PEOPLE YOU ALL KNOW.

R. Sandman, of Mt. Hood, is in town today.

F. J. Stark, of Antelope, came in from that place yesterday on business.

R. H. Webber, the nursery man, left on the train this morning for Portland.

Charles Bagley, who accompanied W. D. Gilmore in from Antelope with his daughter's body, has returned to that berg.

C. J. Van Dorn drove in from Tygh yesterday huddled up as if it were a cold day. There are few cold days for Charlie, however, for he never gets left. He is in on a business trip.

B. R. Tucker came up last night from his place at Tucker, five miles from Hood River on the Mt. Hood road, and is transacting business in town today. He returned the semi-weekly calls which THE CHRONICLE makes at his home.

Jacob Christ, of Fairfield, was among our visitors today. He says he never saw it snow harder than it did when he came down 3-Milehill this morning, and as the wind was blowing the trip was not a pleasant one. Mr. Christ fears for the fruit in his vicinity. The cherry trees are some of them in bloom and orchardists say if a cold snap comes it liable to kill the trees as well as the fruit.

A Splendid Play.

It was a great satisfaction to Dalles people last night to again listen to a good play, one which appealed to the human heart and made all feel that they had advanced, instead of retrograded by listening to its teachings. "Human Hearts" is well named, for in the play is depicted all phases of that member of the human organization, from the sweet innocence of childhood to the black devilry of the skilled villain of both sexes. The inevitable fate of the faithless wife and the final reward of those who follow the path of virtue were presented in such a manner as to have the desired effect which the author evidently intended, and many of the situations were beautiful, the climax in the final act varying much from the stereotyped manner of most productions. The pleasing part of the play, however, is the entire absence of anything coarse; not a single act or word suggesting aught but the most refined.

Some may have deemed it too sad; but the ever present "Weary Wanderer" saw to it that the tears flowed not too freely, and just as the feelings of the audience were wrought up to the highest pitch, he dropped with his wit and jollity, scattering the clouds.

The company as a whole was first-class and while we might feel inclined to mention the tramp, Tom Logan, or the leading lady, in the end we would find ourselves designating each separately. So suffice it to say all were splendid.

A SURE CURE FOR CROUP.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use Without a Failure.

The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

F. B. Thirkield, health inspector of Chicago, says, "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cannot be recommended too highly. It cured me of severe dyspepsia." It digests what you eat and cures indigestion and heartburn, and all forms of dyspepsia.

A PRUDENT HOUSEWIFE.

The Wife of President Kruger Attends to All Details of Her Home Establishment.

Mrs. Kruger, the wife of the president of the Transvaal republic, does her own cooking, although her husband is twenty-five times a millionaire. The husband, who is of a frugal disposition, not only approves of his wife's supervision of the kitchen work, but says it is her duty to do the work in order to save expense. Not only does Mrs. Kruger cook, but she frequently washes the clothing of the family and scrubs and rolls the clothes with the skill and strength of the best of them.

She also insists upon making her own beds. This may be because "The Kruger" needs a very troubled pillow, a sheet without a wrinkle, to ease him from the arduous duties of scheming to make empires and millions, but it does the rest of the hard work it is probable she makes the bed to also save the penny—or whatever the money is in that land.

When there are guests at the presidential table Mrs. Kruger personally waits upon them. This duty she will not intrust to a servant, for she says her husband's guests must be served just as if they were at their own tables. She may be stingy in other things, but is liberal to a fault in what she sets before friends. Every plate is heaped with the best of well-cooked food, every glass is kept full to the brim with choice wine.

It is the pride of "Auntie" Kruger that her household expenses never exceed the sum appropriated by the veldsrand, $24,000 a year. Not a cent of the president's salary is ever used. It goes into the bank or into investments known to be safe and profitable, and unless the pending war with England results disastrously the bear executive will be one of the richest men in South Africa before he dies—N. Y. World.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not restrain the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed the pain in my chest, and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed. 5

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised 'Electric Bitters'; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed, at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store. 5

"I am indebted to One Minute Cough Cure for my health and life. It cured me of lung trouble following grippe." Thousands owe their lives to the prompt action of this never failing remedy. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, pneumonia, grippe and throat and lung troubles. Its early use prevents consumption. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results.

All persons wishing to take children, either boys or girls, for legal adoption or on indenture, should write to W. T. Gardner, superintendent of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of Oregon, at Portland, who can procure for them desirable children of all ages. All applications must be filed in advance. 1f
