A SLAP IN THE FACE.

The Oregonian has done a grave wrong both to the friends of Senator McBride and to those of Mr. Moody. Mr. McBride's friends frankly and quietly conceded a solid Wasco county delegation to Mr. Moody. They manifested no desire whatever, at any time, to thwart the wishes of Mr. Moody's friends. The latter assures The Oregonian that they made it a point to commit no act nor deed that could be justly construed as unfriendly to Mr. McBride. They were in no sense antagonizing the interests of Mr. McBride. Their single purpose was the nomination of Mr. Moody. The primaries passed without opposition. The Oregonian correspondent sent to his paper's plain, truthful, unvarnished statement of the result. The Oregonian edited the dispatch and added the following clause: "The McBride influence failed utterly to materialize." This was not in the original, which we have seen. The result is that the friends of Mr. McBride consider they have been slapped in the face. But the Oregonian did it and is wholly responsible for an act that is regretted here on all hands. The Oregonian has the faculty of raising more hell in a minute than it can drown in a century. Let it fight Mr. McBride if it wants to but let it not compromise others who desire peace.

The editor of a Portland exchange, who has the misfortune to be a Democrat and a widower at the same time, has adopted a very unique method of dunning delinquent subscribers. In last week's paper he published a notice a sober tale of an elderly citizen who developed with another man's wife from whom the people of the town had wanted to lynch. The notice was signed "The Oregonian" and was a masterpiece of dunning.

Startling Claims.
 Eighty-five per cent of all persons deemed incurable or given up to die by physicians can be cured, or their lives wholly prolonged by the beneficent action of the "Perfected" Oxygenator. This startling assertion is susceptible of proof. We have it in the statements from all classes of people who have been "dead and near" who are despatched to the marvelous cure of this wonderful and most perfect breathing instrument.

story, have welcomed them with open arms. It is well. To our judgment as well as in morals is human. With thousands of honest, intelligent men the attainment of sound views on finance has been a development. He only is at fault who clings to error in the teeth of proofs strong as holy well.

This is a "Billion Dollar Country" sure enough. Our foreign commerce is over two billions a year; our money in circulation over two billions and our deposits in savings banks a long way over two billions, while our per capita wealth and per capita money circulation is greater than it ever was in our national history. Is there a Bryanite on the footstool who dares claim one scrap of credit for this stupendous progress? We know not. Bryanism has been a lion in the pathway of national progress, and Republicanism has saved us and it from financial dishonor and national bankruptcy precisely as a Christian convert opposed himself to have been saved when he said: "I fought the Lord all I could and he did the rest."

Before the Astorians have been able to agree upon a plan of campaign against rats, because of their supposed inability to introduce the dreaded bubonic plague, their fellow-townsmen, Dr. August Kinney, seriously urges the common council to suggest some appropriate legislation against fleas. The doctor argues that the orientals give the plague to the rats, the rats give it to the fleas and the fleas give it—or are liable to give it—to the Astorians. A bounty on the rats has been suggested but the doctor evidently thinks the old method of exterminating fleas by a dexterous use of the thumb nail is too antiquated for his aquatic fellow citizens.

Walla Walla is wrestling with the problem of how to dispose of her sewerage. The Dalles is wrestling with the problem how to put in a sewer system without bankrupting the property-holders.

Remarkable Cures of Rheumatism.
 From The Vindicator, Butherfordton, S. C.
 The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts afflicted and realizing instant benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatism in thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and getting up free from pain. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

Dull Headache, Pains in various parts of the body, Sinking at the pit of the stomach, Loss of appetite, Feverishness, Purples or Sores all positive evidences, of impure blood. No matter how it became so it must be purified in order to obtain good health. Acker's Blood Elixir has never failed to cure Scrofulous or Syphilitic poisons or any other blood diseases. It is certainly a wonderful remedy and we sell every bottle on a positive guarantee. Blakeley & Houghton's drug store.
