

Special Easter Offering in Gloves and Parasols.

Our line of Gloves in all the new shades and styles has arrived, and during the week we have concluded to make a good liberal cut for the benefit of all who desire to take advantage of the opportunity to supply themselves with their Spring and Summer Kid Gloves.

The sixty-nine cent line is especially interesting, and is deserving of your careful investigation.

The eighty-five cent line is made up of several lines merged into one, and while the prices vary greatly, the least costly ones are very much reduced so that those who are capable of judging values can get a rare bargain.

The ninety-five cent line is a very superior White Chamois Glove in white or black stitching, and a most perfect shaped Glove.

White Chamois Gloves at seventy-five cents for those who want a good serviceable Glove for general wear.

One dollar and thirty-five cents. These are the King Bees. You can have your choice of two kinds—dressed or undressed—all at the above named price; and as for shade, they are all that one could ask.

Now for the Misses' Gloves. The line is beautiful, and only 65c per pair during this week.

PARASOLS. Your Easter Bonnet should be protected from the trying rays of the Oregon sun, and we have made it possible for you to look your best if you will only take our advice and invest in one of our new Parasols which we are displaying this week at our store. They are dreams of beauty.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

A. N. Anderson has signed a contract with F. H. Wakefield to build a handsome cottage on the lot lying west of the M. E. church. The preliminary work of leveling the lot is in progress.

The Northern Pacific's new electric-lighted, steam-heated train, steel platform, crosses the Cascades, east-bound, in day time. Observation car always found on rear end of train. First train April 29th.

Bishop Morris will officiate at St. Paul's church tomorrow morning at 10:30. Morning prayer and celebration of the holy communion. Please note change of hour. Sunday school at the usual hour, 12:15. Easter service and carols. No evening service.

F. A. Sargeant, who owns the old Thompson ranch on 5-Mile, reports that the late frost nipped about half of his peaches but its effect was wholly good, for there is still more than enough left, and what is left will be of better quality than if there had been no frost.

Those members of the Second Oregon regiment who have intentions of making homestead entries will be glad to learn that a bill to make such entries easier for them has just passed the House, and will undoubtedly soon be put through the senate without any serious difficulty.

The demand for good farce comedy is said by observant theatrical managers to be greater than ever, the demand for poor farce comedy being less correspondingly. With a view toward satisfying the former demand the offering of "Have You Seen Smith" is made. Its appearance in this city will be an appreciated event.

The new D. P. & A. N. steamer Reliance was subjected to a builder's test yesterday by a run down the rivers as far as Kalama. Everything worked to the satisfaction of the D. P. & A. N. officials who were on board. The final trial will be made later. Meanwhile the boat will be furnished throughout and made ready for being placed on the run between here and Portland, an event which may be expected in about ten days.

The Easter entertainment and sale of St. Paul's Guild will be held at the Baldwin on Thursday of Easter week, April 19th. The proceeds are to be used in the construction of a much-needed improvement to St. Paul's church, the erection of a tower and front to the main building, adding much to the beauty of the building and to the street in that part of town.

For one week only—April 9th to 14th, inclusive—we are offering special bargains in ladies' and children's muslin underwear. These are new, fresh goods, just received from the East, and consist of the latest patterns and designs in lace and embroidery trimmed garments. See our west window for display. Remember the bargains last but one week at the New York Cash Store.

A double runaway occurred in the East End this forenoon. The driver of a lumber wagon hitched his horses to the wheel of a buggy standing in front of J. T. Peters' store. The hind team twisted around till they upset the buggy. The buggy team ran off and dragged the hind team with them. In a little while the hitching rope broke and each team took a separate direction, winding up each in a few seconds in tangled masses of wrecked wagon, broken harness and demoralized cayuse.

Next week Emil Schanno intends to make a tour of inspection over the fruit districts around The Dalles, so as to determine for himself how much damage, if any, has been done by the late frosts. From all the information Mr. Schanno has received as the result of inquiry, he has come to the conclusion that the prospect for a large yield of all kinds of fruit has not been better in twenty years. Any material injury to early fruit has only been in spots, and owing to peculiar local atmospheric conditions.

George Hilligen brought into town today the hides and scalps of a female coyote and her six whelps. He had seen the old one enter a hole in his father's stubblefield, near Denny Hollow, and procuring a spade he dug into the hole and captured the nest. The bounty on the seven scalps brought him $14 for a few minutes work. Notwithstanding the bounty, the coyotes, George says, are quite numerous around Denny Hollow. The farmers are usually too busy to bother hunting them.

A freight car loaded with merchandise for the interior while standing on the track last night between the freight depot and the Wasco Warehouse was broken into and some of the goods carried off. Just how much was taken is not fully known, but it is certain that a case of shoes was stolen and a couple of sacks of some kind of meal. On the north side of the track opposite the car were found this morning half a dozen empty paper shoe boxes supposed to be of those taken from the car. The railroad officials think the theft is the work of local talent rather than of a tramp or an outsider.

There is a sign on the side of the general delivery window of the post office bearing some such legend as "Please don't smoke here." Young bloods who love to blow cigarette smoke through the open window, and old, sodden tobacco fiends, whose breath has all the fragrance of a stale tobacco factory, will please remember that the notice is no arbitrary ruling of the postmaster, who indulges a little in the weed himself, but was placed there out of respectful deference to the sensitive allatory nerves of the amiable and obliging lady at the window, to whom the smell of tobacco, coming from any source, is exceedingly offensive.

The wife of the man Bowers, who nearly killed himself yesterday morning by butting his head against the grated floor of the calaboose, was hunting the marshal a few minutes before THE CHRONICLE went to press to see if something could not be done with her drunken sot of a husband. When Bower was discharged yesterday his wife took him home. Shortly after he procured a bottle of whiskey and loaded up as before. Then he wanted to cut his throat with a razor when Mrs. Bower succeeded in getting the weapon away from him. This forenoon he told her he would kill himself before night, but before he did that he would first kill her. The marshal will doubtless attend to him.

C. U. Snider, a Lakeview merchant, is the owner of the oldest horse in the county, possibly the oldest in the state, and the horse is doubtless the best-preserved horse in the United States for his age. He was foaled in Jackson or Douglas county in April, 1868, and is nearly 32 years old. Mr. Snider says he is just as young now in life and spirits as he ever was. Mr. Snider has owned him for 28 years, and he has lived in Lake county for that length of time. Every man, woman and child in Lake county knows "General Crook," for that is his name, and he is known in all towns east of here and from The Dalles to Redding, California, and Reno, Nev. He is called "General" for short.

One of the chief comedy events of the current season promises to be the approaching engagement of the widely popular farce comedy "Have You Seen Smith," which appears here Monday night. This attraction suddenly acquired a very important place among the laugh-producers last season, and this year is making a strong bid for the top seat. It is one of the few farces that deals with humorous incidents of the present day and introduces characters with which one constantly comes in contact. The fantastical exploits of several personages in the course of the evolution of the farce cause untold amusing complications, and the disentanglement affords rare opportunity for comical situations and interesting tableaux. Incidental to the very palatable plot are introduced a perfect avalanche of songs, dances, marches and graceful cavortings of every description. All the recent novelties in the line of music and mirth will be seen in "Have You Seen Smith," and to predict a rousing engagement here seems superfluous.

Sold Their Grab for a Library.

A merry crowd left here last evening in Ward & Robertson's wagonette bound for Miss Mabel Riddell's school, two miles east of Mosier. An enjoyable ride of over two hours brought the party to their destination, where a warm and handsomely decorated school house and a cheery welcome awaited them.

The entertainment began promptly at 8 o'clock, consisting of songs by the sixteen pupils of the school, recitations, dialogues, and a violin solo by Mr. Middleswart. Every number was admirably rendered and showed that great care had been exercised in the preparation. A delightful hour and a half was spent in this manner, when the lunch baskets of the visitors and pupils were placed on the platform and sold at auction for the benefit of a projected school library, realizing the handsome sum of $35.20. Superintendent Gilbert made an interesting speech explanatory of the methods he was pursuing to place a library within the reach of every school in the county. The disposal of the contents of the lunch baskets closed the entertainment and after the good night had been exchanged the crowd wended their way homeward by the cheery light of an April moon.

Those present from The Dalles were: Misses Mabel Cross, Mae Barnett, Edna Barnett, Bertie Burtis, Millie Sexton, Bertha Willerton, Jennie Martin, and Messrs. Cyde Riddell, Clarence Gilbert, Clay Uren, Northrup, James Simonson, Earl Curtis, Joseph Starr, Owen Brown and C. L. Gilbert.

At Congregational Church Tomorrow.

Morning worship promptly at 11 o'clock. Evening service will begin at 7:45, instead of 7:30 as heretofore. At the close of the morning sermon a communion service will be conducted. Reception of members will also follow the morning service. The Sunday school hour will be given to special Easter exercises. To all of these services the public is cordially invited. The pastor's morning subject will be "Success, the Goal of Human Life." Mrs. Huntington will sing for an offertory Wiegand's "Ave Marie."

The service in the evening will be one of praise. The chorus of voices which gave the concert at this church a few weeks ago, will furnish four special Easter numbers, as follows:

"Souls Are Shattered" Morris
"Blessed is the People" Parks
"Calm on the Sea" (Solo) (Contralto) Ashford
(Chorus) Parks
"The Earth is the Lord's" Parks
Offertory—"When Thou Art Near" Parks

Lost His Jurisdiction.
Justice Brewer the other day told a story of an Indian justice of the peace who owned a farm, says the Lewiston Evening Journal. One line of his fence formed the boundary of the states of Indiana and Ohio. Like others in rural districts, who hold that office, he had an abnormal appreciation of the responsibility of the office, and never lost an opportunity to exercise his prerogative of demanding that the peace be preserved.

One day his son and his hired man got to fighting on a stretch of the farm near the boundary fence, and the justice of the peace rushed out and mounted the fence. Then, with head cocked high and the air of one who has but to command, he shouted: "In the name of the state of Indiana I demand the preservation of the peace!" Just then the fence gave way under his weight, and as he went down with the fence toppling over to the Ohio side, he shouted to his son: "Give him h—l Jim. I have lost my jurisdiction."

Easter at the Methodist Church.

Easter Sunday will be observed in an appropriate manner tomorrow at the Methodist church, when all are especially invited to join the services. In the morning special music will be rendered and the pastor, Rev. U. F. Hawk, will deliver an address in keeping with the occasion. At the evening service the following program will be given:

A Good Cough Medicine for Children

"I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says F. P. Moran, a well known and popular baker, of Petersburg, Va. "We have given it to our children when troubled with bad coughs, also whooping cough, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children as it contained no opium or other harmful drug." Sold by Blakeley & Houghton.
