THE SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC.

With the Disease All About Us We Should Use More Precaution.

While it is the general opinion of Dalles people that we cannot well escape the smallpox, which is now prevalent throughout the neighboring towns and along the line of the railroad, at the same time very little precaution seems to be taken. So far as we can learn few have resorted to vaccination, and if a case should develop in the city tomorrow, no place would be in readiness to receive them. A room should be fitted up in the pest house, so that any stranger coming into the city and taking ill of the disease, could be cared for. While we do not advocate the idea of "shaking hands with the devil before meeting him," yet it does seem as if the Dalles should use a little judgment in the matter and be prepared for its inroads. The fact that the disease is, in most cases, of a light nature, should not make us less precautions, for a case in Spokane which was contracted from one of the lightest cases, has proven to be of the most malignant type.

The cases of Mrs. Kennedy and Selth Miller at Wamic are of a light nature and confined to one family, the latter making his home with Mr. Kennedy's parents.

Although it is a difficult matter to determine to what an extent the country is infected with it, the following clippings from exchanges will give a slight idea:

"While there is but one case of that dreadful disease in Grass Valley, our citizens are taking every precaution to prevent its spread. The public school has been closed for the present, people are being vaccinated and disinfecting their premises, etc., and it is thought by the aid of a strict quarantine the epidemic will not only be confined to one house, but entirely wiped out."—Journal.

"A number of cases of smallpox are reported at Waitburg, as a result of which schools have closed and public meetings prohibited. The cases, however, are well in hand and the authorities are using every precaution for the suppression of the disease."—W. W. Union.

"Physicians who at first were inclined to doubt that the present disease is smallpox have gradually come to the belief that it is a modified form. It is of almost harmless character. As yet no deaths have been reported and none is looked for. Despite the fact that there have been thirty-two known cases of smallpox in the city, and the number is daily increasing, the official records of Health Officer Potter show that in only fifteen instances has he made any effort at disinfection. They also fail to show that quarantine has been established in any case."—Spokane Review.

"A well known citizen of Pendleton, who came in from Baker City Wednesday morning, says that a very serious epidemic of smallpox is raging in that city. He reports that there are sixty cases in Baker City now, that up to Monday the type of the disease was mild, but that on that date a very violent case was sent from the hospital to the pest house. Several blocks are under quarantine, but the quarantine is not strict and the disease is still spreading. Strange to say the public schools have not been closed in Baker City, though in the presence of sixty cases of smallpox they ought to be. No inkling of the condition of affairs can be gleaned from the newspapers of Baker City, but if the disease is raging there as reported, it would be the part of wisdom for Pendleton authorities to keep a sharp lookout on visitors from Baker City to prevent another outbreak of the disease here."—Review.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Call and inspect the line of golf and traveling caps at Pease & Mays.

Pease & Mays have received a full line of novelties in golf caps, etc.

Judging from the flattering notices given them by newspapers in cities where they have appeared, the "Human Hearts" company is a good one.

This morning J. H. Preston, who was held on a charge of larceny, was released from the custody of the sheriff, friends having furnished the $250 bail.

The lady friends of the club are invited to be present this evening and witness the contest bowling games between the Y. M. C. A. of Portland and our home team.

Contrary to the usual custom, services will be held tonight at the Methodist church, and the special meetings will continue tomorrow and the entire week. A special invitation is given the public to tomorrow's services.

At the request of Rev. G. Rushing and many others, Dr. Hall, who lectured last night at the Baldwin, has been induced to remain over and will preach tonight in the Christian church, taking as his subject "The Advantages of Being a Christian." No admission will be charged, and all are invited to attend.

It is said that a congressman the other day asked Brigham H. Roberts how many wives he had, when the gentleman from Utah answered: "Enough so that I don't bother other men's wives." This leads one of our exchanges to say, that this is more than some of our law makers in Washington can truthfully say of themselves.

The Y. M. C. A. bowlers must be "crackjacks." At any rate they succeed in doing up every team with which they come in contact. Last night in Portland they beat the Illinois three out of the four games. Tonight they meet our team on the club alleys, bowling to begin at 8 o'clock. The personnel of the team we have not been able to obtain.

It is a great satisfaction to Dalles people, who remember kindly Charles N. Crittenton, who visited our city a few years since and conducted a series of meetings here, to learn that he is recovering from a serious illness in Minneapolis, which it was feared would prove fatal. The world cannot afford to lose such men as he, whose efforts in behalf of the fallen and down-trodden, have saved hundreds from dishonorable lives and started them on the path of virtue.

Some time since the Lutheran church in The Dalles extended a call to Rev. Wm. Brenner, of Oregon City, who has been filling the pulpit here at intervals for several months. The call has now been accepted and two weeks from tomorrow he will enter upon his duties as pastor. Mr. Brenner is a young man, and possesses that energy that will make his work successful.

Nightwatchman Phirman is a good friend of the boys, although they may not be old enough yet to appreciate the fact. Last night finding an 18-year-old boy playing cards in one of the city saloons at 10:30 o'clock, he walked him over to the city jail, gave him a night's lodging therein and this morning he was given a wholesome lecture; one which should teach him to better employ his youthful hours in the future.

Last evening Miss Lily Seufert entertained a number of her friends at her mother's residence on Fourth street. A number of games were played until a late hour, when a most tempting lunch was served. After lunch a few selections on the piano were rendered, and then, hoping that the pleasant evening would soon be duplicated, the following guests departed: Dottie Morris, Melissa Leibe, Bernice Scholling, Pearl Joles, Rose Buchler, Annie Harris, Waco Morris, Mamie Buchler, Frank Seufert, Robert Stewart, Pete Nickelsen, Rex Ward, Paul French, Fred Waud, Claud Martin, Silvey Kelsay.

If the lessons taught last night by Dr. Geo. Hall in his lecture at the Baldwin were heeded and put into practice in every day life by those who listened to him, there would be a transformation in many homes of our city. The doctor is a speaker who bears evidence of learning and at the same time is of that type of lecturers who believe in choosing subjects of interest to his listeners which please and not puzzle. His delivery is excellent and his impersonations first-class, perhaps the most pleasing feature of his address being the impersonation of the mother's lullaby, which was beautiful, being enhanced by the sweetness of his voice. His ideas of what constitutes a happy home were well chosen and, being interspersed with pleasing anecdotes and witticisms, found much favor with the audience. This is not his first visit to The Dalles, and all who heard him hope it will not be the last.

Those who make a practice of attending the meetings of the Students' Literary Society not only enjoy the meetings, but receive a great deal of benefit therefrom. Last night a moot U. S. senate occupied the city hall and at the opening of the session "Senator" Gourlay introduced a bill, the object of which was to open the Cascade Forest Reserve in Eastern Oregon to the pasturage of sheep. Hon. John Mitchell acted as president pro tem, and the following "senators" took part in the discussion: Gourlay, Gavin, Taylor, Brownhill, O'Leary, Anderson, Dufur, Barnett,

Riddell and Northrup. The discussion was extremely interesting and conducted in an understanding manner. The ability of the younger members of the senate was remarkable and gratifying to those who listened to the ideas advanced. An absence of lobbyists and a woman or two working up the suffrage question, was all the session lacked to make it the "real thing."

M. J. Anderson, the village blacksmith and Populist statesman of Dufur, thinks he can see as far into a Republican millstone as the man who picks it. While in town today he strongly denounced the present smallpox scare as a deep-laid scheme of Mark Hanna and the McKinley administration. "It is notorious," said Mr. Anderson, "that only Populist precincts have got this Filipino itch, as they call it over in Sherman county. Moro, a Populist stronghold in Sherman county, has got it bad. So has Wamic in this county, which is almost solidly Populist. Tygh is badly threatened, and Tygh is Bryanque to the core. Antelope and Hood River, two Republican strongholds, have not a single case. Neither is there a case in The Dalles. This shows beyond controversy that Mark Hanna is at the bottom of the whole business. The affected districts have all been quarantined, and thus prevented from registering so that they may not be able to vote at the next election." It's a cold day when Anderson gets left, however. In the absence of a doctor, and without a proper instrument to scarify the flesh, Anderson has inoculated every Populist in Dufur, using a curry comb to start the blood and in jecting the patients with a virus obtained, he says, direct from Lincoln, Nebraska.

A Sad Home-Coming.

This afternoon about 1 o'clock W. D. Gilmore, accompanied by two gentlemen from Antelope, arrived in the city with the body of his daughter, Maggie, having been on the road since yesterday morning. Brothers and sisters and other relatives of the deceased were here to meet them, and it was indeed a sad home-coming; doubly so from the nature of the accident which caused her demise. The remains were taken to her home at the old Gilmore place near Grand Dalles this afternoon, where the funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, the interment being made in Old Fellow's cemetery.

Mr. Gilmore says his burden was made lighter by the kindness of friends at Antelope, prominent among whom was Mrs. Hinkle, who did all in their power to render assistance and sympathy. Then on the long, sorrowful journey in to find such tender hearts and loving hands as were met at Sherar's Bridge and Bakeoven, where Mrs. Sherar and Mrs. Burgess were kindness personified and untrifling in their efforts to be a comfort and help. These ladies, with many others, equally as kind, he says, can never be forgotten.
