TUESDAY - - - MARCH 27, 1900

There is not a Democratic paper in the land that does not insist that the sugar trust and the tobacco trust are responsible for the proposed tariff on Puerto Rican products. And not a few Republican papers thoughtlessly, as it seems to us, join in the general cry. Why should the trusts mentioned want a tariff on Puerto Rican sugar and tobacco? When was it ever known that a trust asked to have raw materials tariffed? The thing is absurd. The trusts have always stood for free raw materials. Their interests lie in this direction and in line with the opposition to the Puerto Rican tariff bill. Administration Republicans in both houses of congress have affirmed again and again without contradiction that every pound of sugar and tobacco that awaits shipment from Puerto Rico has passed out of the hands of the producers and is owned by the two trusts mentioned. In the name of common sense what do they want a tariff on these products for? Have these trusts become suddenly transformed? Have they become so patriotic that they have forced the president, against their own interests, to place a tariff on the sugar and tobacco already in their hands, when the president wanted to let these commodities come here free? The opposition of the beet sugar interests and of Connecticut tobacco growers to free trade with the island has the merit of being intelligible; the alleged opposition of the sugar and tobacco trusts has not a single grain of sense or reason to sustain it.

The Oregonian ridicules the contention that the constitution does not "run" in our new possessions. But ridicule is not argument and in this case is unworthy of a paper that makes any pretension to being Republican. The CHRONICLE does not believe in tariff restrictions between this country and its dependencies, but its faith is founded on far other grounds than that the constitution—the whole of it if at all and not merely a part—follows the flag. As a Republican THE CHRONICLE can never forget that this very question was one of the main issues that brought about the civil war and that the first Republican president of the United States was elected on a platform that affirmed the right of congress to legislate for our territories as congress deemed fit, in other words that the constitution does not "run" in any territory till congress takes it there.

If the constitution "runs" in Puerto Rico must not our whole revenue system "run" there too? And if the internal revenue in Puerto Rico be "uniform" with that in the United States—and it must be uniform if the constitution follows the flag—will not the tax be vastly more oppressive than one of 15 per cent of the Dingley tariff on mere exports and imports when every cent of that tax collected here is returned to them without a cent of cost for collection?

The American Agriculturist estimates that the products of the farms of the United States were worth $1,600,000,000 more last year than in any of the last three years of the second Cleveland administration. This is another of the "mere coincidences" that mark the McKinley administration.

With the flowers that bloom in the spring comes the unwelcome but inevitable announcement that Cyclone Davis has emerged from his Texas cellar and come to Oregon to resume his crusade against the money octopus and the crime of '73.

Great Britain pays a subsidy of $194,660 to a line of steamers to carry bananas from Jamaica to British ports. Our American free traders have a habit of overlooking little things like that.

Ordinary Failing Eyesight

Is by some regarded as alarming, by others, treated too carelessly. All eyes begin to fail at 40 years of age; some have trouble a year or two before that time—the majority not until after. From 36 to 45 is the time you should consult a competent optician in order to start right, otherwise several dangers confront you, among which is that terrible disease, glaucoma, which leads to total or partial blindness.

It is estimated that 90 per cent of all cases of glaucoma are due to the "putting off" the use of glasses after failure begins. Scientific examination free by Theodore H. Liebe, optician, next door east of First National Bank on Second street.

An Honest Medicine for La Grippe.

George W. Wait, of Gardner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vendor. Chamberlain's cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one bottle of it and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturer of an honest medicine." For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.
