The Everlasting Topic.

After all, there are few things quite as interesting as the question of dress. While clothes don't make the man, they afford a pretty good indication of their character after they are made. Time was when they told the story of their means, too; but that time is past. By confining your purchases to our store you can follow Shakespeare's advice, "Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy," without bankrupting your exchequer, for we have decided to continue the special during this week of a line of $12, $13.50, $14 and $15 Suits for $9.85. H. Weinhard's celebrated Bock beer is now on draught at the Columbia hotel bar.

J. L. Kelly has let a contract to Mr. Anderson to build a handsome cottage on the corner of Clay and Federal street.

When the Boers "snipe" 500 of the British at a time the new verb begins to take an important place in the military dictionary.

Tonight the last dance of the season will be given by the Columbia Dancing Club and all members are requested to attend.

The O. R. & N. have a force of men at work building extensive stock yards alongside the track east of the feed yard and adjoining the Wasco warehouse.

An editor who on first impulse was going to discharge a proofreader who allowed a quotation to read, "You cannot serve both God and woman," concluded, on second thought, to let it go, and say nothing about it. It is needless to add that he is not a married man.

The British government, it is reported, is about to contract for 50,000 more American horses. No further inquiry need be made for the horseless era man. He has retired from business.

Dr. Meyers & Co., of San Francisco, will begin a series of lectures to men only, in connection with their museum of anatomy. Free to all. Don't forget to see them. See ad. in today's issue.

The ladies having the Easter entertainment and sale at the Baldwin on Thursday feel happy in offering their friends a good program. Miss Myrtle Michell always a favorite, will appear in choice vocal selections.

Within six months the price of corn has advanced one-third. Four years ago an army of orators was insisting that corn would soon be a worthless incumbrance unless the money of the country was degraded to the free silver level.

Yesterday afternoon J. C. Hawthorn was arraigned before Recorder Gates for being the ringleader of the party that robbed the brewery till last week. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to thirty days in jail. There was no evidence sufficient to inculpate Hawthorn's three companions, so they were discharged.

Some anthems seem ludicrous to outsiders not familiar with the piece. Take this one as occasionally heard in our churches and elsewhere: It starts out thus: Soprano: "Oh, take this pill—" Tenor: "Oh, t-a-ake this pill—" Contralto: "O oh take this pill—" Bass: "O-o-oh, take this pill—" All together: "Oh, take this pilgrim home."

The peaches and other early fruit on the divide between here and Mosier have not been materially injured by the late frost. At least so said James Miller of that country to the CHRONICLE man today. Mr. Miller says the peach trees are loaded with fruit, and as to wheat, the crop baffles all description. Some of it, not yet in the boot, stands between two and a half and three feet high.

The well at the scouring mill is 116 feet in depth. At 114 feet water was struck which rose to within nine feet of the top. Then a test was made and the well was bailed out at the rate of 1200 gallons an hour, without reducing the water in any perceptible degree. As the well-borer puts it: The scouring mill would have no more water if it pumped from a hose in the Columbia river.

Some of the newspapers in Manila are evidently trying to incite strife between the people, the military authorities and the religious orders. They are reprinting pamphlets supposed to have been issued by a friar, and which are said to have been widely distributed. These pamphlets condemn Masonry, civil marriage and the liberty of the press. They also defy the authorities to interfere with the religious orders.

A Socialist paper that appears to have some circulation in this neighborhood seriously claims that with government ownership of the shoe factories a workman, producing, by the aid of modern machinery, 48 times more shoes than were formerly produced by hand, would be entitled to 48 times the wage, or something in the neighborhood of $5000 a year! That is the sort of stuff these Caesars of Socialism feed their dupes with.

Chicago's milk trust has gone to pieces and milk is now selling in the Windy City cheaper than before the combination. All the leading retailers were in the combination. The promoters counted upon freezing out the small dealers during the winter, but the revolt of patrons from the big concerns operating scores of wagons each was so great that the small dealers found an expansion of trade that incited them to keep up the fight and to stay outside the combination.

Poultrymen in Marion county recently reported to the Agricultural College serious fatality among young chickens, relates the Corvallis Times. In all instances the chicks were the product of incubators and brooders. Several of the dead chicks were dissected by Professor Pernot, and in each instance there was found in the lungs either pneumonia or congestion. The facts thus developed indicated that the temperature in the brooders had been allowed to rise and fall with more or less carelessness, and that colds and consequent pneumonia and other lung demoralization had resulted, producing the death of the chicks.

The committees appointed from the several religious bodies, the W. C. T. U. and the Commercial Club to organize a young men's club along the lines of the Y. M. C. A., will meet in the Congregational church at 8 this evening. Secretary Stone, of the Y. M. C. A. of Portland, has telegraphed the secretary that he will be here and will give the committees the benefit of his experience. All members of the several committees are requested to be present. The public also, and all interested in the object of the movement, will be cordially welcomed. It is requested that members of committees who cannot attend tonight shall give their proxies to persons who will attend.

The meeting to be held in the Congregational church tonight for the purpose of organizing a club or society for the benefit of the young men of the city is one that appeals to every man and woman who takes any interest in the physical, moral and intellectual welfare of our young men. It is to be noted that this movement took its rise among the young men themselves. This makes it doubly entitled to consideration, and far more certain of permanency and success than if it had originated among outsiders without consulting the wishes of those intended to be benefited. Fathers and mothers of The Dalles, attend the meeting at the Congregational church tonight and learn that you have a chance to do something for the boys of this town such as may not happen again in a lifetime.

The intelligence of the elephant is well known and is illustrated in an interesting incident, as follows, says the Chicago Times-Herald. A young baby elephant had received a severe wound in its head, the pain of which rendered it so frantic and ungovernable that it was found impossible to persuade the animal to have the part dressed. Whenever any one approached it ran off with fury and would suffer no person to come within several yards of it. The man who had charge of it at length hit upon a contrivance for securing it. By a few signs and words he made the mother know what was wanted. The sensible creature seized her young one with her trunk and held it firmly down, through growling with agony, while the surgeon completely dressed the wound, and she continued to perform this service every day until the animal was perfectly recovered.

Married.

Yesterday afternoon, April 16th, at the residence of the bridegroom's father, Mr. C. W. Haight, of this city, John J. Haight, of Cow Canyon, to Ella Callaghan, of Clackamas county.

The CHRONICLE has not the pleasure of the acquaintance of the bride, but we have no doubt she is worthy of one of the best young men in Southeastern Wasco, which is precisely the deserved reputation of her young husband.

The young couple will make their future home at the Cow Canyon toll gate.

Rev. D. V. Poling performed the marriage ceremony.

Republicans, Attention!

A meeting of The Dalles McKinley Club will be held in the court house next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting is called for the purpose of electing officers and for the transaction of other business incident to the pending campaign. By order
L. E. CROWE, President.
