PEACE-MAKERS OF KALAMAZOO

From Michigan comes the grave announcement that leaders of the pro-Boer movement are arranging a conference in Detroit, with a view to preparing the way for mediation and arbitration. The sources and the spirit make the movement absurd. It is as though a number of rabid Spanish sympathizers in France should have started an intervention movement during our war with Spain. Our reply would have been that we were not ready for intervention; when we were ready we would invite it; and mediation from that source was not desired anyway.

Blessed is the peacemaker, provided he knoweth when to dip in his oar. This is not an opportune moment for meddling peace-making. From the Transvaal came the declaration of war, and presumably the Boer government made it advisedly. At all events, when it wants mediation it will invite it.

Upon the other hand, the British are determined, looking at the contest from their point of view, that the war shall continue until the bravery of their soldiers and the sagacity of their generals have been vindicated, and they shall have tangible results for their losses of men and treasure. There is scarcely a doubt that the following utterance, made recently in parliament by Mr. Balfour on behalf of the government, voices the convictions of an overwhelming majority of Englishmen:

"Being absolutely determined that this war shall be driven to a successful issue, and by a successful issue is not meant any suzerainty, any shadowy supremacy in South Africa, but the real, substantial supremacy of Great Britain over all these regions. And as we shall never advise peace until the war has brought forth its legitimate fruits, so we believe that, in spite of any ambiguity of utterance from any quarter of the other side of the house, the country will insist that the ministers who serve it, be they drawn from one side of the house or from the other, will see not only that the military honor of this country is amply vindicated, but that we leave in South Africa no root from which again may spring forth any of the bitter and poisonous fruits from which for so many years we have been suffering."

The United States government will not intervene until it has been asked, and the asking must come from Pretoria or London, not Detroit or Kalamazoo.—Spokesman-Review.

Col. F. J. Parker's Walla Walla Statesman, which has been a staunch Democratic paper for perhaps a quarter of a century, says: "It is not only the right, but it is the duty of the government of the United States to hold every inch of the Philippines until time shall be no more, and to give to their inhabitants the blessings and freedom of American laws and institutions. No believing, the Statesman does not for an instant give its adhesion to those Democrats who would have the grand old party go back on the doctrine of expansion, promulgated by Jefferson and carried out by him, despite his belief that there was no direct warrant in the constitution for the purchase of Louisiana, and the government of its inhabitants without first obtaining their consent." A large number of Democrats in this country feel just this way.

WINTER TRIPS.

For winter residents or winter outing ideal conditions will be found on every hand in California. Pioneers early rainfall has this season given to the semi-tropical vegetation wonderful impetus; the floral offerings are more than usually generous and the crop of southern fruits beautiful and excellent.

Old ocean possesses new charms at Santa Barbara, Santa Monica, Long Beach, Coronado and the enchanted isle of the sea, Catalina—where fishing, boating, rambling, riding, hunting and loafing may be enjoyed as nowhere else. Quiet little spots, snug and warm, offer themselves at Montecito, Nordhoff, Pasadena, Echo Mountain, San Jacinto, Fall Brook and Palm Springs.

For renewing health and vigor, here abound many hot springs, of widely varying constituents and demonstrated merits; the dry, antiseptic, tonic air of the desert may be enjoyed at Banning, Inyo, Yuuma, and even farther on, at Phoenix, Tucson, El Paso, exists conditions equally well indicated for weak throats and lungs.

Many think nothing in nature more attractive than the shimmering olive orchards of Santa Barbara and San Diego; others prefer the stately walnuts of Ventura and Los Nietos, or the lemon of Fernando; but for glorious fruit and graceful tree commend us to the golden orange, first, last and always, and it exists in greatest perfection at Covina, Riverside, Redlands and Highlands. Equally interesting is the scientific and tempting fashion in which the sorting and packing of the orange is here accomplished.

The faithful were exhorted to see Mecca and shuffle off; but wiser generations will see California of the south and prolong life.
