SENATOR TURNER'S SPEECH.

Addressing the senate on the Philippine question, Senator Turner urged the adoption by congress of a declaration of its purpose to confer self-government on the Filipinos. He thought that declaration would stop the war instantly. In other words, Senator Turner would have the United States say, "We will come down if you will stop shooting."

The United States will not make that humiliating and self-incriminating admission, says the Review. It is engaged in the laudable work of restoring order in the Philippine islands, and in commanding respect for its authority, whether that authority shall be provisional or permanent. Immediately the authority of the United States has general recognition, and the scattered bandits have been subjugated, the United States government will be free to confer with the representative native leaders regarding the future government of the Philippines. The nature of that government will depend—partly on the general situation, and largely on the wishes of the majority of the Filipinos, and the desires of the American people, as expressed through congress, will be an important factor.

But the United States will not make the unwarranted confession before civilization that it has been conducting an unholy war; that its conduct in the Philippines has been shamefully wicked, and that it is morally responsible for every life lost in battle, every wound suffered in action, and every property loss imposed through its efforts to put down insurrection, and protect the lives and property of foreign residents.

The United States will not do that. The United States will stand by its flag and its soldiers. Our troops were landed and took possession of Manila with the unanimous approval of the American people. They were attacked in murderous spirit while in the peaceful performance of their police duties. There is but one way in which the status quo can be restored, and the question of Filipino government opened anew with the Filipino leaders, namely, by the surrender of Aguinaldo, his lieutenants, and the scattered bands claiming to operate under his commission.

UNITY OF PARTY.

THE CHRONICLE believes that The Oregonian is doing a wonderful work in its championship of fair primaries, and while that paper is confining itself to Portland and Multnomah county, just now, it is a principle that will work well anywhere. Country people and country newspapers, however, are taking a great deal of interest in Mr. Scott's advocacy of representative organization of the Republican party of Multnomah county, because the effect is far-reaching. The party must be harmonious, and we think that The Oregonian is right in motive.

If THE CHRONICLE would make any suggestion, whatever, it would be that all personal fights and "opening up of old sores" should be avoided. Let the best man win the senatorship, by the old rule of party caucus, but do not allow the support of one candidate or the other to be a test of Republicanism.

THE CHRONICLE has a fear that The Oregonian might minimize the results of its good work by pushing to the front at this particular time the candidacy of its favorite, and the opposition of another who happens to be one of the present incumbents.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is gaining a wide reputation. D. B. Johnston of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1862. In speaking of it he says: "I never found anything that would relieve me until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It acts like magic with me. My foot was swollen and paining me very much, but one good application of Pain Balm relieved me. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton."

J. B. Clark, Peoria, Ill., says, "Surgeons wanted to operate on me for piles, but I cured them with DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve." It is infallible for piles and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits.
