Special Weather Observer Brooks informs THE CHRONICLE that the mercury went down to 4 below zero at Omaha, Nebraska, yesterday, and stood 6 above zero at Dodge City, Kansas.

Report has it that Corlies Merritt, late of the Hopper Gazette, and C. E. Hicks, an employe of the Pendleton East Oregonian, will establish a weekly newspaper at Shaniko in the near future.

The marshal has received orders to enforce the cow ordinance and city bovines that have been wont to hunt their grub by the light of the March moon, will please take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Rev. U. F. Hawk received a letter today from Mrs. Hawk saying that the physicians attending their little son have concluded to perform a third operation on the poor lad tomorrow.

this time cutting into the pelvis. Mr. Hawk greatly fears the worst as the lad's condition is very low.

C. E. Bayard was down town today for the first time since his recent attack of pneumonia. Mr. Bayard purposes going next week to a sanitarium in Portland where he received considerable benefit on a former visit.

We are credibly informed that a small force of men have been at work all winter on Mr. Lytle's projected railroad connecting Lyle with Goldendale. It is said that Mr. Lytle must have the road graded against fall or forfeit the right of way.

The business men of Arlington have raised a fund to build corrals and sheds for the accommodation of sheepmen at shearing time. They have the assurance that 20,000 head of sheep will be sheared there if proper accommodations are provided.

H. J. Palmer, of Prineville, has accepted a position with the firm of Pease & Mays, of this city. Jud, as he is familiarly known at home, is a steady, industrious and experienced business man who will make his influence felt for good in his prospective field of labor.

A proclamation opening to settlement the northern portion of the Colville Indian reservation in Washington has been prepared, but has not yet received the signatures of the secretary of the interior and the president. The reservation will be opened six months after the proclamation is signed. A large number of mining entries have already been made in the reservation.

Joaquin Millers' lecture last night at the M. E. Church drew a full house. A verdict of the audience on its merits would probably be mixed. Parts of it were beautiful, parts witty, others simply entertaining and still others Milleresque and egotistical to the verge of offensiveness. But Joaquin cannot help this last feature. If he were not egotistical he would not be Joaquin Miller.

In his latest weekly letter Henry Crows says: "The new 2 per cent government bonds should be christened United States consols, especially as they make so favorable a comparison with the English consols, which bear 2 3/4 per cent interest and are selling at 100%, whereas the United States consols are 2 per cent and are now selling at 107 before issued, and are now in considerable demand at that price. There can be no better barometer of the high credit of this nation than this showing. No other nation has ever before been able to float a 2 per cent bond at 100. This is certainly a proud achievement for this country."

An old and respected veteran of the civil war called at this office today and said: "I want you to say to the readers of THE CHRONICLE that we old soldiers some time ago sent to Congressman Moody a number of local pension claims that had been kicked about in congress from year to year for a long time without being acted upon, and some of them, although meritorious, had been rejected, and we have learned with great pleasure and gratitude that Mr. Moody has in a short time, succeeded in obtaining favorable action on most of them. I think this public acknowledgment of our gratitude is due to Mr. Moody."

The fact that Ladysmith received its name in memory of a woman is well known, but the romance of General Sir Harry Smith's marriage has not been so widely published. During the Peninsular war two young British officers in a Spanish town, which had just been captured by an English force, were surprised by a visit from two very young and beautiful Spanish girls of the better class. These fair callers begged protection in the alarming circumstances in which they had been placed by the occupation of the rougher soldiery. Their request was, of course, gallantly granted, and in a short time one of the officers, Captain Smith, found himself desperately in love. In due time he married the woman whom he had protected. The marriage proved a happy one.

Her friends hope that the indisposition is only temporary and that after a little rest she will be able to return and graduate at the end of the term.

Reported Favorably.

A dispatch received today from Congressman Moody announces that his bill for the relief of settlers on the public lands has been approved by the committee having it in charge, so that the prospects of its passage in the house are altogether favorable. The most important feature of the bill is the following provision:

"In all cases where parties, as pre-emptors or homestead claimants, have paid double minimum price for land which afterwards has been found not to be within the limits of a railroad land grant, or which is within the limits of any portion of a grant which has been heretofore, or which shall hereafter be forfeited by reason of any failure upon the part of the grantee to construct that portion of the road in aid of which such grant was made, which is adjacent to and coterminous with such lands, the excess of one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre shall be repaid, but only to the original entryman thereof, or to his heirs or personal representatives."

Did you ever hear of Mr. — of — street came to try a wheel for his wife? Well, he came home one evening, and saw her sitting on the bicycle of the porch. As shown in the picture. He made up his mind then and there that she would look just too sweet for anything on a bicycle. And she does. But the kind of bicycle has a good deal to do with looking sweet. So if you want to look sweet, buy your wheel (as did Mr. —) of the agent for
