OUR ASTORIA GUESTS.

Astorians Delighted With Their Visit—Surprised Beyond Measure at the Progress Made on the Portage.

Whatever reflections The Dalles people may cast upon themselves for any real or fancied shortcomings in the matter of the reception accorded the visiting Astorians, it is beyond question that the Astorians themselves were pleased and delighted.

The banquet last night at the Umatilla House may have been lacking in formalities, for the time for preparation was short, but what it lacked in these respects was amply compensated for in the evident enjoyment of the guests. Fred Wilson did himself proud as toastmaster and nearly everybody had something to say contributory to the enjoyment of the guests or apropos to the occasion.

This morning a committee of twelve Astorians, accompanied by Ex Governor Moody and N. Whealdon, crossed the river and drove up to inspect the work in progress on the portage road. On their return the Astorians expressed themselves to THE CHRONICLE as "delighted and surprised beyond measure" at the amount and substantial character of work that has been done or is in progress.

At 1 p. m. the visitors boarded the Lurline for the home trip. Mr. Fisher, of Fisher Bros., had purchased two tons of wheat at the Wasco warehouse for chicken feed, as not a pound of that cereal is raised in Clatsop county. In honor of the event Mr. Fisher had the front deck of the boat adorned with a big sign on which was the legend, "The First Shipment of Wheat from The Dalles to Astoria." Just as the Lurline moved away from her mooring the crowd on board gave three hearty cheers for Astoria, which was followed by three cheers and a tiger for The Dalles. The boat's whistle blew long and loud and this was responded to by two locomotives in the car shops; and thus amid cheers and waving of hats and handkerchiefs from those aboard and a big crowd on shore, the Lurline sped on her way to Astoria.

It is pleasant to note that no single incident marred the pleasure of the occasion. The weather put on its best bib and tucker and the visitors took full advantage of it to view a city that has many interests that are mutual to those of their own. Much that they saw seemed a revelation to them. They were not prepared to see stores that would do honor to a city of 100,000 inhabitants. One gentleman who inspected the big piles of wheat at the Wasco Warehouse, said he never saw as much wheat at one time in his life. Good results are sure to follow this visit of the Astorians. But even if no material results should follow, The Dalles people are delighted to have made the acquaintance of the Astorians, and THE CHRONICLE is assured that the feeling is mutual on the part of the Astorians.

T. A. Smith and daughter, of Wapinitia, were in town last night on their way to visit Mr. Smith's mother at Junction City, Or.

John Roth, the well-known populist Tygh Ridge statesman, is in the city. John's political environment reminds one of Moore's Last Rose of Summer. He blooms "populistically" alone out on the ridge.

Robert Lowe, of Fairfield, came into town this morning with Mrs. James Garson, a native of the Orkney islands and an old-time friend of Mrs. Lowe, with whom she had been visiting for a few days. Mrs. Garson took the boat for home.

A. S. Holmes, of Cross Keys, G. J. Fauning, of Warm Springs, M. W. Hindman, of Sisters, L. F. Burdoin, of White Salmon, F. G. Buskohl, of Kingsley, A. W. Cooper, of Goldendale, and J. H. Koberg, of Hood River, are registered at the Umatilla House.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

The opening of the Paris exposition is fixed for April 14.

The regular Wednesday evening dance will be held at the Baldwin opera house.

Judge George, of Portland, has denied a new trial in the case of the state vs. Frank E. McDaniel.

THE CHRONICLE is indebted to the courtesy of Congressman Moody for valuable documents received.

An Astoria man has a room papered with cigar wrappers and bordered with postage stamps. The News says it is greatly admired.

Children's wash dresses—in percales, laws and dimities—ranging in price from 39 cents to $4.00, await your inspection at A. M. Williams & Co.'s

Colonel W. J. Bryan is billed to speak in Pendleton tomorrow at 10 a. m., at Walla Walla at 2:30 p. m. and at Dayton in the evening. He will pass through The Dalles from Portland on the 11:40 train tonight.

An odor, that suggested with marked emphasis the presence of a skunk, permeated the air last night in the neighborhood of Alvord and Laughlin streets and still lingered in attenuated form to greet the rising sun.

An analysis of the Oregon prune and that of Germany, made at the experiment station at Corvallis, shows that the home product has 16 per cent of sugar in the juice, as against 6.15 per cent sugar in the imported article.

About 40 stalwart young Tennessees have arrived here during the past week, states the Arlington Record. They will make their homes in Gilliam and adjoining counties. Eastern Oregon is rapidly filling up with the best blood of the Eastern and Southern states.

The trout season opens next Sunday. Now don't let this legitimate news item tempt you to absent yourself from church on that day and go off fishing. If you must go fishing on Sunday leave for the fishing ground Saturday night so as to get an early start Sunday morning.

Occasionally a flash of humor lights up the tardy and pompous editorials in the Seattle Times. A recent bit of a joke that appeared in that paper was the statement that the Portland Oregonian is a Republican paper. The Oregonian is about as much of a Republican paper as the Seattle Times or Spokane Spokesman-Review.—Lincoln County Times.

At Moro last Monday Judge Lowell sentenced McGonigle, the man who was arrested some time ago for forging a check on Scott & Co., of Grass Valley, to two years in the penitentiary. McGonigle pleaded guilty. As the jury had been excused on account of the prevalence of smallpox in Moro, Judge Lowell, after transacting some business of minor importance, adjourned court until April 23.

The Students Literary club will meet tonight—and not Friday night as was reported a couple of days ago—in the room back of Justice Brownhill's office. The subject for debate will be: Resolved, that capital punishment should be abolished. All members are requested to come prepared to put up the small amount of money that is needed to wind up, if it be so determined, the business of the club for the season.

Seven citizens of the Cascade Locks came up on the boat last night with two wagons and teams and complete camping equipments, and left today at noon bound for the Klamath country where they go to seek locations suitable for stockraising. They were, J. F. Atwell, Guy Blackwood, Jim Gordon, Link Harbarn, Charles Grey, Jack Carey and J. Homer. They will go by way of Warm Springs and Farewell Bend. Mr. Atwell's principal business in Klamath county is to look after some mining property owned by his brother J. W. Atwell.

"I have lived 33 years in Eastern Oregon," said Jim Grey, of Victor, to the CHRONICLE man this morning, "and I have never seen the soil so well saturated with moisture nor the grain crop so full of promise of a big harvest as they are at this moment. I have three hundred acres sown to fall wheat that looks as fine as any I ever saw in my life; and it is the same all over the Wapinitia flat." Mr. Grey says there was a hard frost on the flat night before last that he fears may have injured the fruit prospects. However, Jim never worries himself about crossing bridges until he runs up against them. He is a sound money Democrat, has a healthy liver, trusts in God, reads THE CHRONICLE and votes the Republican ticket.

Sheriff Kelly learned today from Dufur that H. Elmer Noland, who was reported yesterday as having disappeared with the Dufur Dispatch man's horse and buggy and an unknown amount of the Dispatch funds, had left the horse and buggy at Lane Smith's at the Twelve-mile house, on the Canyon City road. Noland arrived at Smith's at 3 o'clock Thursday morning. He secured a bed and asked the landlord to call him early. In the morning, leaving the horse and buggy behind, Noland secured a ride to The Dalles with a man by the name of Ring. He got off at the brewery and told Ring he would see him later at the feed yard, and that is the last seen of him, except that he is known to have made for the railroad track and of course must have left town as he is too well known here to make his stay desirable to himself. How much of the Dispatch funds Noland got away with is not known.

The Folks on the Bluff.

A delightful little musical, attended by some thirty or forty persons of both sexes, was given last night at the home of Mr. Geiger on the bluff. The event was initiated by Mrs. Groat and Miss Georgia Sampson in honor of the presence here of Mr. A. A. Gilhousen, a former Dalles boy, who has gained a well-deserved reputation as a vocalist, and whose singing of a generous number of selections was highly appreciated. Miss Sampson presided at the piano and Mrs. S. B. Huntington, Miss Myrtle Mitchell and Miss Dawson contributed to the pleasure of the evening a number of vocal and instrumental selections. Mrs. Eddon recited a comic poem and in response to a hearty encore gave another, describing the blundering but successful efforts of a bashful lover in popping the momentous question that resulted in two souls with but a single thought and two pairs of lips that acted with one impulse.

A son of the Emerald Isle told in Irish numbers the way they do their sparring in the land of the shamrock, and Mrs. N. Harris delivered, in fine voice and gesture, an amusing translation from Schiller, repeating it, at the request of the company, in native German. A dainty refecton closed the program and the company broke up on the verge of midnight after having voted that the folks in the neighborhood of Alvord and Laughlin streets, on the bluff, when they get together, know how to enjoy themselves about as well as any other folks.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Very Unusual

It is very unusual for a regular physician of good reputation to publicly endorse a proprietary remedy. We have often heard of cases where doctors have secretly prescribed Acker's English Remedy, but it is most gratifying to receive the following voluntary letter from C. F. Smith, M. D., the most successful physician of Ocean, N. Y.:

"Messrs. W. H. Hooker & Co., New York City: I wish to add my professional testimony to the value of your English preparation known as Acker's English Remedy for Asthma, etc. In several instances, after I have tried my utmost to give even relief, I have prescribed your remedy, and it has acted almost like a miracle, not only relieving, but permanently curing every one of the patients. I endorse the preparation as one of the most valuable additions to the practice of medicine."

Such a frank endorsement as the above is phenomenal. Coming from so distinguished a member of the medical profession, it carries with it an assurance which the public will be sure to avail themselves of. It is recommendations like this which make it possible to give the broad guarantee that is a part of every sale of Acker's English Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. It must either do all that is claimed for it, or your money will be refunded. Do you know of any other medicines which medicine sold on those terms? Do you know of any other medicines which prominent doctors regularly prescribe in their own practice as being better than prescriptions they write themselves? These facts are well worth considering. They are of especial interest to those with sore throats and weak lungs.

Sold at 50c, 1.00, and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 2s. 6d., 5s. 6d., and 10s. 6d. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back.

We authorize the above guarantee. W. H. HOOKER & CO., Proprietors, New York.
