EXPORTS OF MANUFACTURES.

The constant increase in the exportation of American manufactures is one of the marked features of our foreign trade. In December, 1897, the country sold $23,000,000 of manufactured articles abroad. The sales in December, 1798, were $28,000,000, while those in the same month in 1899 were $36,000,000. There was a decline in the amount of agricultural exports in the last month of 1899, as compared with the same time in 1898, but the shipments of manufactures is steadily on the increase.

Though this aspect of the case is usually lost sight of, the great and constant gains in the sales of American manufactured goods in the rest of the world is a magnificent tribute to the foresight and courage of the Republican party. By its judicious tariff policy the Republican party saved a large part of the American market to the American producer, and this course caused a home competition which encouraged the invention which has devised labor-saving appliances, while it has at the same time advanced the pay and shortened the working hours of the workers, giving them both the time and the stimulus to the mental improvement, which has made the American worker more intelligent than any other in the world.

Here are the secrets of the increase in the sales of American manufactures in Europe and Asia. Americans have better machinery and more skillful labor than are found in other countries. England, in seeking a superior grade of iron and steel bridges and the workers who can put them up in the quickest and the best fashion, comes to the United States for them. France, Russia and other European countries buy most of their new locomotives of the higher grades in the United States. Thus this country is growing, in a continually increasing degree, to be a workshop for the world. As a consequence, the number of idle workers in the United States at the present time is smaller than it ever was before. The country has attained a higher degree of prosperity than ever was known in the past. Here are triumphs for Republican policy which will gain hundreds of thousands of votes for the party in the election of 1900.—Globe-Democrat.

No British publisher has yet thought to announce "Mistakes of Our Generals," in six large volumes.

The Westminster Gazette declares that the British need 100,000 more men. A search for one Wellington might be more to the purpose.

WINTER TRIPS.

For winter residence or winter outing ideal conditions will be found on every hand in California. Prolific early rainfall has this season given to the semi-tropical vegetation wonderful impetus; the floral offerings are more than usually generous and the crop of southern fruits bountiful and excellent. Old ocean possesses new charms at Santa Barbara, Santa Monica, Long Beach, Coronado and the enchanted isle of the sea, Catalina—where fishing, boating, rambling, riding, hunting and loading may be enjoyed as nowhere else. Quiet little spots, snug and warm, offer themselves at Montecito, Nordhoff, Pasadena, Echo Mountain, San Jacinto, Fall Brook and Palm Springs.

For renewing health and vigor, here abound many hot springs, of widely varying constituents and demonstrated merits; the dry, antiseptic, tonic air of the desert may be enjoyed at Banning, Indio, Yuma; and, even farther on, at Phoenix, Tucson, El Paso, exists conditions equally well indicated for weak throats and lungs.

Many think nothing in nature more attractive than the shimmering olive orchards of Santa Barbara and San Diego; others prefer the stately walnuts of Ventura and Los Nietos, or the lemons of Fernando; but for glorious fruit and graceful tree commend us to the golden orange, first, last and always, and it exists in greatest perfection at Covina, Riverside, Redlands and Highlands. Equally interesting is the scientific and tempting fashion in which the sorting and packing of the orange is here accomplished.

The faithful were exhorted to see Mecca and shuffle off; but wiser generations will see California of the south and prolong life.

My foot was swollen and paining me very much, but one good application of Pain Balm relieved me. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.
