WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Grant Mays yesterday purchased a handsome Altamont pacer from H. F. Naylor, of Goldendale.

The Pierce Mays lot north of the O. D. Taylor Baptist church, is being cleared and leveled off for a lawn tennis court.

Take Pease & Mays' prescription, cool clothing, and you may laugh at Uncle Sol and enjoy health and comfort.

Leave your orders early for strawberries and fresh vegetables. We have the best. Grocery department Pease & Mays.

Fred Bronson will sail on the steamer Queen for Sitka, Alaska, on the 24th. Mrs. Bronson and the children will follow him later on.

Wood Bros. will tonight ship a carload of fat hogs to Portland, and two cars from Wallawa county will be shipped at the same time to Troutdale.

The scouring mill started up this forenoon and made short runs during the day while testing the belts and machinery.

Robert Mays and son shipped 2000 head of sheep last night and this morning to Cook's Landing, to be summered on the range back of that place.

You will feel as though the mercury had dropped twenty points as soon as you get into one of those light weight suits Pease & Mays are showing.

Call in and sample the whole wheat shredded biscuits. Free demonstration Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Pease & Mays' grocery department.

The closing exercises at St. Mary's Academy will take place Friday, June 15th, at 8 p. m. Fifty cents admission will be charged to all, patrons of the institution excepted.

The Cedar valley country, in Klickitat county, it has been definitely decided, is in the Yakima Indian reservation, and a bill is pending in congress appropriating nearly $300,000 to pay the indemnity asked by the Indians.

The pupils of The Dalles Lutheran Sunday school, accompanied by some of the teachers and parents, went on a picnic excursion to Mosier yesterday and enjoyed themselves immensely. They hope for more of such outings before the summer grows old.

Remember, the New York Cash Store is the sole agent for the Hamilton Brown Shoe Co.'s famous shoes for men, women and children. Be sure and see our line before purchasing. We can save you money. We have no old stock to work off, but are offering new, neat, nobby footwear. No trouble to show goods.

The Black Butte Irrigation Company will engage in irrigating lands throughout Eastern Oregon and do a general development business. The company has a capital stock of $5,000,000, divided into shares valued at $50 each. H. Taylor Hill, E. R. Carey, of Prineville, and E. H. Sparks, of Black Butte, are the incorporators of record.

The Bohemian club room of this city that has been the resort of more budding statesmen and the theater of more political discussion than any room of its size this side Kansas, was handsomely papered and decorated yesterday till it looks as if a cyclone of McKinley prosperity had struck both it and the cranky, but always genial, chairman of the club.

The fire that raged all yesterday afternoon near Crute's Point destroyed a lot of newly cut hay belonging to A. Y. Marsh, about half a mile of plank fence, and all his fall pasture on the mountain side. Mr. Marsh estimates his loss at $500. The fire started from a lot of wild mustard that had been ignited in a field belonging to the Benedictines and got beyond the control of the men who ignited it. Part of the Vanbibber pasture was also burned over and destroyed.

"We believe in the constitution of the United States; we believe in the declaration of independence; we believe in the love of liberty is born in the human breast, and that, possessing its fruits ourselves through more than a century of trial and temptation, we cannot deny them to others." Thus spoke Chairman Webster Huntington at the opening of the Ohio democratic state convention which met at Columbus yesterday, and at the close, to illustrate democratic faith by its works, a squad of twenty police was sent for and ordered to "clear the aisles, knock down those who would not sit down, and compel the disturbers to be silent."

It is very evident that John Phillips was not the only man in The Dalles who sells whiskey to Indians. Yesterday morning as Alex. McIntosh, Sr., of Paulina, was coming to town and had reached a farm house on the other side of Five Mile, he found three drunken Indians threatening the wife of the farmer, who was not at home. The lady appealed to Mr. McIntosh for protection, and when that gentleman ordered the Siwashes to move on, one of them pointed a six shooter in his face and ordered him to move on. Mr. McIntosh was unarmed and had to obey or take the chance of losing his life. How the lady got rid of the Indians we could not learn.

Louie Comini, of this city, went to Portland Tuesday morning to consult an oculist in regard to treatment for his right eye. Last Saturday while using a steel chisel a small piece flew off and struck the sight of the eye. This was removed and Mr. Comini thought the eye would be all right, and so continued to work. On Monday it became so painful that he was compelled to quit work and seek further relief. He consulted Dr. E. C. Brown, of Portland, who found an infected ulcer on the sight of the right eye and sent Mr. Comini to St. Vincent's hospital. It will be about two weeks before the eye is well enough to use again. Any one needing stone work will do well to wait until Mr. Comini returns, or to call at the shop, where Mr. Wicks or Mr. Comini can always be found. Mr. Comini needs the work very much now and will be very reasonable with any one giving him work. Patronize home industry and a taxpayer.

GENERAL NEWS.

A Woodburn hop man is the father of twins born last week. An exchange says he named the boy Mark and the girl Hannah.

A. E. Reamer, a son-in-law of Thos. Tongue, and a strong Bryan man, was elected district attorney of the first district on the democratic ticket by a good majority.

Speaking of his vote for representative the editor of the Salem Journal, who was the union nominee for representative, says: "It is hard to down a man who is a Dutchman, Christian and editor of a one cent daily."

Arthur O. Bowersox, a prominent young man of Corvallis, a brother of A. W. Bowersox, of Albany, died in Salem last Monday. Two weeks ago he was kicked in the head, causing injuries which resulted in his death. He had been taken to Salem for care and treatment.

American woolen goods are beginning to reach the markets of the world, under a tariff that protects the farmers' wool clip. Last year we exported over a million dollars worth of American woolens, and our imports of woolens were a mere trifle compared with those under the Wilson law.

The first sale of wool of the season in Heppner was made last week. R. F. Hynd sold 50,000 pounds of medium wool in two lots at twelve and thirteen cents a pound. George Felt, of Pendleton, was the buyer, and he represented Hartford, Conn., people, to which point the wool will be shipped after being baled.

According to the volume of freight handled, the Columbia Southern has struck a bonanza by extending its line as far as Shaniko, towards central Oregon, says the Telegram. Between May 15th and June 5th, since the road's completion, it handled 5,000,000 pounds of freight from outside points, and over 200 carloads of stock for outside points.

The viceroy of India, Lord Curzon, has cabled to the secretary of state for India, announcing that a good rain has fallen in southern India; that there have been scattered showers elsewhere, and that the meteorological reporter forecasts a good, but late monsoon. The hot weather, however, still prevails and the famine relief situation has not altered. There are now about 5,802,000 persons receiving relief.

Gilliam county is to have another newspaper, the Condon Republican, being a new venture, which is to be launched in about ten days. The plan has been ordered from Portland, and is to be all new and first class in every respect. The paper is backed by a large number of the wealthy republicans of the county, who have formed a stock company, of which George Dukek, S. B. Barker and J. B. Cameron are the incorporators. William Christie, the present foreman of the Condon Globe, is to have the management of the office.
