The Crook County Cloudburst.

Speaking of the cloudburst which occurred on Cherry creek, June 23d, and referred to in yesterday's CHRONICLE, Mr. Shrum says:

A funnel shaped cloud appeared at the head of the creek. This cloud kept swaying from east to west like an enormous balloon, from 9 o'clock in the morning until about 11, when the mighty storm burst. Calling to my sons I warned them. The boys were just beginning to cut the first crop of alfalfa on the lower meadow, having gone about ten rounds. The roar of the hail up the creek, twelve miles away, could then be heard, and the men left for shelter with the horses. In a shorter time than it takes to tell, the avalanche of water, rocks and logs struck the first ranch, clearing out everything. Then on down the creek it came, covering every alfalfa meadow with sand, and all the other debris that comes with a flood. At 11 o'clock on the morning of June 23d, I had 500 tons of growing alfalfa fit for the sickle. At 12 o'clock I had nothing. About $5000 worth of hay, several hundred bushels of apples, grapes and other fruit, all the potatoes and garden truck, every pane of glass in four houses, a couple of wagons, a mowing-machine, etc., went to join the great majority of flotsam and jetsam, that will strew the bank of the John Day and Columbia, from the mouth of Cherry creek to the sea.

Nor is Mr. Shrum the only sufferer. James Wagner, Mrs. Good and James Connelly also have had every vestige of their crops destroyed, and the usual damage done. Connelly in particular was badly damaged. He had just purchased a fine alfalfa ranch above his home place from Pat Fagan, for $5000. After the watery ruin came, the place could be valued at $25. Mr. Connelly's home ranch, the finest to be found amongst the many fertile bottoms of the John Day, was also badly damaged, covered with sand to a depth of three or four feet. Curiously no dwelling house was swept away in the rush, although Warner's had a narrow escape, the creek bed being washed until it now forms a bank twenty feet sheer, with the house on the edge.

THE HOME WEDDING.

What to Do When the Nuptial Ceremony is Celebrated at Home.

For the home wedding the house is made bright with flowers. The mother and sisters of the bride receive the guests. The father first appears when he enters the room with his daughter. As the hour strikes the clergyman takes his place, facing the company, followed by the bridegroom and his best man, who stand at his left, awaiting the bride. Two ushers mark off an aisle with broad white ribbons, attaching them at the ends, and they precede the rest of the bridal party, who enter at the furthest corner of the room. The bridesmaid or maids follow the ushers, and the bride comes last with her father. Or, the ushers may precede the best man and the one bridesmaid, and the bride and bridegroom follow. At a house wedding they often have no attendants and rarely any music. At the conclusion of the service the clergyman congratulates the bride and bridegroom and then retires. They then turn to be greeted, first by their parents, next by the members of the two families and near relatives, afterwards by every one present. All wish them happiness. Refreshments are served in the dining-room, and may be simple or elaborate, as one chooses.—Ladies' Home Journal.

SUMMONS.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE of Oregon, for Wasco County.

Mrs. Kate Hastings, Plaintiff, vs.

Donald M. Hastings, Defendant.

To Donald M. Hastings, the above-named defendant:

In the Name of the state of Oregon, You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before the 16th day of July, 1900, and if you do not, for want thereof the plaintiff will take judgment against you and will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in her complaint, to-wit, for a decree of divorce from you, the said defendant, Donald M. Hastings.

This summons is served upon you by publication, by order of the court, made on the 8th day of June, 1900, which said order directs that this summons be served upon you by publication thereof for six consecutive weeks in THE DALLES WEEKLY CHRONICLE, a newspaper published in said Wasco county, that the first publication be made on the 6th day of June, 1900, and that the defendant be required to appear and answer the complaint on or before the 16th day of July, 1900, said date being the last day of the time prescribed for the said publication.

The date of the first publication of this summons is June 6, 1900.

W. H. WILSON,
Attorney for Plaintiff.
