

BOILS AND CARBUNCLES

These unwelcome visitors usually appear in the spring or summer, when the blood is making an extra effort to free itself from the many impurities that have accumulated during the winter months.

Mr. R. M. Pratt, Cave, S. C., writes: "For twenty years I was sorely afflicted with boils and carbuncles caused by impure blood. It is impossible to describe my suffering; part of the time being unable to work or sleep. Several doctors treated me, and I tried all the so-called blood remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good. During the summer of 1888 I was persuaded to try S. S. S., and after taking several bottles was entirely cured, and have had no return of these painful pests up to the present time."

building up the blood and ridding the system of all accumulated waste matter. S. S. S. is made of roots and herbs which act directly on the blood, and all poisons, no matter how deep-seated, are soon overcome and driven out by this powerful purely vegetable medicine. S. S. S. is not a new, untried remedy, but for fifty years has been curing all kinds of blood and skin diseases. It has cured thousands, and will cure you. It is a pleasant tonic as well as blood purifier—improves the appetite and digestion, builds up your general health and keeps your blood in order. Our physicians have made blood and skin diseases a life study—write them fully about your case, and any information or advice wanted will be cheerfully given. We make no charge whatever for this service. Send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases—free. Address, The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Dangerous Carbuncles

Keep the blood pure, and it will keep the skin clear of all the irritating impurities that cause these painful, disfiguring diseases. S. S. S. cures boils and carbuncles easily and permanently by reinforcing, purifying and

The Dalles Daily Chronicle.
WE ARE RICH IN GEMS
Every Kind But One Is Found in the United States.

This Country Has Never Taken Its Proper Place Among the Nations That Produce Precious Stones.

The United States have never taken their proper place among the gem-producing countries, principally, it would appear, because of the superior gains offered in the metal mines, says the Brooklyn Eagle. Patient and skillful working of the gem mines, however, would appear to promise as well as many of the metal industries. There are in Montana sapphires of beauty and value. True, they are light in color, but they have more brilliancy than the Asian sapphires, and often exhibit dichroism, or double color, under different lights. The supposition that a sapphire should be dark blue is possibly responsible for the slowness of their acceptance in the market, but, as a matter of fact, sapphires are not of necessity blue; they are green, yellow, purple, white, and when they are red we call them rubies, for the ruby and sapphire are identically the same, save for a fraction of a percent of the coloring matter.

Every gem known to the lapidary has been found within our borders, except that form of chrysoberyl known as alexandrite, a stone most commonly found in the Urals, and showing green by day and red by artificial light. We have also found but few of the carboled garnets of which Russia furnishes such remarkable and beautiful examples, and none have their brilliancy, though the red garnets of Arizona and contiguous territory are unsurpassed in richness. We have several gems, moreover, that are almost peculiar to this country, and that should be used more extensively because of their intrinsic beauty. Such are the golden beryls of Connecticut, that are of a brilliant yellow, full of light and sparkle, and the curious chlorastrolites and thomsonites of Lake Superior, that are useful as green or mottled grounds in the making of designs.

Among the lesser known but interesting and often beautiful minerals that are found in this country and that lend themselves to purposes of ornament are the grassgreen hiddenite, the superior of emerald in vivacity; the duller green diopside, the utahite, which is a rival of turquoise, if it can be made to keep its color and texture; the zircon, of red and brown, and especially the tourmaline, which presents a wide range of color, from jet black to almost water white, and including pink, brown, blue and almost every shade of green. These tourmalines are more appreciated abroad than they are at home, and whereas we buy sapphires and rubies from Burma, and diamonds from Africa, and topazes from Japan and Brazil, and turquoises from Persia, we remain seemingly indifferent to the gems that come from Maine and Connecticut. Collectors have known them for years, however, and have prized them at their value. Many of the crystals show two and even three colors, being red at one end and green at the other, or green without and deep pink within. Of these tourmalines $2,000 worth were mined last year at Mount Mien, Me.

Turquoise has been known to the Indians of the southwest for centuries, and there is good reason to believe that it was mined by the Aztecs. Brooklyn capital has been invested in one of the New Mexico mines, and it is said that a superior quality has been produced. There is probably no ornamental stone that is so extensively imitated. Hundreds of people are wearing what they suppose to be turquoise, but is in reality glass or enamel or a composition that closely copies its color and apparent texture, and about not fair, as the stone itself is apt to do. There has been an addition to the semi-precious stones of a new variety of garnet known as rhodolite, of a pale-rose red, but not many jewelers have been brought to the cities, and it has not appeared to any extent in jewelry. It would seem to be worth our while to work our gem deposits more thoroughly, for, according to the report for 1898 by Mr. George F. Kunz, the expert, there continues to be a profitable activity in the making of jewelry. This country has imported as much as $14,500,000 worth of gems and gem material in a single year, while the home production has always been relatively slight, albeit there is a gain. In 1898, for instance, the production of precious stones in the United States represented about $161,000, as against $300,000 in the year before, and $98,000 in the year before that. The indications are that we have mineral veins and deposits that will, when adequately worked, offer rewards far in excess of these figures.
