

GOOD NEWS FOR THE INLAND EMPIRE.

Congress yesterday morning passed the sundry civil appropriation bill which includes an appropriation of $250,000 for repairs to and extension of the jetty at the mouth of the Columbia river. Provision is also made for a survey for canal and locks between Celilo and The Dalles. This is a very gratifying piece of news. The passage of the bill means that the jetty will be repaired and the survey for the canal and locks made in time to ask for appropriations at the next session of congress. The procurement of an appropriation for the survey of the canal and locks is peculiarly gratifying to the people of the inland empire. The boat railway scheme that, whether designedly or not, has long effected the suspension of ineptive work at The Dalles is now happily out of the way, let it be hoped, forever. When the survey is made for a canal and locks there ought to be no insuperable difficulty in procuring an appropriation for a railway, such as will be a necessary adjunct to the construction of the canal and locks, and at the same time be open to public use till the permanent improvements are completed. The proposition is radically different from ordinary government ownership of railways and cannot properly be construed as an entering wedge to that form of paternalism. The road will become a government necessity, once the construction of the permanent improvements commence. Its joint use by the public, under necessary restrictions, need not seriously effect its efficiency for both parties. Its cost would be a bagatelle compared with its value as a regulator of freights. It would save to the people of Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho twice its cost every year, and would largely meet the demands of traffic till the canal and locks are completed. If we had a score of private portages this one would do more to bring down rates to a reasonable, living basis than them all, for it could not be sold out to the highest bidder nor forced or led into combinations to maintain exorbitant or unreasonable rates. It is to be hoped that the energy that has procured the appropriation for the survey will not be relaxed till a portage railway, as a temporary expedient, is an accomplished fact.

The Telegram accounts in part for Tongue's relatively small majority when compared with Moody's by saying that a good many republicans were dissatisfied with Mr. Tongue's vote on the Porto Rican tariff bill; adding that Tongue's "labored explanation did not fully explain to the satisfaction of all," and that "on the Porto Rican bill Moody was right." The Telegram's logic is not clear or THE CHRONICLE'S information is at fault. Mr. Moody voted for the bill, precisely as Mr. Tongue did. The only difference between them was that Mr. Moody neither explained his vote nor was asked to explain it. If either of them lost a vote through their action on the bill, it was that of some republican mugwump whose perceptions had been fogged by the misrepresentations of the Portland papers.

Our contemporary over on Court street quotes with editorial approval the saying of William R. Hearst, president of the National Association of democratic clubs, that "reports from all parts of the country indicate that the principal work of the democratic clubs next spring will be the inauguration of Mr. Bryan at Washington." Now that Mr. Hearst has heard from Oregon he will probably conclude that the principal work of the democratic clubs next spring will be the inauguration of a big funeral, with Bryanism for the corpse and the clubs as chief mourners.

The democrats fooled a large number of the people four years ago with their cries of the gold wolf that was coming to devour them, says the Yamhill Reporter. Instead of a ravenous wild beast, the people have found a peaceful pack animal, heavily laden with gifts for them. The calamityites have cried "wolf" so often that the people have lost confidence in them and their woeful prophecies and refuse to believe their warnings.

With the success of the Multnomah citizens' ticket in mind, which ticket was a revolt against Simon-Corbett boss imperialism, the Oregonian very justly says: "Three or four men cannot own a political party, treat it as a property and do as they please with it." And again: "We may not all agree as to how it happened; but we know what happened."

The Towne men announce that the free-silver tail to Bryan's kite was tied on to stay, and that it will require a surgical operation to remove it, says the Omaha Bee. With grave fears that the patient will not survive such an operation, the political surgeons, who are to meet in consultation at Kansas City, may think twice before they attempt it.

"As foretold by the Statesman, the republicans have lost the Oregon legislature," says our democratic contemporary at Walla Walla. And Oregon republicans, it may be added, are enduring the "loss" with marvelous fortitude and complacency.

A Sprained Ankle Quickly Cured. "At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says Geo. E. Cary, editor of the Guide, Washington, Va. "After using several well recommended medicines without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed." Sold by Blakeley & Houghton.

Reports show that over fifteen hundred lives have been saved through the use of One Minute Cough Cure. Most of these were cases of grippe, croup, asthma, whooping cough, bronchitis and pneumonia. Its early use prevents consumption.
