GENERAL NEWS.

The Menzonites, at one of their settlements in Pennsylvania, recently elected a pastor by lottery. There were ten candidates and ten bibles were placed on a table before them. One contained a slip of paper, and the preacher who selected this one was duly chosen.

Father Joseph Joset, of Desmet Mission, for fifty years identified with missionary work of the Jesuits among Cour d'Alene and other Northwestern Indians, died at the mission June 19th. He was 90 years old and the last of the band of missionaries of whom Father Desmet was the leader. He came from Europe in 1840.

A New York man has a coat which is interesting from its long tail to the tailor's band on the collar. It is a wedding dress coat which belonged to his grandfather, and it was made by Andrew Johnson, afterward president of the United States. At the back of the coat, under the collar, is a little clip of cloth marked "A. Johnson, Tailor."

Three male babies were born to Professor H. E. Brode and wife at their home in Walla Walla Tuesday morning, says the Milton Eagle. Mr. Brode is one of the instructors in Whitman college, the professor of biology, "the science of life, which pretains to the destruction of animals and plants." The professor appears to be sharing in the "distribution" to a considerable extent.

When Charles Dudley Warner was editor of the Hartford Press, back in the 60s, arousing the patriotism of his state by his energetic appeals, one of the type-setters came in from the composing room one day and, facing Mr. Warner, said: "Mr. Warner, I've decided to enlist in the army." With mingled emotions of pride and responsibility, Mr. Warner replied that it pleased him that the man felt the call to duty. "Oh, it isn't that," said the truthful compositor, "but I'd rather be shot than set your copy."

The following telegram was handed in for delivery at the postoffice at Chepstow, England: "Going to Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerchwyllgogoch; shall be home by 4:30." The postmaster, thinking that there was more than a fair penn'orth of consonants in the name, referred it to his surveyor, who wrote back: "It is an attempt at the name of a village in Anglesey, but is evidently not written by a Welshman; the spelling is incorrect, and, but for the joke of the thing, the ordinary abbreviation—Llanfairpwll—would have been better. The full name correctly written I give below—Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerchwyllgogoch." "The general opinion of her majesty, Queen Victoria, was curiously put by an old Scotchwoman who heard that an estate in Fife had gone to the crown for want of heirs. "Weel," she said, "it might hae gaun a waur gate, for the queen's a rare deservin' body." Only as "the crown" on these occasions means merely the exchequer, the Scotchwoman would probably have thought that the estate had "gaun a waur gate" if she had known that her majesty would derive no benefit whatever from it.

Strange to say, Senator Bailey of

Her Husband's Story

"My name is E. J. Sprong, and my address is 16 Bondman Block, Troy, N. Y. I want to tell how thankful I am that my wife's health has been restored to her. About a year ago she caught a dreadful cold, which settled in her bronchial tubes and lungs. She certainly had bronchitis, and I think consumption, too, and we departed of her life. She had a tightness and soreness in the chest, and it was difficult for her to breathe. There were darts, sharp, dull and heavy pains, with constant coughing and expectoration. Each day she was worse than the day before. I was advised to get Acker's English Remedy, and did so, but my wife only shook her head and said: 'Another dollar thrown away.' She took the Remedy, however, and said the effect was magical. In less than an hour there was a remarkable change. She got better at once, and in a short time she was entirely well and strong again. The cure was permanent and there has been no relapse. I don't know what Acker's English Remedy is made of, but I am sure it contains something that fortifies the system against future attacks. My wife is in better general health now than ever, and you can't imagine how happy she is for her recovery. She tells everybody about Acker's English Remedy, and so do I, for I believe it to be our duty to the public to help every sufferer who has throat and lung troubles. My neighbors say it is a sure specific for croup, and has saved the lives of hundreds of little ones around in this vicinity alone."

JOHN PASHEK, Merchant Tailor, Agent.

Texas, who is such a hero with the sentimental women frequenters of the house galleries, is not a favorite with the men visitors. One day last winter his dramatic conclusion to a rather long-winded speech elicited from a gray-haired man in the second row of the members' gallery the ejaculation: "Too bad, too bad!" "What's too bad?" asked his companion. "It's too bad," replied the venerable auditor, "that the Lord Almighty when He made that roaring Texan should have used up so much material in fashioning his thorax that he had nothing left for his brains."
