Several cows have died recently at Wasco, and there seems to be a general idea among the farmers that there is something wrong with the pasteurized milk from the farmers' cooperative. A special agent appointed by the state of Oregon to examine the pasteurized milk has been sent to Wasco. It is expected soon. It is said that there have been several cases of milk poisoning in the last few weeks. The milk from the farmers' cooperative is being examined by the state agent. It is expected that the results of the examination will be known soon.

A notice was issued by the Oregon State Board of Agriculture yesterday, ordering all farmers to cease using the state-grown feed. The board also ordered all farmers to cease using any feed that is not approved by the state board.
