WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Nearly one hundred persons have signed the roster of The Dalles Y. M. C. A.

Next Monday the first passenger train will enter Shaniko. Freight trains have been going in for three or four days.

J. D. Lee, superintendent of the state penitentiary, has invited Rev. O. D. Taylor to preach to the convicts next Sunday.

Five hundred sacks of wool have been received at Moody's warehouse from the Condon neighborhood, by way of Leonard's and Miller's bridges.

The performance on the musical glasses by Archie McCully at the entertainment next Friday night will alone be worth the price of admission.

Edward Clendinning, a former subject of the queen of Great Britain and Ireland, was admitted to full citizenship yesterday afternoon before Judge Mays.

For thirty days only we will give special prices on violins, banjos and sewing machines. Do not forget the price given away with each $5 purchase. Jacobson Book and Music Co.

The freight teams of Henry Hudson, of Boyd, today unloaded 12000 pounds of wool at the Wasco warehouse from the Bridge Creek country, Wheeler county. The teams will return in a day or two loaded with freight for Grant county.

Up to the time of closing the registration books yesterday evening, there had been registered in the entire county 2885 voters. At the June election of '98 2377 votes were cast for governor. Thus 508 more voters have registered than voted at the last election.

The river at this point stood at 31.4 feet this morning, having fallen three-tenths of a foot in the previous twenty-four hours. The Snake river has fallen slightly, but in consequence of warmer weather is expected to remain stationary for the next two or three days.

Contractor Kretzer, while boring for artesian water above the reservoir last week, struck a stratum of gravel at a depth of a little over 100 feet. A strong stream of water flowed through the gravel, but refused to rise. Boring was suspended and the well was cased to a depth of 107 feet, when boring was resumed.

The musical entertainment to be given by the young people of the Methodist church next Friday night promises to be a rare treat. Some of the best musical talent in the city will take part in a very excellent program which will be printed in tomorrow's CHRONICLE. The price of admission has been placed at 25 cents and the tickets are on sale at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store.

H. W. Furlong, one of the party from the Berkeley university who are fitting out here for a search for fossils in the John Day country, was violently thrown from a horse this morning in the Pavette feed yard in the East End, receiving such a shaking up as required the services of a physician. Mr. Furlong had mounted the animal with a view of testing his qualities as a saddle horse. The beast had been well-broken to the wagon and was supposed to be perfectly gentle, but he resented the saddle and bucked and bawled like an Indian cayuse. Mr. Furlong's injuries are not thought to be such as will detain the party after they are fitted out for the journey.

Mrs. Isabella Grey left this morning on the Regulator on a visit to her old home in Lanarkshire, Scotland. She will go overland by way of the Canadian Pacific and will take passage at New York on the Campania, which sails for Paris, where she will visit the exposition before crossing the channel for Scotland. She expects to return in the fall, and has already mapped out her return overland trip by way of Chicago, St. Paul, thence south to New Orleans and back through California by the Southern Pacific. Mrs. Grey is in her 79th year. She is an Oregon pioneer, having crossed the plains in an ox wagon, and been a resident of this county since 1864. This is her third or fourth visit to the old country. She was accompanied as far as Portland by Mrs. S. L. Brooks.

The water commissioners met last night and arranged that four men shall leave here tomorrow to dig a ditch to Mill creek at the place where the water from the Dog river ditch flows down the mountain side to Mill creek for a distance of about a mile and a half. The water at this place has hitherto had no channel, but flowed at its own will among rocks and trees and brush wood, leaving the mountain side a species of quagmire. A ditch will conserve the water as well as purify it. The work is expected to occupy the four men about a month. After this work has been finished, Superintendent Crossen will have the men clean out the logs and drift out of that part of Mill creek that lies above the upper reservoir. All this is much needed improvement and will be highly appreciated by the water consumers of the city.

The lot of a democratic editor in these piping times of McKinley prosperity is hard enough to call out the deepest republican commiseration. It is especially hard when the fates have cast his lot in a prosperous community like The Dalles. One of these unfortunates entered the office of a prominent Dalles lawyer this morning, and noticing that an army of tradesmen were at work repainting the wood work of the building, remarked that the painters of The Dalles must be reaping a harvest, for nearly every property owner was having his buildings painted anew. "That's so," said the lawyer. "You see under the old Cleveland soup-house regime we could hardly raise enough money to meet expenses, let alone improvements. Now everybody has money to spare and"—but the item stealer had heard enough, and made a dash to leave his fevered brow in the cool, outside morning air.

Salemites are for an Open River.

The Salem chamber of commerce, through its secretary, H. B. Thielsen, has written the Portland chamber of commerce that the former body will heartily co-operate with the latter in their effort to obtain government aid for the building of a portage railroad around the dalles and Celilo falls. Speaking of the attitude of the Salem chamber of commerce towards this work, Mr. Thielsen says:

"They are the more inclined to assist in this case, as they know from actual experience what a serious injury is wrought upon commerce where obstructions prevent otherwise navigable streams from being a controlling factor in the establishment of freight rates.

"In the very able report of your committee, every argument looking to the opening of the Columbia is equally applicable to the opening of the Willamette by government acquisition of the canal and locks at Oregon City, or as an alternative the construction of new ones, as recommended in a recent report of a board of government engineers appointed to examine into that question.

"Portland is equally interested in the opening of both rivers, and we hope the Portland chamber of commerce and the people of the Columbia basin will extend the same cordial assistance to secure the opening of the Willamette river that the Salem chamber of commerce and the people of the Willamette valley will give to the effort to make the Columbia river free from Lewiston to the sea."

A Toast to the Queen.

The following is a verbatim report of a speech in giving the toast of "The Queen," at a recent agricultural show dinner in Scotland. The chairman began:

"Noo, gentlemen, will ye a' fill your glasses, for I'm about to bring forth 'The Queen.' (Applause.) Our queen, gentlemen, is really a wonderful woman, if I may say it; she's one o' the guid auld sort. Nae Whigmaleeries or falders about her, but a dounce, dacent body. She's respectable beyond a' doot. She has brocht up a grand family o' weel-faured lads and lasses—her eldest son being a credit to ony mither—and they're a' weel married. Ae daughter is nae less than married to the Duke o' Argyll's son and heir. (Cheers.) Gentlemen, ye'll may be no' believe it, but I ance saw the queen. (Sensation.) I did. It was when I took my auld broon coo to Perth show. I remember her weel—such color, such hair. (Interruption, and cries of "Is it the coo or the queen ye're proposing.")

"The queen, gentlemen. I beg your pardon, but I was talking about the coo. However, as to the queen, somebody pointed her oot to me at Perth station, and there she was, smart and tidy-like; and says I to myself—"Gin my auld woman at hame slips awa', ye needna remain a widower anither hour langer." (Cheers.) Noo, gentlemen, the whisky's good, the night is lang, the weather is wet, and the roads are salt, and will harm naebody that comes to grief. So aff wi' yer drink to the bottom! 'The Queen!' (Cheers.)

Columbia Southern Warehouse.

At Shaniko the Columbia Southern Railway Co. controls 80x100 feet of the Shaniko warehouse building, to be used as a freight warehouse, through which they will receive and forward freight in the usual manner. The impression that all business must be done through forwarding houses is an erroneous one and we take this means of dispelling it. Freight received and held twenty-four hours will be turned over to a forwarding house subject to the order of the consignee. The rate on wool in sacks or in bales from Shaniko to The Dalles is 25 cents per 100 pounds.
