

BOILS AND CARBUNCLES

These unwelcome visitors usually appear in the spring or summer, when the blood is making an extra effort to free itself from the many impurities that have accumulated during the winter months.

Baneful Boils

Dangerous Carbuncles

Mr. R. M. Pratt, Cave, S. C., writes: "For twenty years I was sorely afflicted with boils and carbuncles caused by impure blood. It is impossible to describe my suffering; part of the time being unable to work or sleep. Several doctors treated me, and I tried all the so-called blood remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good. During the summer of 1884 I was persuaded to try S. S. S., and after taking several bottles was entirely cured, and have had no return of these painful pests up to the present time."

building up the blood and ridding the system of all accumulated waste matter. S. S. S. is made of roots and herbs which act directly on the blood, and all poisons, no matter how deep-seated, are soon overcome and driven out by this powerful purely vegetable medicine.

S. S. S. is not a new, untried remedy, but for fifty years has been curing all kinds of blood and skin diseases. It has cured thousands, and will cure you. It is a pleasant tonic as well as blood purifier—improves the appetite and digestion, builds up your general health and keeps your blood in order.

Our physicians have made blood and skin diseases a life study—write them fully about your case, and any information or advice wanted will be cheerfully given. BORN.

July 1st, to Mr. and Mrs. Tim Evans, of Eight-Mile, a son.

JUDGE O. N. DENNY DEAD.

Facts Concerning His Life, Which Was an Eventful One.

Judge O. N. Denny died suddenly Saturday afternoon at Long Beach of a general breaking down of his health. He had an encounter with a savage bull about two years ago, which affected his nerves in a serious manner, and he never fully recovered from the shock. A year ago he suffered a paralytic stroke and has since been gradually failing in health. In the hope that a change might benefit him he went with his wife to Long Beach at the beginning of June. While he seemed at times to gain strength, his condition was never very hopeful, and the end, though sudden, was not unexpected.

Judge Denny had long been prominent in political life. He spent many years as a representative of the United States government in China, and while consul-general at Shanghai, introduced into Oregon the ring-necked pheasant, a Monzolian game bird, which is now the principal inland bird in Oregon and Washington, and by common consent of sportsmen has been given the name of Denny pheasant.

Judge Denny was a man of much ability and of high character, and his death will be deeply mourned by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

O. N. Denny was born in Beverly, O., September 4, 1838. His father was a Virginian and his mother was a Massachusetts woman and a direct descendant of the colonists who came over in the Mayflower. His parents immigrated to Oregon in 1852, and settled in Lebanon, their son receiving his education in the Lebanon academy and the Willamette University. He read law with Amory Holbrook and Joseph Wilson, and soon after his admission to the bar removed to The Dalles, where he was appointed and afterward elected judge of Wasco county.

He removed to Portland about 1864, and was elected police judge, a position which he held for four years, and resigned to accept from President Grant the appointment of collector of internal revenue for Oregon and Alaska.

In 1870 he was appointed United States consul to Amoy, China, but declined the position. In 1877 he was appointed United States consul to Tien Tsin, and in 1880 was promoted to the position of consul-general at Shanghai.

After serving four years he resigned and returned to Portland, but had not been there long before he received a cablegram from Li Hung Chang, on behalf of the King of Corea, inviting him to Seoul. He accepted the invitation, and on his arrival there was made foreign adviser to the king, at a salary of $12,000 a year. He held this position four or five years, and returned to Portland early in the '90s. He was made receiver of the Portland Savings bank shortly after his arrival, but after serving three years resigned, and since that time devoted himself to looking after his several farms, in which he took a deep interest.

In two days time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs. Curtis Baker, Brookwater, Ohio.
