Columbia Bock beer will be on draught next Saturday. It is guaranteed to be the best brewing ever placed on tap in this city. a25 5t

Konrad Phirman today declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States and to renounce allegiance to Emperor William of Germany.

John C. Young, Populist candidate for congress from the First district, failed to file his certificate of nomination in time and can only be placed on the ticket by petition.

At the request of the Walla Walla Clerks' Association the business houses of that city commenced yesterday to close at 6 p. m. The agreement is to last till August.

Take advantage of the opportunity offered you by A. M. Williams & Co.'s sale, and lay in a few extra pair of low shoes for warm weather wear. It will pay you to do so.

Fishermen on the lower river complain that the river is full of seals and sea lions that not only take all the salmon from the nets but destroy, as well, the fishing gear.

The leaders of the regular People's Party have imported two Pop guns from Alabama and Georgia to help in the campaign. One or both will explode themselves in The Dalles on the 24th of May.

P. S. De Olney and A. Gunnison, of the Pacific coast board of underwriters, are in the city arranging for the horizontal reduction on insurance on property below the bluff, promised on condition of adding a chemical engine to the fire apparatus of the city.

Last Sunday night Rev. U. F. Hawk announced to his congregation that he would preach next Sunday night on the Mormon problem. Several years ago

Mr. Hawk spent ten months in Salt Lake City making a special study of the Mormon religion. He will therefore speak from the standpoint of personal knowledge.

Hickelbickellarschavetzer, Count of Hallstaad, Austria, is registered at the Umatilla House. An inquiring public is informed that before Dick was enabled on his late visit to Europe, he was known here as plain Julius Fisher, the barber.

THE CHRONICLE is indebted to the courtesy of Senator McBride for a copy of "The Report of the Island of Porto Rico, its Population, Civil Government, Commerce, Industries, Productions, Roads, Tariff and Currency, with Recommendations" by Henry K. Carroll, special commissioner for the United States to Porto Rico.

The steamer Iralda is expected to arrive here tonight on her first trip in opposition to the D. P. & A. N. boats. The Iralda is a twelve-mile boat, a little smaller than the Reliance, but four miles slower. It is understood that the Reliance, as soon as she is fitted up, will run in opposition to the Iralda, and some mighty cheap traveling is within the possibilities as long as the Iralda holds out.

Hundreds of people spend thousands of dollars going to Ober Ammergau, Bavaria, to see the Passion Play in a language they do not understand. You can now see this gorgeous spectacle and greatest tutor of religion and ancient history that the world has ever known, in your own city, described by an intensely interesting and absorbing lecture as the pious drama moves on. Tonight and tomorrow night at the Vogt opera house.

Referring to the recent effort of Rev. Sheldon to run a newspaper as Christ would do it, Sam Jones says: "It would be hard to run a church or a home as Jesus would run it, much less a newspaper. The truth of the matter is, I don't know a man on earth who can run himself as Jesus teaches him to run himself, much less one who can jump into a new field for just one week, and such a field as the daily newspapers occupy in the United States."

Says the Boston Herald, speaking of the Passion Play to be rehearsed tonight and tomorrow night at the Vogt opera house: "A splendid reproduction of the impressive spectacle. Not a single suggestion of irreverence in the whole representation. The Passion Play entered last night at the Boston Museum upon what promises to be one of the most successful fortnights ever devoted in this city to a popular entertainment. The audience was enthusiastic and its applause unstinted.

H. W. Wells returned last night from a protracted absence at his sheep ranch near Prosser, Wash. Lambing season was about over and the yield was all that could be desired. One band of ewes, numbering 2700, whose lambs had been marked before Mr. Wells left, had yielded an increase of 109½ per cent. To protect his sheep from the depredations of coyotes Mr. Wells lately imported from Colorado two dogs of the stag hound species that are said to be sudden death at short range to the varmints.

According to the Liverpool Post, a local firm, being delighted at the idea that one of its employes was called up to join the Reserve, at once volunteered to pay half his wages to his wife in his absence. At the end of the month the woman appeared and the moiety was at once given to her. "What," she said, "four pound?" "Yes," replied the senior partner, "that is exactly half; sorry you are not satisfied." "It isn't that I'm not satisfied; why, for years he has told me he only got 16 shillings altogether, and—and—if the Boers don't kill him I will."

James Callaghan, a Chicago sheep buyer, arrived here yesterday after buying about 16,000 head of sheep in Crook county and southern Wasco. He bought 11600 head from George A. Young, of Ridgeway, at the following prices: 6000 ewes and lambs at $1.75 for the ewes and $2.00 for the lambs; 3300 yearling at $2.75; 1000 yearlings at $2.35; 1000 dry ewes at $1.75 and 300 two-year-old wethers at $3; all to be delivered at Shaniko on the 10th of June. From the Baldwin Sheep and Land Company Mr. Callaghan bought 4000 head, giving $2.50 for yearlings and $3 for two-year-olds. From Tom Brogan, of Antelope, he bought 1000 head at $2.60; these two last purchases to be delivered at Shaniko May 15th.

Another meeting looking to the organization of a young men's association was held last night in the Congregational church. The meeting was fairly attended and quite a protracted discussion was had on ways and means, the character of the association, what it should be called, and the best way to set about its organization. In the end a motion was made to delegate the whole matter back to the Students' Literary Club and allow them to organize such a society as would meet their own aims and desires and then submit their constitution and bylaws to those who might be willing to give financial help to the enterprise. The motion met with some slight opposition but eventually prevailed. It was undoubtedly the best thing that could be done under the circumstances. The young men who started the movement are intelligent and earnest. They know precisely what they want and will never give up till they get it. We have no doubt, whatever, that they will organize in such a way as to meet the approval of all who are interested in the welfare of the young men of The Dalles.

We mentioned yesterday that A. Scherneckau is here looking over the situation with a view of establishing direct business relations with this city and Astoria through a line of boats on the river. Mr. Scherneckau represents the Astoria Puul Club, an association of the business men of that town, and other members of the club have promised to join him in a day or two. The movement is a purely business proposition.

Clatsop county does not raise a pound of grain of any kind, very little fruit, and only a limited quantity of vegetables. With its large fishing and lumbering enterprises the county buys annually many thousands of dollars' worth of such products as The Dalles and Wasco county have to sell. Astoria business men could undoubtedly buy here, at rates satisfactory to both parties, wheat, barley, oats, chopped feed, bran, flour, wheat hay, vegetables and fruits of all kinds, pork, beef, mutton, and possibly many other products. Astoria has not nearly so many things to sell to us, but she has abundance of cheap and excellent lumber and shingles that could be handled here advantageously, besides oysters and several varieties of fish that at present are imported from there through middlemen at Portland. We hope the business men of the two cities may see their way to this reciprocal trade. If the enterprise was once fairly started, there is no telling what it may grow to.
