WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

The Passion Play At the Vogt opera house tonight. That tan shoe sale at A. M. Williams & Co.'s.

Tygh Ridge had a lively snow storm yesterday.

The Passion Play will be repeated tonight at the Vogt opera house.

The sewer ordinance was signed today by Mayor Kuck and is now a law.

Smith Bros. will have for sale a band of horses at Ward & Robertson's corral next Saturday. 25a-2t

A much needed wheel road scraper has been purchased for the Kingsley neighborhood.

Wool is beginning to arrive at the warehouses. Three loads came in from Tygh valley today.

License to marry was issued this morning to William Laichte and Ethel M. Osborn, both of Hood River.

Twenty thousand pounds of freight were loaded today at the Wasco warehouse for John Day and Canyon City.

Jacob Zimmerman, a native of Switzerland, declared his intention today to become a citizen of the United States.

Columbia Bock beer will be on draught next Saturday. It is guaranteed to be the best brewing ever placed on tap in this city. a25 5t

There's not a thing wrong with those tan Oxfords on sale at A. M. Williams & Co.'s. Too large a stock for the demand accounts for it.

Final citizen papers were taken out today before Judge Bradshaw by Adolph Ulrich, a native of Germany, and Henry Ubbing, a native of Austria.

The steamer Albany arrived from Portland at 2 p. m. She will make the attempt to reach the big eddy tomorrow by climbing Three-Mile rapids.

Women's tan Oxfords that were $3 a pair last season are now selling for $1.95 at A. M. Williams & Co.'s. Cheaper grades at like reductions.

Walla Walla had a snow storm yesterday that lasted about ten minutes. It might just as well have snowed here, but it didn't. It was cold enough.

Miss Anna Golden, daughter of John Golden, a pioneer settler of Klickitat county, died at her home in Goldendale this morning after a protracted illness.

The steamer Iralda arrived here yesterday afternoon and left for Portland this morning at 7 o'clock. It is claimed she had nine passengers aboard who paid the regular rates charged by the D. P. & A. N. Co.'s boats.

Mrs. U. F. Hawk and her little son, who has been for some time at St. Vincent's hospital, are expected home next week. The lad, we are pleased to learn, continues to improve all the time.

THE CHRONICLE acknowledges the courtesy of an invitation to the graduating exercises of the Dufur public schools, which take place in the Dufur I. O. O. F. hall next Saturday, commencing at 8 o'clock p. m.

Cedar Circle will give its Greek Art entertainment on the evening of May 8th in the Baldwin opera house. The program, which is excellent, will be followed (by request) with dancing. Tickets have been placed at 25 cents, and 10 cents for children under 12 years.

E. B. Dufur, A. A. Jayne and H. H. Riddell returned yesterday evening from a fishing trip to the lakes south of Stevenson. They certainly had fish back with them; that is to say Mr. Dufur had, as this recorder of the fact can testify from pleasant personal acquaintance with a mess of them.

B. F. Laughlin went to Shaniko yesterday expecting to be absent about a week. While there he will examine the route for a new wagon road from Antelope creek to Shaniko that will shorten the distance from Cross Keys to Shaniko and render it unnecessary for Prineville teams to go round by the way of Antelope.

Mrs. Sophia Palmer, of Prineville, who came here a few weeks ago with her son, H. J. Palmer, who is employed as traveling salesman for Pease & Mays, has been seriously ill for some time at the residence of J. F. Markham. At this writing she is somewhat better and hopes are entertained of her ultimate recovery.

N. M. Eastwood, foreman of the D. P. & A. N. wharf boat, had the misfortune this morning to dislocate his shoulder while handling a large truck load of heavy freight. Dr. Logan promptly reduced the dislocation; but it may be two or three weeks before Mr. Eastwood will be able to resume work.

The Passion Play was well attended last night and will probably be still better attended tonight as, with the exception of the Passion Play proper, an entirely new set of pictures will be exhibited. Some of those presented last night were beautiful beyond description. The pictures apart from the Passion Play were worth the price of admission.

J. F. Markham, while working on the new grade east of the Wasco Warehouse, had the misfortune to get one of his hands smashed by a large rock falling on it and crushing it against another rock. The accident, while quite painful, will not permanently cripple the hand, but it will incapacitate Mr. Markham from work for perhaps a month.

The sawmill and planer that was located near the Harris place on the Deschutes, in the hope that logs could be driven down the Deschutes from the Matols at reasonable expense, will be moved in the near future to a point on Jordan creek, about fifteen miles southwest of Dufur, where there is said to be a fine body of timber. The plant is owned by the Johnstons of Dufur, A. L. Lake and W. L. Vanderpool.

J. D. Mann, who is said to represent Portland capitalists, closed a deal this week for the purchase of a block of land on the north side of the railroad track, opposite the Saltmarsh stock yards. The purchaser, it is said, has had an option on the land for some time. Just what it is intended to be used for nobody seems to know; but knowing ones promise information in a week or so. There is an impression that the property will be made the site of a large flouring mill.

William Evert, a logger from the Little White Salmon country, while loaded with booze last night worked himself into a fighting attitude and was, in consequence, placed under arrest by Night watchman Pirman. He had concealed on his person a chunk of basalt tied up in a handkerchief. When asked this morning by the recorder what he intended to do with the rock, he said it was a stone of rare value, which he would not part with at any price. Evert acts as if he was off his base. The recorder fined him $2, which he paid.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the county clerk today of the Columbia River Ice and Fuel Company. The objects and business of the corporation are to operate a cold-storage plant, to buy and sell ice, coal, wood, produce, wool and livestock; to do a general commission and real estate business; to purchase, hold, mortgage and dispose of real estate and personal property as may be necessary in carrying out the objects of the corporation. The incorporators are M. M. McInnis, M. J. Manning and P. B. Stephens. The principal office and place of business is at The Dalles. The capital stock is fixed at $2000, divided into forty shares of the value of fifty dollar per share.

Fred Hilligen, a young Tygh Ridge farmer and son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hilligen, of this city, if a brother to "The Man With the Hoe," is surely a near relation to the man with the jack knife. Pease & Mays have on exhibition in their grocery window a specimen of Fred's whittling talent that is well worth traveling a dozen blocks to see. It is a wooden picture, if the term is permissible, of the battleship Maine as the centerpiece, surrounded with flags and bunting and mounted on top with the American eagle. The "picture" is carved out of superannuated cigar boxes, has a back ground of scarlet velvet and is inclosed in a neat frame. It was all done with a common jack knife and is really a thing of beauty.

In view of the fact that certain young men in this city are earnestly seeking to organize a young men's association to work, as far as may be possible, along the lines of the Y. M. C. A., the following from the Salem Statesman will be of interest to all who hope for the success of the movement here: "The Salem Y. M. C. A. does a good and useful work in this community. It provides a place of amusement and recreation for a large number of boys and young men, and in every way its mission is a helpful one. The institution should be supported, and well supported. There will be a mass meeting at the Methodist church this evening to consider ways and means for keeping up the work. We hope to see the big church packed, and to witness as a result a revival of the spirit that made this at one time one of the liveliest and best supported organizations of the kind on the coast. It can be so again and should be."

Meeting of Water Commissioners.

At a special meeting of the water commissioners held last night a proposition was laid before them to bore for artesian water for city use. The commissioners refused to entertain any proposition that did not guarantee a flow of water. The application of The Dalles scouring mill for a rate on water for fire purposes only was considered and the rate fixed at $1.50 a month.
