

APRIL FOOLED.

Almost incredible as it may appear, there are doubtless some people hereabouts who have not yet bought goods of us. Not many, you understand—only a few.

Now, it's had enough to be the victim of a practical joke on "All Fools Day;" but to continue to ignore our claims is to make every day in the year an April 1st for you. Worse, indeed, because the joke may cause you to lose only your temper, while to avoid us is to lose your money. Remember, will you, that—

The foolishness of a fool, we fear,
Is the fool whose April lasts all the year.

Here is Wisdom.

PEASE & MAYS

Tailor Suits.

Our first invoice of these nobby garments has arrived and is now on sale. We invite your presence to pass judgment upon these goods, as they are the latest cut, style and finish that the leading suit house of New York City has been able to turn out. They were somewhat delayed, owing to the fact that these garments were made to our order and could not be turned out hurriedly; besides their workmanship will stand the most rigid inspection.

Separate Skirts

Are also among this shipment, and are in perfect keeping with the suits in style and workmanship. One of these garments worn with our late shirt waists is just the thing during these delightful spring days.

Speaking of The Dalles the Telegram kindly and truthfully says: The Dalles will go right along and be the center of trade for that portion of the Inland Empire lying between the Cascade and Blue mountains. The Dalles can't be annihilated by any side issue.

The Economy Gas Lamp Co. have placed one of their street lamps on trial for a few nights at the McKinney corner, on Second street. The lamp, which gives a fine light, has been purchased by the Regulator company and is intended for use at the boat landing.

May Designer at Pease & Mays.

The social session of Portland lodge, No. 142, B. P. O. Elks, announced for next Thursday evening, to which a number of Dalles Elks were invited, has been postponed on account of the death of a member of the Portland lodge, Gus Rudstrom, of the O. K. barber shop.

You can't buy them. Pease & Mays' are giving them away with every man's suit. No Bagoknee trousers stretcher.

W. M. Hastings, of Boyd, asks THE CHRONICLE on his behalf to sincerely thank the numerous friends and neighbors who so thoughtfully and generously contributed to the comforts and necessities of himself and family upon the loss of his home by fire a few weeks ago.

Married, last evening, at the residence of T. J. Driver of this city, Recorder Ned Gates officiating, Mr. E. W. Geibbler, son of an old time resident of Hood River valley and nephew of Jud Fish of the Umatilla House, to Miss Christina Cooper, daughter of David Cooper, the well-known fruit raiser of Baldwin precinct.

The Great Barlow Minstrels embrace a number of the best-known entertainers on the minstrel stage. Under management of Harry Ward this merry band of corky artists has already won an enviable reputation on the road, and will come endorsed by a number of big cities in which their performance has been given this season.

Nearly all the members of the Great Barlow Minstrels are members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, and their appearance in cities where Elk lodges exist is the signal for a general good time with the local and Minstrel Elks. The Barlow Minstrels have entertained in nearly every Elk lodge room in the United States.

Prof. E. R. Lake, of the state agricultural college, recently visited The Dalles for the purpose of investigating the mortality among sheep in this vicinity. He found the loco weed and larkspur, but in both cases the plants were too far matured for use in experiment. The matter will be made the subject of investigation next year.

Ladies, call at A. M. Williams & Co.'s cloak department and see the most elegant tailor suit of the season. This suit is made of black Venetian, new shaped short jacket, double-breasted front, with reverses applied in white satin; the skirt made with double box plait back. Without any exception the most stylish looking garment in the city.

The late news from Rev. U. F. Hawk's little boy, who is at St. Vincent's Hospital, is altogether encouraging. It is confidently hoped that the physicians have reached the seat of the lad's disease at last. He is improving all the time. He eats well and sleeps well and his temperature that reached as high as 104 and 105, has been normal for over a week.

The hottest city election in years was held in Goldendale last Monday when A. M. McLeod, formerly of McEachern & McLeod of this city, was elected mayor, beating R. D. McCully an old resident of the place and present mayor by seven votes. The question at issue was license or no license. For the council only one no-license man was elected and Goldendale will continue to be a wet town for the ensuing year.

Patrik Conroy of Grade, Wheeler county, who past through here a couple of months ago on crutches through the effects of rheumatism, has returned from the Bryan Springs, California looking hale and hearty and as nimble as a twelve-year-old. He expects to remain here till he makes up his mind about reembarment in the sheep business which he was compelled to abandon because of his illness.

John Brookhouse, of Dufur, returned on the boat last night from Albany, bringing with him Ellis, a 3-year-old trotting stallion, which he purchased from George McKnight, the well known Linn county horseman. Ellis is a dark brown, almost black, colt of fine form and great promise. He was got by Altago, 1st dam, Saddle B. (2.28) by Rockwood; 2nd dam by Brigham; 2d dam by Black Stranger.

F. H. Rowe has returned from a business trip to San Francisco. He has sold out his stock in trade here to parties who are moving it to Shaniko. The Lyle branch of the Rowe Manufacturing Co. will remove their box and planing machinery to San Francisco, where they have located their headquarters on Bryant street, between Fourth and Fifth. The saw mill will still be operated at Lyle and the product shipped to headquarters. The family of Mr. Rowe will remain here for some time.

Through the courtesy of Mr. C. L. Phillips THE CHRONICLE is the recipient of a quarter dozen cans of minced clams from the Sea Beach Pickling Works of Warrenton. They were brought here by the visiting Astorians and are part of the "First Through Shipment of Minced Clams from Astoria to the Entrepot of the Inland Empire." From past encounters with this delicious bi-valve on his native heath, as it were, we have a strong premonition that the minced article from Warrenton will have a strong affinity for the editorial appetite and possibly contribute needful nourishment to the vacuity where the editorial brain ought to be.

Of the Umatilla delegation elected last Thursday at Pendleton to attend the approaching Republican state and district conventions, the East Oregonian says: The state delegation, chosen is a straight Moody delegation, and the vote of this county in the second district congressional convention will be cast solid for The Dalles man. This is one of the absolute conclusions that may be drawn from the result of the proceedings. The Moody interests had been entrusted to the care of W. J. Furnish, and he succeeded in causing the choice of a delegation favorable to the renomination of the present incumbent. The convention will support W. R. Ellis for circuit court judge of that district.

The general committee appointed at the Monday night's banquet to arrange for perpetuating the Students' Literary Club and reorganizing it to undertake the work of opening a reading room, gymnasium and other things along these lines for the young men of the city, have appointed to meet this afternoon. The members of the club will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock sharp in Justice Brownhill's office and appoint a committee to confer with the general committee and incidentally discuss ways and means for carrying out their object. The young men of the city are taking a lively interest in this matter and the project seem certain to get their hearty support. The meeting tomorrow night will be free to all who are interested in the welfare of the young men of the city and in the project of affording them the opportunity for wholesome and healthful amusement and improvement mentally, morally and physically.

Apropos of the reported intention of "Cyclone" Davis to visit Spokane in the near future, the following from the Helena Herald may be of interest: "Cyclone Davis is coming to Montana to address the Populists of the state. The question naturally arises as to which branch of the Populist party Cyclone adheres. For Populism, like ancient Gaul, 'est omnia divisa in partes tres. Quam unam partem incolunt Middle-of-the-Roaders. Alia, the Debs Socialists. Tertia, qui in lingua ipsorum Fusionists, nostra Sally-in-the-Alleys appellantur. Haec omnes in language, notions and nostrums inter se differunt.' Now with which of these three branches of Populists will the Cyclone affiliate? Will he incolit with the Middle-of-the-Roaders? Will he herd with the Debs Socialists? Will he cleave to the Sally-in-the-Alleys, or will he simply let them inter se differunt? These are grave questions, and entirely too tough for the Herald to solve. So we leave the whole subject for the Hon. Cyclone to settle. Dissimilia dissimilibus curantur."

Last fall Ben Southwell, of Endersby, noticed that the bees in four hives out of some forty had died and that others were giving signs of decay. On examination he found that the combs in the dead hives had been burrowed throughout as if by a cut worm and that the honey had all been consumed. On closer examination he found the hives full of little worms varying in size from a mere pin point to three-eighths of an inch. He placed a number of worms in a glass jar and determined to watch the developments. In short time the worms covered themselves with cocoons like those of the codlin moth. Three days ago one of these hatched out and Mr. Southwell left it today at this office together with a number of cocoons apparently ready to hatch, where they may be seen by any one interested in bee-keeping. The hatched moth is about half the size of a tame bee and resembles it in color. Mr. Southwell believes there is no way to get rid of the pest, once they attack the hives, but by carefully going through each hive and destroying the worms by hand.

It Has Never Failed

Mr. C. S. Peaslee, the well-known druggist of Morgan City, La., is highly thought of in his neighborhood because of his skill and care in filling prescriptions. The best physicians in the place send their patients to his store wherever they can. Anything which Mr. Peaslee may say can be depended upon absolutely. In a letter to W. H. Hooker & Co., New York City, proprietors of Acker's English Remedy, he says: "In all my many years' experience as a druggist, I have never handled a medicine of any nature that gave such complete satisfaction as Acker's English Remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles. I have sold hundreds of bottles, and have yet to learn of a single case where it failed to cure. In a group, it acts with a certainty that is really marvelous. My wife does not take much stock in medicine, but she has absolute faith in Acker's English Remedy, always having it at her elbow in case the children are attacked by croup at night. It is a positively harmless remedy, as I can personally testify. I know of a little girl who accidentally drank a whole bottle. She was, of course, sick at her stomach for a short time, but the sickness passed away, and then the child was in better health than ever before. I can understand why Acker's English Remedy is so efficacious, because I am a druggist. It is not a mere expectorant, but a strengthening, invigorating tonic as well. While it heals the irritations of the mucous membrane, it also builds up the constitution and purifies the blood. I endorse it absolutely."

Sold at 25c., 50c. and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s. 2d., 2s. 3d., 4s. 6d. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back.

We authorize the above guarantee. W. H. HOOKER & CO., Proprietors, New York.
