ABSURD PROTECTORATE TALK.

Nothing more visionary in government has ever been proposed than that the United States should ignore races in republics to be protected by our army and navy. A republic presupposes capacity for self-rule. It is defined as a "state in which the sovereign power resides in the whole body of the people, and is exercised by representatives elected by them." A government over which another power was supreme in any way, or claimed rights of tutelage, would certainly not be a republic. There are some who insist that we should have authorized Aguinaldo to form a republic, and served as his monitor and guardian during a probationary period. The Tagal revolutionists never showed the slightest inclination to accept a place as pupils of the United States. They could never be persuaded to define their demands, even orally. But if they could have obtained the sovereignty, under American restrictions, temporary supremacy, the ridiculous and dangerous nature of the compact would soon have become apparent to both sides, and to the world.

In the first place, the Tagal idea of government is completely interwoven with church affairs. Church and state have been much the same with them, with the church practically in the ascendant. The Tagals would not and could not set up a government of their own without positive church affiliations and division of public revenue. To what extent does any one expect the United States not only to found "republics" with an established church but to protect them afterward with army and navy? If to avert this difficulty we had dictated absolute religious freedom to the Tagals we should be put in the position of forcing a constitution upon them, of writing their fundamental law as the condition of allowing them to be an alleged republic. We could not have put them in control of the whole archipelago without crushing many other tribes, and for the only reason that the Tagals desired to rule over all and, being armed, were making themselves troublesome. If the United States is to govern the Philippines at all it must be with a free hand and under its own established lines of action. A protectorate experiment would quickly become a nightmare of conflicting authority, a hopeless tangle of half-way sovereignty to be settled at last by the law of force.

Instead of ordaining something labeled a Tagal republic, with a constitution shaped by ourselves, which the revolted tribe would have rejected in any case, the United States has pursued a straight road, a policy clearly defined and perfectly intelligible to every other nation. The sovereignty of the Philippines is ours with all responsibilities acknowledged. Our army and navy are protecting the islands, but not on lines laid down by semi-savages or insurrectionary juntas. Our decrees are decisive, and not by indirection. Our generals can act without consulting with a Filipino cabinet. Many who began by calling the policy adopted imperialistic are working over to a sort of middle ground. Democratic leaders can be named who want to keep enough of the Philippines to insure our commercial supremacy. Even Mr. Bryan is reported to be making concessions to expansion sentiment in the South. He is said to be willing now "to have a naval base and commercial privileges and to exercise protectorate functions as regards other nations," and to confer "local sovereignty." The Republican party is not paltering in this fashion. It stands unflinchingly by the full sovereignty. Between this and abandonment there is nothing but confusion and disaster; and abandonment would be lasting disgrace.—Globe-Democrat.

WINTER TRIPS.

For winter residence or winter outing ideal conditions will be found on every hand in California. Prolonged early rainfall has this season given to the semi-tropical vegetation wonderful impetus; the floral offerings are more than usually generous and the crop of southern fruits bountiful and excellent.

Old ocean possesses new charms at Santa Barbara, Santa Monica, Long Beach, Coronado and the enchanted isle of the sea, Catalina—where fishing, boating, rambling, riding, hunting and loading may be enjoyed as nowhere else. Quiet little spots, snug and warm, offer themselves at Montecito, Nordhoff, Pasadena, Echo Mountain, San Jacinto, Fall Brook and Palm Springs.

For renewing health and vigor, here abound many hot springs, of widely varying constituents and demonstrated merits; the dry, antiseptic, tonic air of the desert may be enjoyed at Banning, Indio, Yuma; and, even farther on, at Phoenix, Tucson, El Paso, exists conditions equally well indicated for weak throats and lungs.

Many think nothing in nature more attractive than the shimmering olive orchards of Santa Barbara and San Diego; others prefer the stately walnuts of Ventura and Los Nietos, or the lemons of Fernando; but for glorious fruit and graceful tree commend us to the golden orange, first, last and always, and it exists in greatest perfection at Covina, Riverside, Redlands and Highlands. Equally interesting is the scientific and tempting fashion in which the sorting and packing of the orange is here accomplished.

The faithful were exhorted to see Mecca and shuffle off; but wiser generations will see California of the south and prolong life.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised me electric Bitters, and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed, at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. Druggists sell the 50c. size; Trial size by mail, 10 cents. Test it and you are sure to continue the treatment.

Announcement.
To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

Clarke & Falk have received a carload of the celebrated James E. Patton tritely pure liquid paints.

GUARDIAN'S NOTICE.

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF THE STATE of Oregon, for Wasco county.

In the matter of the guardianship of George Klmit, Frank Klmit, Annie Jordan, Katie Jordan and Mary Jordan, minors.

Now on this 24th day of December, 1899, came William Jordan, the duly appointed, qualified and acting guardian of the above named minors, and presented his petition praying for an order authorizing and directing him to sell the interest of said minors in certain real property herein after described, and it appearing and being beneficial to said wards that their interest in the south half of the southeast quarter of section 15, township 2 north, range 15 east, W. M., be sold; therefore it is ordered that Theresa Klmit, the mother and next of kin of George Klmit and Frank Klmit, and said William Jordan, father and next of kin of Annie, Katie and Mary Jordan, and all persons interested in said estate, appear before this court at the court room thereof in Dalles City, Oregon, on the 6th day of January, 1900, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., then and there to show cause why a license should not be granted for the sale of such estate, and that this order be published at least three successive weeks in The Dalles Chronicle, a weekly newspaper printed in said county.

Dated this 24th day of December, 1899.

ROBERT MAYS, County Judge.
