Gent's Furnishing Goods Department.

If you want the best you have no other choice, we don't make it so, but people who like up-to-date wearables, just prices and fair treatment do. Not a hundred years, not fifty, nor even one has elapsed since the clothes we are showing were made. They were made this season and in this season's style. This not only applies to our Men's Department but to the Children's as well, and there's a style about them that's exclusive. Isn't it worth something to know that you are in style, especially when it costs you no more?

Our advertisements are our letters to you, written, signed and backed up by a house that has always been jealous of its reputation and business integrity.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

The boat is reported as late tonight, and will not arrive till about 10 o'clock.

Meeting of the Columbia hose company tonight at 7:30 at the city hall. The attention of the members is called to the change in the hour of meeting.

You are the loser if you do not avail yourself of the opportunity A. M. Williams & Co are offering in ladies' cloaks and suits. Forty per cent is a big discount.

There will be services tonight in the Methodist church, to which all are invited, particularly the membership. It is quite likely Rev. G. W. Grannis will be present and address the audience.

A splendid program is being prepared by the League for their social tomorrow night. No one should miss hearing their novel orchestra if they are compelled to leave before the general good time social takes place.

Sloan P. Shutt seems to have a mania for starting newspapers, and his next venture will be in Granite, where he is to establish the Granite News. His outfit is now on the way there and workmen are putting up an office building at that place.

Sophia Stuckup will read a paper on woman's rights at the Single Blessedness society Monday night, and Mary Ann Kogles will favor the society with a solo "No One to Love," which is extremely impressive, particularly to those in the convention assembled.

This time the motto is wrong. Everything don't come to the man who waits, that is if he waits too long in taking advantage of that shirt sale at Williams & Co's. Manhattan's at a dollar, are proving a great drawing card for this firm. But that price won't last.

Elder W. B. Clifton, of the Calvary Baptist church, will preach at the Salvation Army barracks tonight. Subject: "What is to Believe in Christ." Services will commence at 8 p. m. Song and testimony service will be held a few minutes before the sermon. Please bring Gospel Hymns 1, 2, 3 and 4.

The first death from smallpox in Moro occurred this morning when T. M. Anderson, a man well known at that place, died from the disease. Although his wife said to be the worst case they have had in Moro, it was not thought it would prove fatal. Mr. Anderson is a man of about 45 years and a member of the Woodmen and also Cedar Circle.

Up to about a year ago he was engaged in farming, and since that time was employed in the Columbia Southern survey.

The double quartet choir of the Congregational church, assisted by ten additional voices, will give a concert in the near future at the church. The object is to so increase the organ fund as to enable them to place a first-class organ in the church. Work of rehearsing has already begun and future notice will be given later.

At the biennial meeting of the Oregon Republican Editorial Association, held in Portland, the following officers were elected for the ensuing two years: President, D. M. C. Gault, Hillsboro; secretary, Wm J. Clark, Gorvau; treasurer, S. S. Train, Albany; executive committee, J. B. Eddy, Forest Grove; J. R. Whitney, Albany; C. L. Ireland, Moro.

Advance Agent Keene's presence today has awakened a renewed interest in the presentation of the "Little Minister" next Thursday night by the Frohman company, and seats are beginning to go already. Call at Clarke & Falk's and get yours, for if we are fooled as to the merit of this company then are all the newspapers where they have appeared responsible, and their notices are decidedly misleading.

Our roads and those throughout the country south of us are becoming famous, but it is a fame which is not enviable. E. P. Marshall, one of Unatilla's leading stockmen, who has just returned to Pendleton from here, tells the East Oregonian that he found some of the worst roads over which he ever traveled a vehicle. Mud was so deep that in many places it has been necessary to tear down fences and travel in the fields.

160 acres deeded farming land, situated in Sherman county; a fine farm, 100 acres deeded farming land, situated fourteen miles from The Dalles; a good place for someone. 20 acres fine timber land, situated on base line road, about twenty miles from Portland; fine location. Any or all of this property will be sold or traded for property in The Dalles. Anyone wishing to buy or trade city property for a good place do not fail to see Dad Butte, and he will tell you all about it. (8-2)

Many of our people seem at a loss to understand what is the true nature of the organization known as the "Young Ladies Single Blessedness Debating Society," or as some choose to term it "The Old Maids' Convention." Its workings are of a strictly secret nature; but as a public meeting is to be held at the Baldwin Monday night, and all are invited to attend, the public need not be ignorant of its workings. An admission of 25 cents will be charged to defray the expenses of the delegates who come from abroad.

Yesterday morning two Dalles young people left the city for Portland giving no intimation of the important nature of their visit, but later in the day someone it crept out that word had been sent back for a marriage license, and today news reached here that Fred Burchdorf and Leona Gosser were married at the metropolis this morning. Nothing further concerning the ceremony was given. Both the bride and groom are well thought of in The Dalles, as such worthy young people would be esteemed wherever their lot is cast; but at the same time they will have to answer to their friends for going back on The Dalles when it comes to such an important transaction.

Allen Edwards has been arrested in The Dalles for forgery. It is believed by the officers in this city that this is the same individual who operated with success in Walla Walla about two weeks ago. The forger succeeded in cheating business men out of $44 by giving them bogus checks. The signature which appeared on the checks was George E. Allen. There is good reason to believe that the Dalles forger and Allen are one and the same man.—Union. Marshal Hughes received word from the officers at Walla Walla regarding Edwards, but after investigation does not believe he is the same man.

The efforts of Gov. T. T. Geer, regarding the internment of deceased Oregon volunteers on Oregon soil, which has been resisted by the war department at Washington, is at last bearing fruit. Tuesday the governor received a telegram from the war department announcing that a change had taken place in the plans of the secretary, and that the authorities had decided to deliver the dead of the Oregon regiment to the state's officers for interment. The military authorities have purchased a most beautiful plot of ground in Riverview cemetery, at Portland, one of the most slightly cemeteries in the state, wherein to lay to rest the brave dead of the Oregon regiment. This plot of ground is ample to bury all of the deceased members of the regiment, and the authorities propose to make the spot as beautiful as possible. When the bodies arrive it is proposed to hold fitting services in their honor, and to inter them all at the same time.

Every city is justifiable in guarding jealously its interests; but when in so doing the welfare of neighboring cities is criminally jeopardized, then should some means be used to thwart such proceedings. Such a course, it seems, is being pursued by some of our Eastern Oregon towns regarding the presence of smallpox in their midst. While traveling men and others coming from Baker City have reported an epidemic of that disease there, the newspapers have steadfastly refused to acknowledge the fact, and it is said have thus caused it to spread to their neighboring town. A Portland man who came down to Pendleton from that place the first of the week says he ascertained by personal investigation that the town is full of it, and three patients have recently died, proving there are at least some genuine cases. Be the disease what it may, it is certainly loathsome enough to cause the greatest caution to be used, and its presence in any town should not be disguised.

As was feared, smallpox has developed in the Mullikin family, who were exposed by visitors from Moro, Mrs. Mullikin and her little daughter having broken out with the disease this morning. When the Poole family left here two weeks ago the Mullikins were quarantined and the children taken out of the school. It will be remembered at that time that the wife raised some objection, deeming it unnecessary, but, so far as we can learn, the quarantine has been enforced, which now proves to have been the proper course, and has no doubt prevented the entire city from being exposed. Another thing in favor of the city is the fact that the family lives so far out of town, or rather the thickly settled portion, residing this side of Thompson's addition. The strictest quarantine is being enforced and it is not thought there is immediate danger of contagion. It is well, however, for all to be guarded in view of the experience of other towns.

BENSON A BIGAMIST.

A Former Dalles Barber Marries An Albany Girl Before He is Divorced From No. 1.

Charles Benson, who was employed in Parkins' barber shop for a few months last fall, has gotten into serious difficulty in Albany. Although at first he seemed to be a worthy fellow, Mr. Parkins soon discovered he did not meet his financial obligations, and at the time of the fiscal encounter, which took place down the river, he took such a decided interest in the disgraceful affair that his employer, deciding he had no further use for him, gave him his walking papers. He then left town, leaving bills to the amount of about $110.

While here Benson employed a lawyer and commenced divorce proceedings against his wife, but suspecting him, the lawyer dropped the matter, and has since learned that he cheated Salem lawyers in the same kind of a deal, and proved himself an all-around bilk.

It is said that the Miss Watts, whom he married in Albany last Saturday, visited him in this city last fall.

The Albany Herald has the following concerning his escapade there:

"Charles G. L. Benson, the Broadalbin-street barber, left town Friday night and has not been heard from since. Benson came to town several months ago and purchased the barber shop back of Young's store. He represented that he had been married, but was divorced. Shortly after coming to town he commenced to keep company with Miss Erma Watts, and last Saturday night they were married. Friday morning a woman came to town who claims she is Benson's legal wife, and had never secured a divorce. Benson hired a buggy at the livery stable, and, as near as can be learned, drove to Shedd Friday night and stopped at that town until Saturday morning, when he left for Independence, probably crossing the river at Peoria. He was accompanied by Mrs. Watts and Mrs. Benson No. 2, but the former returned yesterday morning and her daughter came back with the buggy late in the afternoon. Benson evidently headed for Portland, and as he has about $300, borrowed from his new mother-in-law, he will be able to keep moving, as there seems to be no one particularly anxious to head him off."

Hook and Ladder Officers.

The Dalles Hook and Ladder Company No. 5 held their annual election last evening, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, E. H. Merrill; treasurer, J. S. Shenck; secretary, H. C. Liebe; foreman, H. Taylor; first assistant, L. W. Heppner; second assistant, T. Parkins; board of delegates—J. A. McArthur, E. M. Wingate and H. C. Liebe. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. J. A. McArthur, in behalf of the company, for his efficient services during the past year, which were instrumental in procuring the new apparatus.
