LOBSTERS RISE IN PRICE.

Those Who Are Fond of the Crustaceans Will Have to Pay More for Them This Year.

"This year people who are fond of eating lobsters will have to pay dearly for the privilege of indulging their appetites in such sea food, for the reason that the crustaceans are scarcer now than ever before," said a wholesale dealer in fish in New York to the writer a day or two ago. "Live lobsters are at present selling at 20 cents per pound, and as only comparatively small catches are daily reported by the fishermen of Stonington, Block Island, and other well-known lobstering grounds as far east as Portland, Me., the indications are that a further advance of from five to ten cents a pound may soon be looked for.

"Ten years ago almost any quantity of fine lobsters could have been purchased in New York at the rate of five cents a pound. The average size of live lobsters that then came to market was 20 inches long, not counting claws. The largest average now is not more than half that length. There used to be plenty of 14-pound lobsters and I have seen them weighing 18 pounds. A lobster as large that would have to be 20 years old at least. This shellfish grows slowly, and at three years old is not much bigger than a crawfish. A lobster under five years old isn't fit for market, but thousands of such youngsters have to pass muster on our fish stalls nowadays.

"The present dearth of lobsters in New England waters is largely due to the enormous number of undersized ones that have in the past been caught and sold for canning purposes in Maine. Millions of small shellfish that should have been allowed to develop and breed were thus annually exterminated, and the result has been that the supply of eatable lobsters has dwindled from 30,000,000 in 1889 to probably less than 5,000,000 in 1899.

"The regulations concerning the capture of lobsters in New England waters are now as stringent as any game law.

"No lobsters are being canned in Maine for the reason that the short lobster law has killed the business in that state. The canners do not find it profitable to buy lobsters at the present high rate, and they cannot purchase short ones or shellfish weighing less than ten pounds.

"For the last four years energetic efforts have been made by the United States fish commission to restore lobsters to their former abundance by planting millions of lobster fry from Fisher's Island sound east along the coast as far as Maine. Meantime the chief supply of live lobsters comes from the British provinces. The shellfish are shipped here in steamers especially fitted with wells that have a capacity for holding from 15,000 to 20,000 live lobsters. These steamers touch at Boston and New York, and from these two cities the lobsters are shipped by wholesale dealers all over the United States."—Washington Star.

TAKES MORPHINE IN PUBLIC.

How the Deplorable Habit of a Washington Belle Was Accidentally Discovered.

"While I was in Washington last month," said a Chicagoan the other night, "I saw something which fairly gave me cold shivers. We were sitting in the street car, and in the seat just behind me sat one of the handsomest women in all Washington, a tall, well-developed, well-groomed creature of perhaps 30, with dark-rimmed eyes and bronze-tinted hair. I knew her for the widow of a man who was something or other in the state department under the Cleveland administration, I believe. I know she lives in a dainty apartment in the newer part of the northwest quarter. There was a man with her on the car, a mere boy of a fellow, and he gazed at her with admiring eyes. There was a hint of chilliness in his air, and the woman shrugged her handsome shoulders.

"My," said she, "I'm afraid I'm taking cold."

"Can't I get you something before we start?" asked the boy, anxiously.

"Oh, no," she answered, "I'll just take some quinine. I always carry it with me—a habit I learned out in Indiana."

"She took a folded paper from her purse and opened it. She emptied the white powder it contained upon her tongue.

"It's an odd way to take quinine, isn't it?" she said, with a smile. "It's the way they do out in Indiana. I don't mind the taste at all."

"Then the car started, and the empty paper fluttered into my lap. Just a little of the white powder clung to it. Quite without any purpose whatever, I rubbed my finger against the paper and touched my tongue with an infinitesimal quantity of the powder. The woman turned and looked at me just then, and as our eyes met she blushed. It was an odd way, indeed, to take, not quinine, but morphine."—Chicago Chronicle.

Proposals for Refunding Water Bonds, Dalles City Oregon.

Sealed proposals will be received by the board of water commissioners of Dalles City, Oregon, at said city until 8:30 o'clock p. m. of the day of Feb. 1, 1900, for twenty-five thousand dollars; and twenty thousand dollars of refunding water bonds of said city, as it is not settled as to whether the total amount of bonds will be $25,000 or $20,000; authority is extended to the said board to issue refunding water bonds in the sum of $25,000, but if found not to be necessary, the issue will be for no more than $20,000; and at a rate of interest not exceeding four per cent per annum payable twenty years from date of issue, interest payable semi-annually, principal and interest payable in gold coin of the United States, at any city therein, at the option of the buyer.

The bonds mentioned will be issued under the provisions of the several legislative acts of the state of Oregon, approved Feb. 25, 1885, Feb. 19, 1889, and Feb. 14, 1895, and in pursuance of an ordinance adopted by the common council of Dalles City, approved January 23, 1900. The proposed refunding water bonds are intended for the redemption of outstanding water bonds in the sum of $25,000; but in case the board of water commissioners prefer, it will issue refunding bonds for $20,000 only, therefore bidders may make proposals for both $25,000 and $20,000, and in the denomination of $500 each.

No bid will be entertained for a rate less than, par value of the bonds. Premiums and rate of interest will be taken into consideration in passing on the value of all bids.

Bidders must deposit with the president of the board a duly certified check on some responsible bank equal to 2 per cent of the amount of bonds bid for, or accompany his bid with cash of such amount as will equal such per cent of his bid, and such certified check made payable to the president of the board of water commissioners of Dalles City, Or., as liquidated damages in case the bidder shall fail or neglect to receive and pay for, at the office of the city treasurer of said city, the bonds awarded to him on his bid, on or before the first day of March, 1900.

Attention should be given the fact that the board will not issue and dispose of more than $20,000 of such refunding bonds, unless it shall be deemed necessary to do so, but otherwise, if the board shall find that it is necessary to issue bonds in the sum of $25,000, it will then offer and issue the full sum, ($25,000).

The right to reject any and all bids is reserved by the said board of water commissioners.

Bids should be addressed to the president of said board, or to the city recorder, Dalles City, Wasco county, Oregon, and noted "Proposals for refunding water bonds."

By order of the Board of Water Commissioners, and with the consent of the Common Council. This 25th day of January, 1900.

T. J. SEFFERT, President of Board.
NED H. GATES, Recorder of Dalles City.
