The leading German newspapers, with a few exceptions, are bitterly hostile to England. The populace, or the Prussian part of it, has had a grudge against England dating back from the days, a century and a third ago, during the seven years' war, when George III., in his enmity to Pitt, forced that statesman to resign from the cabinet, and then withdrew the British support from Frederick the Great which Pitt had given him. National antipathies are sometimes long-lived. Whether this deed of George III. was bad or good, it certainly lives after him. It is decidedly unwise for the British authorities to be done which will needlessly intensify German prejudices. Another German writer in an American periodical a few months ago declared that William II. was so popular with the masses of the people of Germany that, contrary to the American notion, he would be chosen president if Germany were a republic. Some of the British naval officers in the neighborhood of Delagoa Bay, however, are proceeding very diligently to weaken the influence of the Kaiser with his people and abolish the British alliance.

The reduction in the public debt during December is a very encouraging piece of financing. It amounted to $5,791,824. The increase in the army up to the 100,000 mark has necessarily made expenditures high, but the revenue is also growing. Income exceeds outgo at the present time, and this is likely to be the general condition through the whole of the year. The period of deficits is ended and that of surpluses is at hand. This is creditable to the present administration of federal affairs.

If Mrs. Filloon's suppositions are correct in last week's Agriculturist, that the disease at Moro is not small-pox but chicken pox, what is the reason everyone up at Moro has been vaccinated lately?—Wasco News.

A Thousand Tongues
Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

Experience is the best Teacher. Use Acker's English Remedy in any case of coughs, cold or croup. Should it fail to give immediate relief money refunded. 25 cts. and 50 cts. Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size, Ely Brothers, 50 Warren St., N. Y. The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

Sheriff's Sale.
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF Oregon, for Wasco County.
J. P. McInerney, administrator of the estate of Philip Brogan, deceased, Plaintiff, vs.
N. W. Wallace and S. F. Wallace, Defendants.
By virtue of an execution in and order of sale, duly issued out of and under the seal of the circuit court of the state of Oregon, for the county of Wasco, to me directed and dated the 25th day of November, 1899, upon a decree for the foreclosure of a certain mortgage, in favor of the plaintiff and against said defendants, and judgment rendered and entered in said court in the above entitled case, in favor of plaintiff, on the 25th day of November, 1899, at the rate of ten (10) per cent per annum, and the further sum of one hundred dollars ($100.00) as and for the costs of said suit and in and upon this writ, commanding me to make sale of the real property embraced in such decree of foreclosure and hereinafter described; said decree and judgment, in and under the seal of said court, entered on the 24th day of October, 1899, I will on the third day of January, 1900, at the hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said day and at the front of the county court house, in Dalles City, Wasco county, Oregon, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in hand all the right, title and interest which the defendants herein, have since acquired or now have in and to the following described real property, situated and being in Wasco county, Oregon, to-wit: The south east quarter of the southeast quarter, the south east quarter of the southeast quarter of section twenty-eight, in township seven south, of range seventeen east, Willamette Meridian, containing 160 acres, or so much of said property as will satisfy said judgment and decree, with costs and accruing costs.
Said property will be sold subject to confirmation and redemption as by law provided.
Dated at Dalles City, Wasco county, Oregon, this 29th day of November, 1899.
