

"Get Thee Behind Me;"

That's what this week says to last—what May says to April. It's a mighty good thing that the month just past did not have much reputation to lose, as it will be remembered chiefly for its own capricious weather and OUR OWN GREAT BARGAINS. Her clouds had but ONE SILVER LINING, and that WE FURNISHED.

Now we greet May on the Homeric principle: "Welcome the coming, speed the parting guest;" and as the mild eyed maid trooped over the eastern hill, we salute her thusly:

For this Week. A quantity of Boys' Odd Knee Pants; ages from 4 to 14 ..... 19c

For this Week. A quantity of Boys' 2-piece Suits (some are slightly damaged, including several odd suits); all sizes; just the thing for rough wear ..... 79c each

For this Week. A quantity of Boys' Odd Suits—nothing in the world to their discredit, save the absence of a few important sizes; regular values range from $1.50 to $3.00 ..... $1.35

For this Week. A quantity of Boys' Crash Hats at 19c

For this Week. A quantity of Youth's Odd Long Trousers, ages 10 to 20 years ..... $1.05

There will be a business meeting of the Epworth League at the M. E. church this evening at 8 o'clock.

The ladies of the Christian church will give a box social at the Christian church tonight. All are invited and a good time is promised.

The board of water commissioners will meet tonight and hear the report of the committee appointed to confer with L. Kretzer about the cost of sinking an artesian well above the reservoir.

Henry Green, captain of a river flat boat, and Miss Ida St. Martin, were united in wedlock in this city yesterday evening at the residence of Louis Johnson, on the bluff, by Rev. G. Roshing.

John Williams, William Connelly and Welch were arrested last night for keeping back of the Keystone saloon.

The promise from each of them that they would not repeat the offense they were discharged.

The amount of mail arriving on the trains that meet at 12:30 p. m. makes it necessary for the postoffice to be closed in the future from 12:45 to 2 o'clock p. m. Patrons of the office will be notified and govern themselves accordingly.

The Chronicle is indebted to the courtesy of George B. Halvor for a box of delicious ripe strawberries, the first full box of native strawberries we have seen this season. Mr. Halvor had few ripe berries as early as the 26th of April. He will commence shipping next Monday.

Forty-five Odd Fellows from here and other points took passage on the Regulator last night on a visit to their brethren at Hood River. They got back here this morning at 4 o'clock. They report having had a most enjoyable time. The Hood River people gave them a delegation from the Locks a very welcome. The Hood River brass band treated them to a serenade, and a delicious banquet closed the proceedings at 1 o'clock in the morning. They had two initiations, and Louis Comini's goat bore his riders with all the grace and majesty of a veteran.

John Lynch, J. Carney, Wm. Keefe, J. B. Casey, John Knowles, Pete Riley, William Jones, colored, were arrested last night and brought before the recorder this morning, charged with sleeping on the wool sacks of the Wasco warehouse. This practice has become such a nuisance to the company that the recorder, in order to see if it could not be stopped, fined each of the prisoners and all but Knowles who paid his fine, were committed to the city bastille for one day.

A clergyman walking on the outskirts of his parish one day found one of his parishioners whitewashing his cottage. Pleased at this novel manifestation of the virtue that is next to godliness, he complimented the man on his desire for neatness. With a mysterious air the worker descended from the ladder and approaching the fence said: "That's not exactly the reason why I'm doin' of this ere job your Worship. The last two couples as lived here had twins, so I see to my missus, I'll take and white wash the place so's there mayn't be no infection. You see, sir, as how we've got ten of 'em already."

Secretary Fred W. Wilson, of the Oregon Wool Growers' Association, received a letter today from the superintendent of the Cascade Forest Reserve saying it would be impossible for him to attend the meeting called for June 2nd. As the opportunity of meeting Capt. Ormsby and having him decide the various applications for summer ranges was the main purpose for which the meeting was called, the date has been changed to May 26th, at which time the superintendent has telegraphed he will be present. It is expected a large number of sheepmen will attend, as the business before the meeting will be of much importance.

It appears from the Oregonian that the government inspectors have ordered a safety valve placed on the steamer Albany and will not permit her to be moved until she is provided with this precaution against the steam running up on the engines. As soon as their orders are complied with the steamer will resume her trips to the big eddy. If she is unable to get over the rapids with the amount of steam allowed by law, arrangements will be made for lugging her up with wire cables. The inspectors have determined to put a damper on any attempt to carry more steam than is allowed by law, and whenever a boat goes into swift water and makes a better showing than is warranted by the power aboard, she will be speedily looked after by special agents of the government.

An Insulting Mountebank.

"Cyclone" Davis opened the campaign at the Baldwin opera house last night. About two hundred persons were present, many of whom left before the performance was over, although it only lasted a little over an hour. Wasco county Democracy were represented on the platform by John Douthitt, John Gavin and J. H. Jackson. They had the heartfelt sympathy of most of the little audience. For the speech of Davis was a disappointment. It was more than a disappointment. It was an insult to the intelligence of a Dalles audience. Davis' conglomeration of slang, bad grammar, cheek, falsehood, gall, tergiversation, mendacity, misrepresentation, vulgarity and calamity was certainly never surpassed here nor elsewhere. The money question was placed in the forefront: and the old, lying, glib Ernest Seyd's connection with the "crime of '73 that has been so pulverized to atoms that its own mother wouldn't own it, was told with an abandon of gall and mendacity that left no other conclusion but that in a Dalles audience the Cyclone supposed he had struck a lot of backwoods suckers.

The trusts and the policy of expansion came in for their share of "cyclonic" invective, but when the speaker, at the close, came to repeat the old Populist wail of calamity and woe that we used to hear in '96 and earlier campaigns, it was then he showed himself peculiarly at home. If the speech of last night made one convert, then the Lord have mercy on the party that has secured his vote. An intelligent business man who used to vote the Democratic ticket, said to the writer at the close of the meeting, "I'll give one hundred dollars to keep that man lecturing here, in the interest of the Republican party and policy, till the close of the campaign."
