THE CHRONICLE acknowledges the courtesy of a call from Ed. Rondeau, an old-time friend from Gervais, Marion county.

Rev. D. V. Poling will preach at 11 a. m. tomorrow on "Lessons From the Life of the Baptist." There will be no evening preaching but the Young People's meeting will be held at 7 p. m.

W. W. Wilson, who has long and successfully managed the Baldwin restaurant, severed his connection with that place last night. He will probably remain here and start a restaurant of his own.

George Brown, of the Saltmarsh stockyards, while loading Indian ponies for the Linton cannery yesterday, was kicked in the face by one of them and knocked down and tramped on so that he had to be placed under the care of a physician.

From several parties who arrived here today we learn that the Antelope country had a heavy rain last night. From others we learn that Sherman, Gilliam and Morrow counties were similarly favored. The precipitation, in greater or less degree, seems to have been general over the inland Empire.

Remember, the New York Cash Store is the sole agent for the Hamilton Brown Shoe Co.'s famous shoes for men, women and children. Be sure and see our line before purchasing. We can save you money. We have no old stock to work off, but are offering new, neat, nobby footwear. No trouble to show goods.

At a mass meeting of the citizens of The Dalles, held in the court house last night Hon. E. B. Dufur was nominated for mayor and C. J. Cradall for city treasurer. The voters of the several wards will meet tonight to nominate candidates for councilmen. The voters of the First ward will meet in the county court room; those of the Second ward in the circuit court room, and those of the Third ward in the council chamber. The First ward, it may be well to explain, comprises all that part of the city lying north of Third street. The Second ward comprises all east of Court street and north of Third. The Third ward comprises all west of Court and south of Third.

Wm. Cates has just returned from the Rusk soda and mineral springs, on the Big Klickitat, where he went to take his father, John Cates, in the hope that the water would benefit him. In a day or two after their arrival Mr. Cates felt beneficial effects. These springs have for some time been a Mecca for Klickitat's sufferers from stomach, kidney and bladder troubles, and are becoming quite noted. Already they have made remarkable cures, and will do a greater amount of good since they have changed hands and will be kept in good condition. The camping grounds are fine, and have a good road leading to them. Fishing is first-class, and Mr. Cates brought home some fine looking trout, some of which were fifteen inches long.

"Lish" Is All Night.

A Salem dispatch in yesterday's Telegram says:

"Lish" Hunsaker, a middle-aged man who has lived in Salem a long time, started for Hood River May 14th and has not yet reached that place nor been heard from by his friends here. He was seen in Portland, but his movements since are unknown. He had about $50 with him and was not a drinking man.

"Lish" left The Dalles a couple of days ago after spending about a week at the Unatilla House. He worked for a while for D. F. Ketchum. Where he went when he left here we have not been able to learn; but his friends need have no uneasiness concerning him. He was an odd looking genius, but not a whit odder looking than lots of other Willamette valley folks. He took good care of himself while here and seemed abundantly able to continue to do so.

Notice.

GENERAL NEWS.

Captain Omsby, of the Cascade Forest reserve, says there will be no grazing in Bull Run reserve.

It is said that a bill to provide for the use of voting machines in this state will be introduced in the next legislature.

If you took your little tooter and then lay aside your horn, there's not a soul in ten short days who'll know that you were born.

Every cottage at Yaquina Bay is said to be rented for the summer, says the Albany Democrat. A fact that indicates that this is to be a hot season.

"Poor old benighted Oregon is joined to her idols," says a Bryanite organ in the wilds of Yakima. "She had a golden opportunity to redeem herself in the recent election and shake off the little ring of republican politicians in Portland that for years have clung to her back like barnacle, and absolutely controlled her destiny; but she failed to do it. Political virtue is indeed at a low ebb in the land of web feet. Poor old Oregon!"

O. Kinersly, of The Dalles, representative of the Blake-McFall Co., of Portland, was in the city Saturday, says the Arlington Independent. Mr. Kinersly reports that the two boats under construction at Portland for the Dalles-Celilo portage road are almost completed and that a ton of lead has been received for the painting of one and a half ton for the other. It is the opinion of Mr. Kinersly that the portage road is the salvation of the inland country lying back of us. Encouragement to the portage road is the surest means of getting just traffic reduction on our freight. It is reported on good authority that the O. R. & N. has decided to make a big cut in the rate, the information coming through E. E. Lytle, of the Columbia Southern.

J. A. Cook was in from John R. Bird's camp, on the east fork of Hood River, Tuesday, says the Glacier. He reports several accidents in the logging camp. Last week William Wheeler got his foot cut with an axe. Oliver Richardson's arm was badly cut by a cross-cut saw. R. B. Lindsay was hurt three weeks ago by the limb of a tree falling on him. Archie Perce was hurt in the same way at about the same time, and after he came back to work his hand was cut so that his thumb will be permanently stiffened. Bird's camp is putting in a big lot of logs. They have the river about full above and below the county bridge. Mr. Bird has just finished blasting out an old landmark known as Cougar Rock. Will Wheeler superintended the blasting.
