

For President—
WILLIAM M'KINLEY, of Ohio.
For Vice-President—
THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
of New York.

CLERGYMEN FOR EXPANSION.

The opponents of expansion are assuming that the conscience of the nation is against retention of the Philippines; that the whole course of President McKinley's administration on that question is dictated by sordid commercialism. Thus the Kansas City platform asserts that "the greedy commercialism which dictates the Philippine policy of the republican administration attempts to justify it with the plea that it will pay;" and Carl Schurz exclaims, "Why don't they dare to discuss the moral aspect of the imperialistic policy if they feel themselves in the right?"

If it were true that the moral sense of the supporters of expansion had been strangled by their greed for commerce, it would follow that the pulpit would be thundering against it, says the Review. It is not, and an extensive canvass just made by the New York Herald shows that a large majority of the ministers who were consulted were for expansion. Through its correspondents, the Herald submitted the question to fifty men in each of fifteen large cities—ten men in each of five groups—namely, business men, clergymen, lawyers, physicians, and laboring men. One hundred and sixteen clergymen were interviewed. Thirty two were opposed to expansion, sixty were for it, and twenty-four (chiefly Roman Catholic) were non-committal. Clergymen were interviewed in Atlanta, Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Denver, Galveston, Memphis, Milwaukee, New Orleans, New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Savannah, St. Louis, and St. Paul, reflecting the moral view of the question in every section of the Union.

All told the Herald obtained the views of 726 persons; 324 were for expansion, 333 were opposed, and 69 were non-committal. Of the business men, 94 were for and 61 against; lawyers, 54 for, 73 against; physicians, 74 for, 43 against; clergy, 60 for, 32 against; and laboring men, 34 for and 111 against. Apparently, the laboring men of the country are strong against expansion, fearing that their labor would be brought in conflict with the cheap labor of the islands, and apparently losing sight of the fact that at this moment the Philippines are free to enter the United States, and always have been, as also are the teeming millions of India. But they don't come. However, the opposition of the workingmen is based on grounds of expediency. It is when the clergymen are consulted that we obtain the opinions based on moral grounds and the sentiment is strong for the retention of the islands.

The three most important declarations of the republican national platform to the people of Oregon and the Pacific coast are these: (1) "We renew our faith in the policy of protection to American labor; (2) "The national defense and naval efficiency of this country, moreover, supply a compelling reason for legislation which will enable us to recover our former place among the trade-carrying fleets of the world; and (3) "We favor the construction, ownership, control, and protection of an isthmian canal by the government of the United States."

The misfortune suffered by the United States' crack battle-ship, the Oregon, will give sorrow to the country. Its journey half way around the world during the Spanish war and its service in the battle of Santiago has given it a prominent place in history. Probably it was, at the time when it figured in those events, the most effective war vessel possessed by any country in the world. The United States has several vessels of the type of the Oregon, and some of them are more modern in their design or equipment. We have no ship, however, which has a greater name, and the damage which it has suffered will be a cause of sincere regret all over the country. There is a chance that the Oregon will still be able to do good work in the war in China if the services of any American naval vessels is needed.—Globe Democrat.

Admiral Dewey says he would not accept the second place on the Kansas City ticket. He will be glad not to have first place when he reads the platform.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs. Curtis Baker, Brookwater, Ohio. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton.

A Difficult Problem.

It is among the most difficult problems of natural science for one to become expert in several lines. J. E. Adcox & Co., by their combination, have overcome this difficulty in a practical manner. J. E. Adcox is an expert watchmaker and is good on jewelry, optical work and engraving, while Theo. H. Lieber is an expert optician and is good on watch repairing, jewelry work and engraving. Their price is as low as consistent with good workmanship. They are prepared to do all work in their several lines, on short notice. Work sent by mail or express will receive prompt attention. Sign "Big Red Watch."
