WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

March weather so far has been all that could be desired.

Jaquin Miller, the poet of the Sierras, lecturing in valley towns.

The sidewalks are quite dry but the streets are very muddy again.

No dairyman has yet succeeded in sterilizing the milk of human kind.

The council will hold an adjourned regular meeting tonight in the recorder's office.

On account of the smallpox scare Judge Bradshaw has decided not to hold court in Sherman county until April 21.

The regular annual meeting of the board of school directors was held this afternoon in the Court street school house.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Christian church cordially invite all to the geographical social Tuesday, March 6th. Admission, ladies, 10 cents; gentlemen, 25 cents.

The raffle for the handsome range in Maier & Benton's window will take place at 8 o'clock this evening. Those having chances are requested to be present.

The majority of our stores have been closing at 6 o'clock for the past two months. The agreement having expired they will remain open during the evening for the balance of the year.

The first number of the Granite Gem reached us this morning and we can say it is a neat, new and well gotten up, seven folio sheet. Granite may well be proud of her first newspaper.

Granite will soon be an incorporated municipality. A petition, having the necessary number of signatures, will be presented to the court this month.

A man, wife and five children reached Albany Saturday in a schooner, from Nebraska, in destitute circumstances, out of money and no work to do. One man gave them a sack of flour to help them for a while.

Superintendent Jackson, of the Goldconda mine at Sumpter, returned Saturday from a trip to Baker with the monthly clean up from the plates. It is not known the exact amount produced for the month, but it is learned from reliable sources that it will approximate $10,000.

Mr. Paul Mohr, who is at the head of the Columbia River Portage & Navigation Company, says the Astorian, returned to Portland last evening on the night train, after having spent the day in consultation with members of the chamber of commerce and other representatives of the business interests of Astoria.

Articles of incorporation of The Dalles Scouring Mill Company were filed Saturday in the county clerk's office in Portland. The incorporators are Grace E. Russell, J. M. Russell and N. W. Rountrree; capital stock, $25,000. The object of the corporation is to operate a wool-scouring mill and plant. The principal office of the company will be located at The Dalles.

A meeting of the republican county central committee was held in the city hall Saturday, Henry L. Kuck, chairman of the committee, presiding. It was decided that the primaries be held on March 17th, while the convention will be on the 23d. One delegate will be elected for each twenty votes or fraction over ten cast for Congressman Moody. This will make about 100 delegates to the convention.

Frank M. Warren, of Warrenton, spent about a month in Spokane recently, and while there investigated the status of the Paul Mohr project. He says there is plenty of money behind it, and that all bills are settled promptly in cash. No bonds have been floated, and the stock is largely owned by Senator Turner, Mr. Payton and W. S. Harris, the president. The latter, in conversation, assured Mr. Warren that there was no doubt of the success of the road, and in Spokane confidence was generally felt.

Photographs of the most interesting and picturesque spots in America have been made for The Ladies' Home Journal, and they will be reproduced in that magazine on the finest coated paper. This series of pictures—"Picturesque America," as it is to be called—will show the great beauties of landscape and waterscape of this country in a way in which they have never been seen before. Many of the pictures are of places that have escaped the eye of the tourist following the beaten paths of travel. They were collected by one who has crossed the continent more than a hundred times, who has viewed the scenery with appreciative eyes, and who is, perhaps, the best qualified man in the country to describe them.

Thirty-three members of Friendship lodge No. 9, K. of P. and thirteen members of the Hood River lodge attended a meeting of the lodge at Cascade Locks in a body Saturday night. The Regulator had been chartered and left here shortly before 6, and arrived at the locks at 8:30. The visitors were immediately ushered to the hall, where plenty of work was at hand. Two candidates were given the second rank, while three were made familiar with the third rank. At midnight the most sumptuous spread was given the visitors after which lodge was again called to order and the work continued until half past five in the morning. The Knights, rather tired then proceeded to the Regulator and were soon on their way home arriving here at 9:20 yesterday morning. All the visitors highly praise the members of the Cascade lodge and state they were treated royally and had a most enjoyable time.

Robert Gardner, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, had his examination before Recorder Gates Saturday afternoon and was bound over in the sum of $200 to appear before the grand jury. Not being able to furnish the bonds, he was remanded to the county jail. Gardner has been working on the railroad across the river, and came over to have a little time. He seemed to think that the portage was in operation, and he had the job to unload schooners which he proceeded to do without any hesitancy. He wandered into the Midway saloon, when he came to the conclusion that he was the proper person to run the place. It is said he made an attempt to stab the barkeeper several times but failed. An officer was called and took the man away. He claims he knows nothing of the affair whatever, but before the grand jury meets he will have plenty of time to refresh his memory.

EXTENSION OF C. S. RY.

Shaniko to Be the Terminus—Many Improvements Along the Line.

Sherman county is booming in consequence of the extension of the Columbia Southern Railroad south from Moro, according to Archie Mason, the contractor in charge of that work, who is visiting his family in Portland says the Oregonian. The track is now laid 22 miles south of Moro, and the roadbed finished for 10 miles further. There are over 400 men—whites and Japs—at work, and Mr. Mason expects to see the rails laid to Shaniko, the terminus, by April 15.

New settlers are building cabins on the prairies in all directions, he says, and all the agricultural land in Sherman county is likely to be taken up under the homestead act, this spring. Many of these newcomers are plowing and sowing, and the acreage set to grain will be the largest in the history of the county.

Building has begun in the new metropolis of Shaniko. A hotel, saloon and several business houses are in progress of erection, while stockyards and grain warehouses are being built at points along the new line. It is expected that 30,000 sheep will be shorn and dipped in Shaniko this season, the wool being shipped away by rail. A number of business men of Moro and The Dalles, are preparing to establish branch houses in Shaniko.

Bourbon, a new town, has been started on the line eight miles south of Grass Valley, and this is going to be quite an important point, as a large grain-growing and stockraising country will be tributary. The town of Kent, five miles southeast of Bourbon, will be moved to the line, and a sidetrack will be constructed at Wilcox, eight miles south of Kent. A depot and water tank are to be constructed at Grass Valley, where two big warehouses are already nearly completed. The telegraph line will be extended from Wasco to Shaniko right away.

"Wheat looks splendid," says Mr. Mason, "and all signs point to an immense crop as well as a large acreage. If grain is only a fair price next fall, Sherman county farmers will have twentys to throw at the birds."

Paul Mohr Visits Astoria.

We take the following from the Astoria Daily news:

"The visit of Mr. Paul Mohr here yesterday was on the invitation of Dr. Aug. C. Kinney and the object was to point out a proper place for a wheat warehouse. It is understood that Dr. Kinney and Mr. Samuel D. Adair each have suitable water front on the south side of Young's bay which they are willing to donate for the purpose. Mr. D. K. Warren also stands ready to give ample warehouse room on the Skipanon at Warrenton. Mr. Mohr says the grading of the portage railroad is now practically finished and that in ten days it will be turned over to the owners by the contractors. This is a month in advance of the contract time, and Mr. Mohr says the portage system will be in operation by June 1st or 15th from present indications. He also says the company has contracts with wheat growers for freight sufficient to insure the enterprise paying. He also gives out the information that the farmers of the Grand Ronde valley and around Baker City have 30 miles graded on a railroad from that country to tap the Columbia and connect with his portage system. This they offer to the Spokane company free and offer to grade all the balance of the line, except the rock work, free if the Spokane people will take the road and finish and operate it in connection with the Mohr road. Mr. Mohr returned to The Dalles last night, but expects to be back in Astoria within a week."
