Cut Rates

Those of you who have not taken advantage of this golden opportunity must not regret it when it is too late, for we have warned you repeatedly that we have been offering goods than the market really justifies. There is no reason to believe that all fabrics will not be higher in future, for prices have advanced all along the line, and for people to presume that they can always buy goods at the present low prices is utter folly. We will not quote you prices on special lines this issue, but bear in mind that there is a liberal reduction throughout the

SWEET REST FROM SUFFERING

Full Particulars Regarding the Death of Maggie Gilmore—Funeral Yesterday.

A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the Gilmore homestead, two miles from the river, on the Washington side yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock to attend the funeral services of Maggie Gilmore. The terrible circumstances which caused her death, made the occasion doubly sad. Rev. D. V. Poling conducted the services, giving a short address suited to the occasion, and two appropriate hymns were sung by Rev. Poling and W. E. Simonton. The pall bearers were S. Bolton, Grant Mays, V. Koontz, W. Crofton, L. Curtis and M. Donnell. As the funeral procession landed on this side of the river many friends joined and accompanied it to Odd Fellows' cemetery, where the remains were interred, covered with a profusion of flowers, among which was a wreath from the Antelope school.

Fuller particulars of the accident which caused Miss Gilmore's death are obtained from those who accompanied the body to the city. Instead of the lamp exploding in her lap, it was accidentally knocked from the table by one of the little boys and caught the carpet. In attempting to escape from the room, Miss Gilmore's dress caught fire. In her terror, she ran from the room, the flames completely enveloping her, and had reached the street when Johnnie Bennett caught her and wrapping a blanket around her, extinguished the flames. He was badly burned about the hands and wrists.

At first the physician did not deem her case necessarily fatal, although four-fifths of the surface of the body was badly burned and she suffered terribly. It however, developed later that she swallowed the fire, which caused her death.

Her grandmother, Mrs. Gilmore, who was there at the time, with great presence of mind for one of her years, grabbed a floor mat and beat out the flames in the room, thus saving the house and perhaps the lives of the little ones.

Miss Gilmore was attending school in Antelope and had made many friends there, who deeply deplore her sad fate.

Injured In An Accident.

Saturday Mrs. Kate Halliman, a second cousin of Mrs. N. Wicks, and her adopted daughter arrived in the city from Oswego for the purpose of going out to the Wicks' place at the forks of Mill creek, where Ned Wicks is ill, and whom she intended to help nurse. Late in the evening she started with Mrs. Wicks for her destination, the latter driving. Upon reaching a place in the road near O. D. Taylor's place, the team turned up on a siding place and tipped the wagon over. Seeing that they were about to go over, Mrs. Halliman threw the little girl out and jumped out herself. She, however, fell on her knees and fractured it badly. The women then began to holler for assistance, but after some time, as no one heard them, Mrs. Wicks walked down to Taylor's house, when one of the boys helped to right the wagon, lifted the injured lady in and drove into town.

She was taken to the Obarr House and Dr. Geisendorffer was called, who pronounced the injury even worse than a break, particularly on a woman of fifty years, so that she will be laid up for some weeks.

TWO GAMES EACH.

The Home Team Bowls the Y. M. C. A.'s of Portland.

There is no doubt that the Y. M. C. A. team is a strong one; but it takes more than one defeat by even the Y. M. C. A.'s to back our bowlers down, and so the game started out Saturday night with confidence on both sides. The visiting team is composed entirely of young men, perhaps not over 18 years, and they roll with a vigor; but the Dalles team was not behind time, and the games came out pretty even, with the exception of the second, in which our team came out forty-nine points ahead. Richards was high man for Portland, with a total score of 183, while Baldwin loomed up with an even 200.

The scores by games were as follows:

	1st	2nd	3d	4th	Total
Bingley	27	34	34	34	129
Crapy	32	34	47	56	169
Whittlesey	47	28	46	27	148
Capen	31	36	40	36	143
Berger	48	53	33	37	171
Richards	59	36	47	41	183
Totals	244	221	247	231
Bradshaw	38	41	37	41	157
Baldwin	52	48	49	51	200
Kurtz	28	58	36	37	159
Houghton	37	51	34	43	165

A Clean Play.

"Human Hearts," which was played at the Reed last Saturday night, drew a large audience. It is one of the cleanest, best and most elevating plays seen in Salem. Many of the parts are extremely pathetic, but just when the height of pathos has been reached, in comes a comedian in the role of a tramp, who brings the house from tears into laughter and mirth. It has often been said that Salem is a poor patron of the theater, but it was plainly demonstrated last Saturday night at the Reed, that a good, clean show will be always highly appreciated and well patronized in Salem.—Sentinel.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

"Human Hearts" At the Vogt tonight Admission 50 cts; reserved seats 75 cts. Meetings at the Methodist church continue this week, and the public generally will be welcomed.

Examinations all over and standings determined, a new term of school began this morning—the second term of the school year.

Some people are like bricks—hard pressed—for cash. Why don't they trade at A. M. Williams & Co.'s and save some money?

The Christian church was filled to overflowing last evening with an attentive audience. Services will continue this week. All are welcome.

To give every one an equal chance, A. M. Williams & Co. have decided to continue their special clearance sale of ladies' waists and children's jackets for this entire week.

Last night in Portland Dr. A. Titzer and Miss Carrie Beady were united in marriage. Dr. Titzer will be remembered by Dalles people as having been employed as druggist for Blakeley & Houghton some years since.

It will not be a great while now before the fire alarm system is working and ready to warn our citizens just where the fire is. The new alarm boxes—seven in number, and the annunciator arrived yesterday, and Mr. Condon informs us he will soon begin work putting them in place.

A disease more terrible than smallpox has made its appearance in Pendleton, two cases of diphtheria being reported there. The strictest of measures are being used to prevent its spread. When compared with diphtheria, smallpox sinks into insignificance as far as its fatal results are concerned.

The sonorous voice of the sheriff was heard today at the court house door reading out the names on the delinquent tax list for '98. In answer Hill could be heard in behalf of the county, by whom most of the property was bid in. The list, however, has been pretty well paid up for such a long one.

Phirman arrested him last night for vagrancy, and he gave his name as Ed Welch. This morning, when brought before Recorder Gates he plead guilty, but said he had just recovered from an illness of pneumonia and had come here to obtain work on the portage road. He promised to go to work or leave town, so was discharged.

The Knights are anticipating a great time tonight upon the visit of the grand officers. Grand Chancellor Kennedy and other officers will arrive from Portland this evening and be present. We are informed that "rank" work will occupy the evening, with a smoker attached thereto and a general good time. All local Knights and visiting brothers are invited to be present.

Not content with the never-ending century question, which the newspapers have made their readers so weary of, one paper comes out with the following conundrum, with which all can puzzle their brains until something equally as immaterial presents itself: "Does July 4th, 1900, begin the 124th or the 125th year of the independence of the United States?"

We are in receipt of a letter from a member of the Oregon Irrigation Company which says that they will undoubtedly commence work on the Deschutes irrigating canal early this spring. This is indeed good news for Crook county. Its thousands of acres of fertile "desert" will soon become its most valuable part, being especially adapted to grain and alfalfa growing, and only lacking water.—Journal.

As usual a small number of voters were present at the school meeting Saturday afternoon. The business for which they were called together—that of levying a special school tax to pay the running expenses of our school—was, however, dispatched promptly, and a 7½ mill tax met with little opposition. While a suggestion or two was made regarding the expenses of District No. 12, the general opinion seemed to be one of satisfaction.

For several years Raymond, the young son of Rev. and Mrs. U. F. Hawk, has been an invalid, being confined to the bed a great portion of the time with hip joint disease. Upon a consultation of physicians Friday of last week it was decided that an operation would be necessary, and it was thought best to take him to the hospital. Accordingly Mrs. Hawk left with him on the boat this morning for Portland, where he will be placed in St. Vincent's hospital and operated on soon.

C. F. Baker, he of unsavory fame in other days, is again in trouble. This time he is wanted in Umatilla county on a charge of forgery. After searching for him in the vicinity of Sumpter, where he was purported to be, he was finally discovered in The Dalles, and arrested by Deputy Sheriff Sexton Saturday night. Deputy J. A. Blakeley from Umatilla arrived yesterday and secured his prisoner. Baker's parents live here, and it has always been a conundrum to people how any son could be so profligate as to disgrace such a father and mother.

People throughout Eastern Oregon will be quite generally interested in the news which has been sent out from Portland to the effect that Paul Mohr's steamboat company, which is building the portage road at The Dalles, has purchased in the east three sets of machinery for stern wheel steamers and the construction of the steamers will be commenced soon. Louis Paquet, of Portland, has the contract for one boat and work will begin in a few days. The Mohr company has bought the old steamer Frederick Billings from the Northern Pacific company and has had her repaired at Pasco. It is claimed that the new company will have a line in operation from the head of navigation on the Columbia and Snake rivers to Portland and Astoria in time to move the 1900 crop.—E. O.

Saturday being the fifteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Young, a number of friends were invited to a dinner at high noon, and to spend the afternoon at their residence on the hill. The occasion was an enjoyable one for both host and hostess and guests. Mr. and Mrs. Young received many gifts in crystal ware, both useful and ornamental. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Randall, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. S. Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. F. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. H. Willetton, Mr. and Mrs. L. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Campbell and daughter, Gladys, Mr. and Mrs. R. Gilbreath, Mr. and Mrs. G. Harth and son, George, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bayard, Mr. and Mrs. James Snipes, Mr. and Mrs. H. Steers, Mrs. Wm. Mitchell, Mrs. J. Mann and son, Earl.

A very tormenting habit of some of our young boys is that of throwing at Chinamen as they pass, attending to their own business, and not in any wise interfering with the little hoodlums. No more energetic race can be found than these Chinamen and so long as we admit them to our shores, the law should protect them. Everybody knows Dick, who is an inoffensive young Chinaman and not one who would merit such treatment as he daily receives, when a gang of little toughs stand on the corner and peg him with mud as he passes carrying bundles of clothes. It is useless for him to attempt to defend himself for the foolish parents of these same disreputable boys would see that their "darlings" were not unjustly dealt with by a neatly Chinaman. Just the same, if they are not capable of bringing up their children the law should assist them in the person of the marshal.

Expression of Gratitude.

Although having been almost completely stunned by the sorrow which came upon us in the terrible death of our daughter, Maggie, we are not insensible to the many kindnesses bestowed upon us by friends on every hand; on the contrary we can never express our thanks sufficiently. While it is well nigh impossible to designate among those who were particularly thoughtful and helpful were Messrs. S. Bolton and J. Robertson. We take this means of thanking you all.
