WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Concert by home talent next Wednesday evening at Congregational church.

Mr. Hugh Gourlay will take editorial charge of THE CHRONICLE next Monday morning.

The less people know about each other the more polite they are when they happen to meet.

The Elks will hold an interesting session to night and all members are notified to be present.

Theo. H. Liebe, scientific optician, is located in the building next door to the First National Bank. Eyes examined free of charge. 3-8-31

Several business changes are in contemplation, some of which are already in progress. The parties interested do not wish names made public as yet.

No hose supporters needed with the "Fay Stockings," and they are absolutely the best wearing stockings made. Try 'em. New York Cash Store.

John Boyle was arrested last night for being drunk and disorderly. This morning he was brought before the recorder and on promise of reformation he was discharged.

Albert Tuzier, who is with the Oregon delegation of editors, telegraphs from Beaumont, Tex., that Eastern editors are loud in their praises of the attentions they received last year on the coast.

Frank G. Jewett received a notice a few days since that he had been appointed postmaster of Sumpter. His commissioner has not yet arrived; as soon as it does he will take charge of the office.

The dance last evening was well attended, despite the fact that Lent is now dictating that society shall have a rest. The music, as always, was excellent and the dancers all seemed to enjoy the evening to its fullest extent.

County court will probably close its session today. There has been nothing of extra importance come before the judge and commissioners this term, and as soon as the routine business is disposed of court will adjourn.

At the dance last night some one exchanged hats with Fred Weigle. The missing one is a Miller derby and has the initial W in it. It is requested that the person who took it by mistake will please return it to the owner.

T. E. Wilcox, head manager of the Soring mills of the Upper Pacific Coast, was in Salem Thursday accompanied by a practical millwright, looking over the field there with a view of replacing the mills that were burned early last fall.

It's shoes this time: All our spring styles are here. Many were waiting and have supplied themselves with a pair. Remember our prices are the same as last year—no advance—this is why the people buy so readily. New York Cash Store.

Time—8:15 on next Wednesday evening. Place—Congregational church of this city. Occasion—Concert by a chorus of eighteen voices selected from the congregation. Proceeds—To be applied on the purchase of a church organ. Don't fail to attend.

Few fruitgrowers express any fear of the result of Oregon's present winter, as they do not anticipate there will be any frost from now on that will prove disastrous. Trees generally are reported to be in healthy condition and orchardists are giving considerable attention to spraying.

It is announced that three battalions of soldiers will be brought home from the Philippines in May, and others will follow after about two years of service, though there is no prospect that the occasion for a large army there will disappear for many months, if for several years to come.

The Board of Health, at San Francisco, has decided that the Chinaman who died there several days ago, who was supposed to have had symptoms of the bubonic plague, did not die of that disease. The quarantine in Chinatown will be lifted this afternoon.

Mrs. Huntington, as queen, and Mr. Poling, as the aged Mordecai, supported by the chorus will render selections from the cantata "Esther," at the concert next Wednesday evening. "Esther" though old, is ever new and fresh to all genuine music lovers.

All who attend the concert next Wednesday evening will not only enjoy a musical program of superior merit, but will in addition enjoy the satisfaction of lending aid to a worthy object, as the proceeds are to be applied on the purchase of a good church organ.

The sun is drying up the mud to a remarkable degree the last few days, and soon the city streets will be in a passable condition. Any change will be for the better, as our boulevards now look like they belong to a frontier village where ambition and energy are woefully lacking.

Edward Neve, a patrolman on the line between Auburn and Tacoma, was killed near Auburn Thursday night by coming in contact with a live wire. Eight thousand volts of electricity passed through his body. It was evident that he had fallen from the top of a pole, where he was working.

Notwithstanding the vigilance of the quarantine officers, the fact has leaked out that one case of bubonic plague made its appearance at Diamond Point quarantine station, the victim being a member of the crew of the Japanese steamship Nanyo Maru. The case developed five weeks ago, and since that time the vessel and crew have been held at the station and the strictest watch kept on both.

A bill has been introduced in the New York legislature requiring, first, all manufacturers of fruit, vegetable, fish or liquid cans to imprint upon said cans the year in which they were manufactured; second, imposing a tax of 1 1/2 cents on the manufacturers for every such can manufactured; and third, imposing a tax of 10 cents per can on all canned products in cans not showing the year of manufacture.

Some weeks ago a subscription was taken up among the different citizens of the town who keep roadsters, to improve the road between the city and Chenoweth creek. A great deal of work has been done, and the improvement is so noticeable that many favorable comments have been made. Those who have not been over the road lately, should take a spin over it and note the improvements, and the amount of work that has been done. The lower road is completed while the upper one is being placed in repair as rapidly as possible. Those who have had the work in charge are deserving of much praise.

Active work was commenced yesterday morning on the site of the new wool scouring mill, which is to be located on the Shearer property, immediately north of the First National bank building. The property is very suitable for a plant of this nature, being accessible to the railroad and within two blocks of the D. P. & A. N. Co.'s warehouse and dock. The property having been purchased at a very low figure, a better security is afforded the stockholders. The citizens in general are quite enthusiastic over the new acquisition as many advance the hope that it is the fore runner of a soap factory and eventually a woolen mill.

The Cured Fruit Association of the Pacific Northwest came into legal existence yesterday. It was fully incorporated, electors chosen, stocks subscribed and plans for work formulated. Its final success now depends entirely upon support given by the many small growers. Many large prune orchardists are represented in the organization, and are almost a unit for co-operation. While the Cured Fruit Association of the Pacific Northwest is organized, absolutely and completely, its present existence is in a measure an experiment. The electors and officers now chosen are not expected to perform the vast work of marketing the crop, should the association be in shape for the coming season. They are instructed to organize the campaign to get the growers into line, and when all the districts are fully represented and time has been spent in deliberating over the capacity of officers, the executive force of the association, who are to handle its business affairs, will be named. Fourteen of the 15 directors have been named, and these directors have all power in their keeping; but when the annual meeting in June is called, it is the purpose to name a new set of officers throughout, that the fullest opportunity may be given all growers to have a voice.

TO BRIDGE THE COLUMBIA.

A Proposition Will Be Presented—The Dalles a Possible Terminus for the Portage Road.

The Dalles has a reputation of being a very liberal city and it has proved itself entitled to be so reputed. The prompt manner in which our citizens responded to the proposed scouring mill, which is now an assured fact, has been the source of much satisfaction to the well wishers of the town. This does not seem to be an opportune time for calling upon our citizens for more money and there is no disposition for such a movement, but the fact remains that opportunities are presenting themselves which, if taken up, will mean much for the future prosperity of our beloved city.

The building of a bridge across the Columbia, which would enable the Paul Mohr railroad to make its terminus here, would in the next twenty years many times repay the cost through the increased trade brought to The Dalles.

We are informed that Mr. Mohr will submit a proposition to our citizens within a few days as to their share in the proposed building of the bridge, and when the proposal is made it would be a piece of wisdom upon the part of the people of this city, to give it earnest consideration, and if possible see that the territory north of the Columbia, be brought in closer relations with this town through means of a bridge.

The Dalles can be a great gainer from the Paul Mohr road if it will only do its part; and our people have never failed when put to the test.

School Election.

School election in this district will be held Monday at the recorder's office. One director and a school clerk will be elected. The following, which was enacted by the legislature, will explain who are entitled to vote:

"In all school districts in this state now created or that shall hereafter be created, any citizen of this state, male or female, married or unmarried, shall be entitled to vote at any school election or school meeting, who is twenty-one years of age, and has resided in the district thirty (30) days immediately preceding the meeting or election, and who has property in the district of the value of at least $100, as shown by the last preceding county assessment, upon which he or she is required to pay a tax; provided, that in districts of less than one thousand inhabitants women who are widows and male citizens over twenty-one (21) years of age who have children in the district of school age, and who shall have resided in the district thirty (30) days, as aforesaid, shall be entitled to vote at any school meeting for the election of school directors or school clerk."

To the Taxpayers.

As school election is in the near future when a director is to be elected, we wish to present the name of Alexander Thompson as a suitable candidate for the position. He is a safe, careful business man, with a young family to educate; he is a man of considerable culture and takes much interest in the public schools and has the confidence of many good people. His election would please many patrons of the public schools.

Did you ever hear how Mr. — of — street came to buy a wheel for his wife? Well, he came home one evening, and saw her sitting on the hubbards of the porch, as shown in the picture. He made up his mind then and there that she would look just too sweet for anything on a bicycle. And she does. But the kind of bicycle has a good deal to do with looking sweet. So if you want to look sweet, buy your wheel (as did Mr. —) of the agent for
