

...For the Boys...

The suits we sell for boys have more than one strong point.

In addition to first quality fabrics our suits are right in the making and there's lots of fault to find with the way most boys' clothes are put together, as every mother will attest. Only the best of silk or linen thread is used. Seams double-stitched, linings and stays are of the strongest material, and in most cases they are reinforced seat and knees.

We are more than a step ahead of others in the quality and construction of our boys' clothing.

But our prices are a step lower.

Vestee Suits, $1.35 to $7.50.

Sailor double-breasted suits for boys, 7 to 15 years, $1.95 and up.

Youths' long trouser suits at $4.85 to $15.00.

FREE—Spaulding baseball and bat with any suit at $2.50 or more.

FREE—With any boys' suit to cost $5.00, the 20th Century Daisy Air Rifle, that shoots darts or B. B. shot.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Boys! Read Pease & Mays' ad. Rifles and base ball and bats free.

Buy the "Governor," and get the best shoe made. Only $4, and only at A. M. Williams & Co's.

The Telegram says the steamer Iralda will resume her run between Portland and The Dalles tomorrow.

C. T. Scoggin, of Fossil, arrived in town today with 28 head of very fine draft horses which he is taking to Portland.

Boys! Pease & Mays are giving a good Daisy air rifle or Spaulding base ball and bat with every suit over $2.50. See window.

The Shaniko Leader of May 17th and the Annapolis Herald of May 18th arrived here this afternoon after being about a week on the road.

People who have worn the "Governor" pronounce it the most satisfactory shoe they have ever worn, at any price. A. M. Williams & Co. are sole agents.

Shaniko had a wedding on the 15th. The high contracting parties were Claude K. Andrews and Nan Thompson, and the knot was tied by Rev. Chas. Ebery.

Holiday time is coming, and Pease & Mays are giving a Daisy air rifle and Spaulding base ball and bat with any boys' suit.

Twelve hundred head of sheep, bought of R. Hinton, of Bake Oven, by the Union Meat Company, arrived at the Saltmarsh stockyards today for shipment to their destination tonight.

The first shipment of sheep from Shaniko was made on the 16th and consisted of 2000 head. The Leader understands 100 carloads will leave Shaniko before June 1st, all for the Chicago market.

The Leader understands that Shaniko will be made a distributing point for Bake Oven and all points south. This will take a burden off Mr. Riddell's shoulders at The Dalles, which is the distributing point at present, and make an office of the third class almost from the start at Shaniko.

Fitch Faulkner shipped the other day a carload of 29,000 pounds of bones to Portland, where they will be manufactured into fertilizing material, bone dust, glue, and other things too numerous to mention. He shipped also another car of 11,000 pounds of iron doors and other old junk that had been used in the old Fitz Gerald warehouse, now part of the securing mill. There is many a pound of old iron around the farm houses of Wasco county that would pay to haul to town for forty to fifty cents a hundred, the price paid by Mr. Faulkner for this class of old junk.

C. McPherson, of Hay Creek, arrived in town yesterday with a small clip of wool which he sold at a price that realized him a fraction over $1.99 a head. He says he passed, between the hill on the other side of Sherar's Bridge and The Dalles, twenty-six wagons loaded with Crook county wool, all bound for The Dalles.

F. Kagy, an old-time resident of The Dalles, is in town in the interest of the Oregon Native Son magazine. Mr. Kagy says the July number of his magazine will contain a write-up of the early history of The Dalles, with appropriate pictures of scenes that are, many of them, only a memory.

A. M. Kelsay is here from Shaniko spending a few days with his family. He says Shaniko is growing rapidly in business and population. A large quantity of wool is stored at the warehouse and considerable has been shipped through to The Dalles. The Columbia Southern is preparing to build a two-story brick hotel that will face one hundred feet on each of two streets and have fifty rooms.

The center of gravity nowadays is the Shaniko warehouse, says the Leader. All day long freight is unloaded and carried away. Wool has come in until the building is filled with it, and the workmen are planing, sawing and hammering from morning till night building the south end. Already Shaniko is showing commercial activity that no one would have believed possible to have come about in six months.

Neighbor W. D. Harper, of the local lodge of Woodmen of the World, having bought himself a strawberry ranch down at Hood River, brought up a crate of the first-fruits last night and treated his "Neighbor Woodmen" to a royal strawberry feast. The CHRONICLE is authorized to inform Neighbor Harper that he can repeat the dose just as often as he wants to. There will be no kick coming from any of the neighbors up this way.

George W. Fender, of the 45th U. S. infantry, writes to his father in this city from southeastern Luzon that soldiering is no May day picnic in the Philippines. His company has been kept on the jump all the time since they landed on the island, and since new year's fighting their way through rough mountains and rice swamps. George has a very poor opinion of the average Filipino. He says they are lower in intelligence than the American Negro and more treacherous than the American Indian. A soldier who ventures to go a mile from camp may confidently make up his mind that he will never come back alive.

Communication are being received by the Portland chamber of commerce from commercial bodies and citizens throughout the Columbia river basin, commending the start that has been made by the chamber toward securing an open river from Lewiston to the sea by the removal of the obstructions at the dalles of the river and at Celilo. At a meeting of the trustees of that body, held yesterday, communications were read from the Walla Walla and Astoria chambers of commerce intimating their hearty accord with the movement. Letters from Senators McBride and Simon and Representatives Tongue and Moody were also read, outlining what they had already tried to accomplish and promising renewed efforts for an open river from Lewiston to the sea.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN OPENED

An Able and Logical Presentation of Current Issues by Martin L. Pipes—Women's Suffrage Presented.

The republican campaign was opened at The Dalles last night by an able and logical address from Judge M. L. Pipes, of Portland. Before the address of Judge Pipes, Chairman F. W. Wilson introduced to the audience Miss Morrow, representing the national suffrage association, who said in part:

"The history and evolution of the human race is a history of the evolution of government. We have passed from the absolute despotism to the limited monarchy and from the limited monarchy to our present republican form of government. In other words man's right to the ballot has been secured through war and conflict. When this nation was first established men left their homes, gave their lives, their all in order to secure their political rights; and the men of Oregon are voters today because of the inheritance bought for them by their forefathers. The history of woman's struggle for political freedom is exactly the same as that of man's struggle for political liberty. There is not an argument in favor of man suffrage that does not apply to woman suffrage. This is a question of human rights, and any effort to secure for any class their rights only helps to preserve and strengthen the rights of every other class. Right wrongs no one."

THE ADDRESS OF JUDGE PIPES.

Judge Pipes opened his remarks by saying that the republican party is opposed, as in '96, by three parties; that the principles of the populists, as he chose to call this political trinity, were the same, and that these principles were enshrined in the Chicago platform, and were, when crystallized into the smallest compass, free silver and free riot. The old democratic party was always the party of sound money and expansion. Till the period of the Spanish war every foot of territory added to the thirteen original states, with the single exception of Alaska, had been acquired under democratic administrations. The Bryanite wing of this populist party are asking us to entrust them with power once more on the ground that the republicans have established the gold standard on such a solid basis that the election of Bryan could work no mischief. But the populist wing refuse to baste a jot of their demand for a debased currency. The only safe thing for the voters to do was to vote the republican ticket and take no chances.

The anti-expansion idea was largely sectional. We had taken the Philippines as a war measure and could not abandon them if we would. What American will dare to say that the order given to Admiral Dewey to destroy the Spanish fleet was wrong? The history of civilization is the history of conquest, and expansion is the handmaid of civilization. The history of the world shows that expansion is a law of human progress. The Jews expanded when they settled in Caanan, and to them through Christianity we owe the purest morality and the highest civilization the world has ever known. The Pilgrim fathers expanded, and without the consent of the native inhabitants, founded the highest type of national civilization on the globe. If we give up the Philippines, we must, to be consistent, give up Porto Rico, the Sandwich Islands, the Indian reservations, and every foot of American territory. Where shall we go? Astronomers say there is one spot in the far off universe of God that comes as near being nowhere and as full of nothing as the human mind is capable of conceiving. Let the Populists hie themselves there, where they can have all the anti-expansion they want and free silver at 16 to 1, without asking the consent of anybody. They cannot stand on a foot of American soil and not violate their own platform.

We are going to hold the Philippines and to give them every inalienable right a human being is entitled to under the American flag, and a species of liberty they never knew nor ever dreamed of under the rule of Spain.
