

"Get Thee Behind Me;"

That's what this week says to last—what May says to April. It's a mighty good thing that the month just past did not have much reputation to lose, as it will be remembered chiefly for its own capricious weather and OUR OWN GREAT BARGAINS. Her clouds had but ONE SILVER LINING, and that WE FURNISHED.

Now we greet May on the Homeric principle: "Welcome the coming, speed the parting guest;" and as the mild eyed maid troops over the eastern hill, we salute her thusly:

For this Week. A quantity of Boys' Odd Knee Pants; ages from 4 to 14 19c

For this Week. A quantity of Boys' 2-piece Suits (some are slightly damaged, including several odd suits); all sizes; just the thing for rough wear.... 79c each

For this Week. A quantity of Boys' Odd Suits—nothing in the world to their discredit, save the absence of a few important sizes; regular values range from $1.50 to $3.00 $1.35

For this Week. A quantity of Boys' Crash Caps at 19c

For this Week. A quantity of Boys' Crash Hats at 19c

For this Week. A quantity of Youth' Odd Long Trousers, ages 10 to 20 years $1.05

For this Week. Is the golden opportunity of a lifetime to lay in a stock of Boys' Wearables at positively less than manufacturers' cost. No trouble to show goods.

All Goods Marked in Plain Figures.

The boiler for the scouring mill has been set in place and masonry building the brick work around it.

S. Cheattam was arrested last night for drunkenness. After sleeping off his inebriation the recorder mulcted him in a fine of $2.

Barney Adams, for the past eight years night bar keeper for Dan Baker, accepted a similar position at the Willa House.

C. Dickerson, of Antelope, brought down yesterday two carloads of fine horses, which he shipped today to bond market.

Hollister was called here today from Portland to visit John Carey, engineer of the Rockland ferry boat, who at his residence in this city.

Frank Davenport estimates that there are 300 acres in strawberries in Hood River valley. If anybody can make a better estimate, let him speak out, says Glacier.

B. Yeackle, a prosperous farmer of Clatsop county, uses a traction engine in his plowing. The machine draws gang plows that turn fourteen feet every trip.

R. E. Stewart, of Goldendale, has a collection of over 30,000 perfect Indian arrowheads, besides several thousand steel ones and a large and rare collection of Indian relics.

Wm. O'Leary, who has been living in the Dalles since he sold out his business last fall, has bought another band of land for his family to the ranch near Valley, Sherman county.

Kansas editor thus philosophizes: "It is hard for a married man to arrive at the scientific conclusion in reference to why a 4-months-old baby should be so much heavier at 1 o'clock a. m. than its mother used to be at precisely the same hour."

The ever-gentlemanly Fen Batty, who has been hotel clerk and night clerk in this city since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, is now night clerk at the Perkins Hotel, Portland.

Dr. Jones, of Portland, arrived here on the noon passenger today and he and Dr. Shackelford performed an operation on Lloyd Laughlin, the twelve-year-old son of E. F. and Mrs. Laughlin, for appendicitis this afternoon.

The types made THE CHRONICLE say yesterday that Mrs. Frank Chrisman was ill in a Portland hospital. We are pleased to say this is a mistake. She was there some time ago, but is now at home and in good health.

John McAllister, a well-known sheepman of Klickitat county, says the shearing of between twenty and thirty thousand head of sheep will soon commence in the country northwest of Goldendale and the wool will all be hauled to The Dalles.

Amos Root, of Mosier, was in town today. Mr. Root, who is largely interested in the fruit business, says there will be an abundance of all kinds of fruit in the Mosier country this year. Whatever thinning out the frosts may have done to early fruit the result has been more of a benefit than an injury.

Chief Joseph is a shrewd Indian. When asked why he wanted school houses on his reservation, but no churches, his reply was: "I fear the ministers would teach my people to quarrel about God. We quarrel about men sometimes, but we never quarrel about the great Spirit whom we worship."

A grand moonlight excursion will be given by the D. C. & A. C. band on the fast and commodious steamer Regulator on Thursday evening, May 10th, at 8:30 sharp. Everything will be done to make this a very pleasant evening on the grand old Columbia. Tickets, 50 cents. To be had at all the business houses and of the band members. 5-t

Watermelon Redington was in town last week, and here is the record of an impression that struck him, which he records in the Heppner Gazette: "People who thought that the new town of Shaniko was going to absorb The Dalles ought to take a look at the new store of Mays & Crowe. There isn't a more complete hardware and implement concern in all Oregon."

Alex. McLeod, while waiting yesterday for the funeral procession of Mrs. Askew to start for the cemetery, concluded to give his horse a little exercise by a short drive over towards the site of the old garrison stables. Arriving at a wet place near Ninth street, his horse slipped to the belly, and in the effort to get him out the buggy shafts were smashed. Alex came out of the scrape decorated with mud from head to heels.

A communication was received from Miss Mary F. Denton today announcing that she would not be able to keep her engagement with the ladies of the Congregational church and lecture here on Japan next Monday evening. Miss Denton, however, will be here some time in the near future and due notice of the time will be given.

The steamer Albany was taken back to Portland this afternoon, as the Paul Mohr company have abandoned all notion of being able to use her at the present stage of water. The company will probably have their rails and ties brought here by the Regulator company and will have them landed near the North Dalles planing mill, where others were landed a few days ago.

The water commissioners met last night to hear the report of the committee appointed to confer with P. L. Kretzer, relative to the cost of boring for artesian water above the reservoir. Mr. Kretzer was present and informed the board that his price would be $3.25 a foot for any depth. No contract was entered into, but a committee will meet on the grounds at 10 o'clock tomorrow and determine on the site for the well in the event of the board's conclusion to have the boring done. The commissioners will meet again Monday night and, in all probability, make a final determination of the matter.

The sale of the retail business of Charles Stabling to Chas. Michelbach and Jas. Falt, after having almost been completed, has fallen through. Mr. Stabling's wholesale business has grown to such proportions that it alone was sufficient to occupy his whole attention, and hence he concluded to dispose of the retail and move the wholesale stock to another building. But now that the sale has been declared off for good, both branches of the business will be conducted as heretofore at the old stand, where, it need not be said, customers are always assured of good treatment, a hearty welcome, and the best of everything in his line the market affords.

The little minstrels, who gave such a very excellent and successful performance in the city two weeks ago, will repeat the program tonight at the Baldwin opera house. And it will not be a repetition either, for the management, Miss Hazel Waud, assures the expectant public that the program has all been recast and an entirely new set of comic songs, side-splitting jokes and fin de siecle gags added to the original captivating repertoire. The last performance of these little folks was amazingly successful, financially and otherwise, and there cannot be a doubt in the world that tonight's performance will be equally satisfactory. Several who attended the performance of two weeks ago assure the writer that they often paid ten times the price of admission to see a far worse show. All the profits of tonight's entertainment will be given to some charitable or educational object, not yet determined on. The price of admission is 10 and 15 cents. Doors open at 7:30; performance to commence at 8:30.

Obituary.

Mrs. Nettie Askew, who was buried here yesterday, was the daughter of Coroner W. H. Butts. She was born in Portland thirty-two years ago and married in this city twelve years ago to William Askew. Two fine boys of 6 and 8 years blessed the union and, with the husband and father, survive her. When only a girl the mother of Mrs. Askew died, leaving six children, of which Nettie was the eldest, while the youngest was almost a child in arms. How well Nettie performed the part of a mother to her three little sisters and two brothers is only known to themselves and to the widowed father, who shared with her the cares and anxieties incident to watching the expanding childhood of his motherless little ones. And even after she had married and gone to live on the Sound her every letter to her brothers and sisters was full of motherly anxiety and advice.

Mrs. Askew had been in bad health for many months. The immediate cause of death was lung trouble, contracted from a cold caught at a time when her weakened system was not able to resist its evil effects.

She was laid to rest yesterday beside her mother and in the presence of a large and sorrowing number of friends and kindred, who had known and loved her as it is the lot of few to be known and loved.

NOTICE TO WATER CONSUMERS.

All persons using city water for irrigation on and after May 1, 1900, and until September 1st, inclusive, will be charged the following rates per month: For every lot 50x100 feet, $1.50; for every half lot or fraction thereof, 75 cents, and no rebate will be allowed to persons leaving the city unless written notice is served on the superintendent of the water works to turn off the water. Above the bluff water may be used for irrigating from 6 to 8 a. m. and from 6 to 8 p. m. on the odd days of the month, and below the bluff during the same hours on the even days of the month.

These rules must be strictly complied with, and any deviation therefrom will subject the violator to the penalty of having the water shut off, and in order to get it turned on again he must pay a fee of one dollar. Persons wilfully wasting water, or allowing it to run continuously through their closets or lavatories, or allowing water to run after irrigation hours, will suffer the same penalty as above stated.

By order of the water commission,
J. B. CROSSEN, Supt.
