THE MONEY QUESTION.

The free-and-unlimited-coinageof-silver plank in the Democratic platform adopted in Kansas City is as prominent as any one in that declaration of principles, and it is a wellknown fact that Mr. Bryan would not have accepted the nomination for president without the convention pay all liabilities of said firm. unequivocally endorsed his views on the money question. This is a nut for the gold Democrats to erack, for finance, and if they swallow the pill compounded by the Kanses City con- throat and lung troubles. Curesquickly. vention they swallow the 16-to-1 comage ratio the same as the antitrust and anti-imperialism ingredients ing this issue in the next campaign. tion at H. Glenn & Co.'s. Notwithstanding the fact that by an overwhelming majority the American people four power of resurrection, it has been 1900. dug out of its dishonered grave, and now, with its grave clothes on, it is pushed again into prominence to do meet its usual fate at the polls in those who are worth the hiring need Liebe is an expert optician and is good November.

If Democratic editors and Democratic leaders are honest in their assertions that this is a dead issue, and that other questions of vital importance will be the leading ones in by Clarke & Falk, druggists. jan24 6w Watch. the coming presidential campaign, why was it incorporated in the plat. Don't forget this. form, and why was the apostle of free silver, Mr. Bryan, chosen to fresh and complete. lead the hosts this fall? These questions must be answered on the stump, and it is advisable for all gold standard Democrats who have returned to the old party to consider, if by voting for Bryan they are not stultifying themselves and support ing a national candidate and a national platform which are diametrically opposed to their honest, conscientious opinions?

If the powers should partition China, the United States may not want any share of the territory; but our commercial interests should be carefully guarded, and we should join with England in demanding an open door for our products. It is time enough to consider this question. and the most important one at present is the relief of the legations at Pekin and the punishment of the Boxers for their outrageous treatment of foreigners. As Americans we respect our flag, and desire its protecting influence over all citizens wherever they may be. American missionaries have been murdered, and our minister at Pekin grossly mistreated. China must make reparation for these outrages, and an American army will see that this is done speedily. In this we have a common cause with England, Germany, France and other nations, and when the walls of Pekin are scaled American valor will be as conspicuous as that of any other nation. We may not believe in land-grabbing, but we do believe in the sacred immunity of the life and property of American citizens wherever they may be.

The condition of the legations in Pekin is still shrouded in mystery. and those acquainted with the situation expect when the gates of the capitol of China are opened to the relieving forces of Europeans and Japanese, or when authentic news is received, the horrors of Cawapore, in comparison, will be mild and almost mercitul. It is terrible to think of the fate of the women and children, left almost defenseless, to the fury of these fanatical and merciless Asiatics. There will be a terrible reckoning with these Chinese; but this will not assuage the grief of relatives and friends, or mitigate the awful fate that befell mothers, wives and daughters during the hellish
