

Regular Prices Cut Deeply and Remorselessly.

Only one thought is behind this TRADE-COMPELLING SALE, and that is, to make prices that will sweep everything before them like an Alpine avalanche; so we print in big letters the small prices, so every eye will be enchanted by them:—

$3.85, $5.85, $6.85,
$9.85, $10.85, $12.85

Your choice of $6.50, $7.50,
$10, $12.50, $15 and $20

...SUMMER SUITS...

Yes, repeat it; let the prices burn in your memory, for the regular prices on the suits ranged from $6.50 to $20; but the big business this season so cut into the regular lines that we have gathered together all the broken lots, and said with a thought of present profits or anything else but a quick riddance:—

$3.85, $5.85, $6.85,
$9.85, $10.85, $12.85

These are all sizes of stylish Summer Suits of worsteds, cassimeres, oxfords, chevots, serge and striped flannel. Every suit is sewed with pure dye silk, and all have pure mohair serges and Farmer's satin lining.

Come today; come instantly, and get at a ridiculous price a Summer Suit that'll give you a season of splendid service—for remember:

"What we say we do, we DO do."

Hot sale—next Saturday—at A. M. Williams & Co's.

Ladies' tan oxfords—sizes 3 to 5—only 50 cents at the New York Cash Store.

The gain of tonnage visiting Pacific coast ports in May this year over that of the same month of 1899 was 90,998.

About 27,500 tons of tin plates are used on the Pacific coast yearly in canning salmon.

Dick Hinkle arrived in town yesterday with 10,000 pounds of wool belonging to John Devine, of Izza, Crook county.

Every woman in town will be there next Saturday. Where? At A. M. Williams & Co's. What's the reason? Side waists worth to $2.50 for 90c.

Mr. Jos. T. Peters received a telegram today from Baltimore advising him of the death of his mother at that place yesterday at the advanced age of 86 years.

The Yakima Wool Growers' Association has begun holding regular semi-monthly sales days at North Yakima, Wash. At the first sale 350 bales of wool sold to a San Francisco firm for 11 1/2 cents.

Early Monday morning the postoffice at Wallain was broken into and robbed of about $35 in cash. A store in the same room was also relieved of several pounds of tobacco, and other articles were also taken.

Regard D. Grant's party of Boston tourists arrived on last night's boat and spent the day visiting the sights of the city and its surroundings. The party from California failed to connect but are expected later on.

A couple of years ago two Olympia marsh farmers drove a few piles to protect a fish trap location. They recently were paid $100,000, this being the balance of $142,000, the price they asked for their fishing "claim."

Frank Malone, of Antelope, was naturalized this morning by Judge Bradshaw. He came to the United States in 1850 and took out his full citizen papers in 1865, but had lost them, and like many others, found it easier to take out full citizen papers a second time than to get a certified copy of the original papers.

Hot weather suggestions—Alpaca coats, alpaca coats and vests, linen crash coats, crash suits, skeleton lined coats and vests, light weight blue serge coats and vests, white duck trousers, striped flannel coat and pants. The new thing. Any of the above mentioned are just the things for this hot weather and Pease & Mays are selling at actual cost. See windows.

Lizzie Wakerking, a child of 11 years, was brought to town last night by her parents from Boyd to have a finger attended to by Dr. Geisendorffer. The girl was playing yesterday afternoon with other children around a header, and at a time when the middle finger of her right hand was on the edge of the sickle and between the guards, a playmate gave the sickle a jerk that severed the finger near the middle joint.

At 3:30 this afternoon the thermometer in front of Blakeley's drug store, in the shade of the awning, stood at an even hundred degrees. Another inside stood at 92. The wind all day has been from the east, which makes the heat of the more oppressive. This paragraph is written for the special comfort of Dallesites who are camped by cool mountain streams or by the blessed sea waves.

Two wolves once spied a lamb which had strayed from the flock. "It is mine," said one. "No, mine," said the other, and while disputing the lamb once more came under the eye of the watchful shepherd dog. Moral—It is not well to let a good thing slip while engaged in idle effort, and those negligence and golf shirts that Pease & Mays are selling for 50 cents are nearly all gone. Regular price 75, 85 and $1. Just the thing for the holidays.

Andrew Ganger, of Crate's Point, was thrown from a wagon yesterday and received severe cuts and bruises over the eyes and face. While on his way home from The Dalles, and at a point opposite the Klindt place, a wheel came off the wagon and Mr. Ganger was thrown violently to the ground. The team ran far enough to wreck the wagon into splinters and finally ran up against a bluff of rocks, which stopped their progress. Mr. Ganger is over 70 years of age; but his injuries, though painful, are not thought to be serious.

A friend of THE CHRONICLE writes us from Collins Landing to say that the Collins' hot spring have just been opened and that the accommodations are all that could be desired. Among those now there are Wm. Hendrichs, ex-governor of Sherman county, Attorney J. B. Hooford and L. K. Moore of Moro, and W. H. Ragsdale, school superintendent of Sherman county. A sad accident occurred at the sawmill near there Sunday afternoon, when Aggie Frost, about fourteen years of age, was drowned in the lake. She with several other children were playing in an old boat and left it for the saw-logs, from which they slipped into the water.

A little after 1 o'clock today word was received at the office of the Oregon Telephone Company that a fire was raging, supposedly in the wheat fields of Sherman county, in the neighborhood of the Woodworth ranch near Wasco. So great was the smoke and flame that inquiries were made from Centerville in Klickitat county, and from Rufus on the Columbia, asking if The Dalles was not on fire. A mass meeting was held at Wasco to organize all the able bodied men in the town to go and fight the fire. A later message from Wasco said the indications were that the fire was this side the Deschutes. The smoke was plainly visible from here, and some people with a keen sense of smell said they could distinguish the smell of burning straw. The engineer on the noon west-bound passenger train reported that a big fire was raging in the Walla Walla valley as he passed through this morning. People said it had already destroyed 1000 acres of standing grain, but to the engineer it appeared as if five times that amount had been destroyed.

Latest News From China.

The latest report of the foreigners in Peking is that they have taken refuge in Prince Ching's palace. The state department at Washington has received a dispatch from Consul-General Fowler at Che Foo saying the governor of Shan Tung wired that his courier left Peking July 9th. The foreigners were still holding out.

In the capture of the native city of Tien Tsin by the allies, the foreigners lost over 700 killed and wounded, the Japanese being the heaviest losers.

Serious friction is again reported to exist between the allies, and Japan delays the forwarding of reinforcements.

Germany, Russia and France have come to an agreement regarding future action in China. Russia will carry on a separate campaign against Peking from the north.

The Chinese troops that invaded Amur are concentrating on the railway line between Algon and Saghalien.

The Chinese empress is alleged to have proposed to Japan a wholesale massacre of foreigners in both countries. Li Hung Chang is said to have been implicated in the affair.

Sheridan Cannon Ball.

Colonel L. L. Hawkins, of Portland, has secured a prize for the city museum in an eighteen-pound cannon ball, which, under the personal direction of General (then Lieutenant) Philip H. Sheridan, was fired at the marauding Yakima Indians when they besieged the blockhouse at the Cascades in the spring of 1856. After several stations had been relieved by Colonel Steptoe and Colonel Wright with their troops, the blockhouse was invested, and Sheridan, with forty regulars and ten volunteers, went to its aid on the steamer Belle. He landed on the Washington side, opposite Bonneville, and there met between 300 and 400 Indians, who drove his troops some distance and killed one of his men. As the Indians carefully concealed themselves in the timber, Sheridan opened up on them with his single cannon, and sent ball after ball crashing through the trees.

Of all the balls fired, only two were ever found. One was picked up years afterwards, but what became of it is not known. The second was found by John Baughman, a son of the pioneer navigator, near where the fight occurred. Baughman lives in Washington, opposite Bonneville. For some years he kept the ball in his house as a relic of the war of '56, but a few days ago he allowed Colonel Hawkins to take it and place it on exhibition in Portland.

The Best Remedy for Stomach and Bowel Troubles.

"I have been in the drug business for twenty years and have sold most all of the proprietary medicines of any note. Among the entire list I have never found anything to equal Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles," says O. W. Wakefield, of Columbus, Ga. "This remedy cured two severe cases of cholera morbus in my family and I have recommended and sold hundreds of bottles of it to my customers to their entire satisfaction. It affords a quick and sure cure in a pleasant form." For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs. Curtis Baker, Brookwater, Ohio. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton.

After many intricate experiments, scientists have discovered methods for obtaining all the natural digestants. These have been combined in the proportion found in the human body and united with substances that build up the digestive organs, making a compound called Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and allows all dyspeptics to eat plenty of nourishing food while the stomach troubles are being radically cured by the medicinal agents it contains. It is pleasant to take and will give quick relief.

A Good Cough Medicine.

Many thousands have been restored to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. If afflicted with any throat or lung trouble, give it a trial for it is certain to prove beneficial. Coughs that have resisted all other treatment for years, have yielded to this remedy and perfect health been restored. Cases that seemed hopeless, that the climate of famous health resorts failed to benefit, have been permanently cured by its use. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.
