

Do You Cough?

"I guess I used to be like everybody else. When I caught cold, I just let it alone, thinking it would cure itself in a few days; of course the coughing and spitting of mucus sometimes lasted several weeks, but after a while the trouble would subside. I always noticed, however, that each cold was worse than the one before. My throat seemed to get weaker, and the least change in the weather started the coughing again. The last cold was the most severe of all. I was really frightened. Cough drops and home treatment did no good. A friend told me about Acker's English Remedy. I got a bottle, and you never saw the like of the way it acted. Before the bottle was gone I was well. My throat felt as strong and well as could be. Since then I have had no more trouble. I think Acker's English Remedy so strengthens the delicate lining of the throat that it easily resists the changes in temperature, and builds up the constitution as well."

"Plutot mort qu'aveugle"

Means, "Rather dead than blind" blindness in most cases is the result of a neglected trivial illness of the eye. Many a person now blind could enjoy good eyesight had it not been that the eye were neglected when the first sign of disease appeared. Cataract and Glaucoma, two of the most dangerous diseases, are in most cases due to negligence in the care of the eyes. Theo. H. Liebe, of the firm of J. E. Adcox & Co., is a graduate of the Peoria Optical College, and the Bradley Polytechnic Institute. He will correct and diagnose all errors of refraction. Eyes examined free.

ENGLAND'S AFRICAN POLICY

The Boers' Independence Is at an End, Says Salisbury.

LONDON, May 29.—Lord Salisbury, who was entertained at dinner this evening by the city of London Conservative Association, made an important announcement regarding the government's South African policy.

"The 'stop-the-war party have used my name," said the premier, "in support of their ideas by stating that I promised there should be no annexation of territory or annexation of gold fields. I never gave a pledge. I never meant to give a pledge. (Loud cheers.) I stated a simple historical fact. We were accused of going to war for lust of gold and territory. It was one of those calumnies which, under the favoring influences of Dr. Leyds, spread itself over the press of Europe. Nothing could be more untrue. We went to war to abate oppression of the Queen's subjects in the Transvaal, and because our remonstrances were met by an insulting ultimatum to which, if the Queen's government had submitted, her power not only in South Africa, but over her colonies and dependencies, would have been at an end. We were forced into war by the action of our opponents.

"To say that because we repudiated the greed of territory we therefore bound ourselves never to annex any territory, is a most ridiculous misconception. I dwell on this point because this matter of annexation is about to become a burning question.

"We have made a tremendous sacrifice of blood and treasure in this conflict. There are misleading prophets, whose action bulks are large in the columns of a newspaper as the action of more influential and powerful people, who mislead the unshrewd rulers of the Transvaal to continue resistance far beyond the time when all resistance had ceased to be even possibly successful. These men are perpetually pressing us to make some conditions, to offer some arranged stipulations that shall leave a shred of independence to the republics. Our only certainty of preventing a recurrence of this fearful war is to insure that never again shall such vast accumulations of armaments occur, and that not a shred of the former independence of the former republics shall remain. (Cheers.)

"We are not yet at the end of the war, but I shall venture to lay it down as a primary condition of any further settlement that precautions will be taken of such a character that such a war will never occur again. Of course, what measures will be necessary it is impossible at this moment to determine, because that depends largely upon the action and temper of those with whom we have to deal. I have already intimated that their resistance could wisely go. It is not for us to criticize their action in what they are pleased to call self-defense, but they have acted so that every bitterness created by the war and every severance of classes and races have been stimulated by every measure they have taken; and so they go on.

"It will also be our duty to protect those native races who have been so sorely afflicted and at the same time so to conduct our policy that so far as possible there shall be a reconciliation and that every one shall be a happy member of the British Empire.

After the master of the rolls, Lord Alverstone, had proposed, "The Imperial Forces," Lord Salisbury again rose, holding a paper in his hand, and said:

"I find that Lord Roberts has occupied Johannesburg."

This announcement was followed by a wild display of enthusiasm, the company cheering for "Bohs" and singing "God Save the Queen."

THE END OF THE WAR

Pretoria Abandoned by the Boer Forces

Total Collapse of Dutch Cause.

LONDON, May 31, 3 a. m.—Yesterday at noon the British were only about two hours' march from Pretoria, and the Boer military forces had abandoned the city. This intelligence comes from the Renter agent at the Transvaal capital, and from the Earl of Rosslyn, in a press dispatch. The two messages left about the same time. At 2 o'clock this morning the war office had received no news from Lord Roberts which the officials would make public, but it is assumed that the press advices are correct. The Daily Mail publishes the following from the Earl of Rosslyn, who was a prisoner at Pretoria, but who, as a civilian, appears to have been released: "Pretoria, Wednesday, May 30, 11:40 a. m.—Pretoria will be occupied in about two hours without resistance. The president has gone to Watervalboven. Burgomaster de Souza is authorized to receive the British. He, with an influential committee of citizens, including Chief Justice Gregorowski, has been appointed to preserve life and property during the interregnum. Everything is quiet, but crowds are waiting expectantly in Church square for the arrival of the British. Fearing a possible disturbance and bloodshed among the prisoners of war at Waterval, United States Consul Hay and Leigh Wood insisted upon twenty officers being liberated on parole to go to the men. Their action cannot be too highly praised. I was permitted to accompany the officers. Everything was quiet."

"The war is practically over. By this time the British flag is flying in Pretoria, Mr. Kruger has fled, and is ere this half way to Delagoa Bay. Mr. Hay, son of the United States Secretary of State, who holds the office of American consul of Pretoria and who in that capacity took charge of our interests, thoughtfully insisted on a special step for safeguarding the large number of British prisoners."
