IS THIS A SLAP IN THE FACE?

"We indorse," says the Multnomah Republican platform, "the official career of Senator Joseph Simon, Multnomah county's representative on the Oregon congressional delegation. We honor him for his ability, for his fidelity to the interests of his constituents, and for his energy in their service. We point with pride to his courage as a public man and to the large measure of national respect which he has already won."

This is piling it on pretty thick, in the fierce light of immediate current events. The compliment to Mr. Simon's ability and energy is deserved. But what is meant by indorsing the senator's "official career" and pointing with pride to his "courage" if it does not refer to the most important act of his "official career," his desertion of the party that made him all he is politically and going over to the free trade Democracy? It doubtless takes "courage" of a certain kind to do a thing like that. But if this is the import of the resolution, then Multnomah Republicans, in order to honor a man who has done more to corrupt the Republican politics of this state than any other man living or dead,—in order to honor him, that is to say, for taking his stand with free-trade Democracy, are willing to slap in the face the three other members of the Oregon delegation, who had, each of them, a far higher type of courage, the courage to do right as God gave him to see the right.

THE CHRONICLE has carefully read "The Hearings Before the Senate Committee on Pacific Islands and Puerto Rico," which formed the raison d'être for the attitude of the Republican majority on the Puerto Rican tariff bill, and we have come to a point where we are prepared to insist that any conceivable system of direct taxation on the islands, under existing conditions, would have been impossible. This was the deliberate opinion of every man who appeared before the committee, who was familiar with the situation and was not directly interested in the policy that might be adopted.

THE CHRONICLE deeply regrets that the committee on resolutions of the Democratic county convention did not think it prudent to submit a platform or resolutions for the approval of the convention. We would have been pleased to see the Democrats of Wasco county "Point with pride to the transcendent service done by that great tribune of the people, William Jennings Bryan, to this great nation by not having himself elected to the presidency in 1896." Or such a resolution as this: "We, the Democrats of Wasco county in convention assembled, demand the restoration to the suffering people of this nation, burdened by a plethora of the currency of the money octopus, and ground under the plutocratic heel of an increased gold per capita and a still more grinding oppression, an alarmingly augmented per pocket, a restoration of the grandly prosperous Democratic regime under the Immortal Cleveland, when the great masses of the common people, the bulwark of the nation, were relieved of the cares and burdens incident to labor and furnished free soup at the cost of a bloated aristocracy."

From a dispatch in another place it will be seen that the Republicans of the First Congressional District renominated yesterday Thomas H. Tongue for congressman on the first ballot. Tongue is a man of unquestioned ability and his prompt renomination is a testimony to the good sense of the Republicans of his district. Tongue voted with his party on the Puerto Rican tariff bill. His constituents have renominated him on the first ballot. Malcolm Moody did the same thing. His constituents will renominate him tomorrow by acclamation. Thus the bogey man that scared Simon proved to be very much of an apparition.

Alex Kircheiner, of Antelope, writes us to correct the soft impeachment inadvertently made in these columns a few days ago that he was the Republican candidate for commissioner. THE CHRONICLE ought to have known better and it here and now deliberately kicks itself for the mistake. However, we did not go out of the Kircheiner family, but should have said that it was Alex's brother, Peter, the Republicans had so honored.
