

Everlastingly Sawing Wood...

We mean advertising when we say "sawing wood." That's a term a celebrated adwriter gave the art some years ago. We advertise more than ever because we are receiving a larger stock than we ever had before and expect to have a larger trade than any previous season.

With us the quality of our advertising is not strained—but dropped as the gentle rain from heaven upon the place beneath; into the public mind—it twice doth service, it blesseth him who prints and him who reads. Aside from reading our ads we want you to investigate our stock and trade with us.

All the diphtheritic cases are now convalescent and no new cases have appeared, nor, let us hope, will appear.

While in Portland last Friday Ben Wilson bought of the heirs of the Walter Fish estate the lot on which the Wilson saloon is situated in the East End, with the blacksmith shop adjoining.

The $2.60 round-trip tickets to Portland for the special train leaving The Dalles at 8 a. m. Sept. 6th are now on sale at the O. R. & N. depot and Umatilla House ticket offices. Please call early for your tickets and avoid the rush.

The Grass Valley Journal says: "At the present time there is not half the grain out in southern Sherman, and it will take four or five weeks to finish the threshing. Between Grass Valley and Moro there has been considerable threshing done.

Judge Prather made a sale last week of the A. B. Jones place, consisting of twenty-five acres on Indian Creek," to Daniel F. Lamar, of Honolulu, for $2000. Mr. Lamar says he heard Hood River talked of by people in Honolulu, and he came all the way here to purchase property.—Hood River Glacier.

The assessable value of all taxable property in the city of Portland was reduced from $91,000,000 in 1892 to $29,000,000 in 1899. The '92 assessment was none too high. The '99 assessment is a barefaced swindle. As the Portland Dispatch justly remarks, the depreciation was due to a political trick of assessor. But it didn't work the way it was expected to work and it put the city in a hole and gave it a black eye into the bargain.

James Benson expressed this morning to Portland for the Wasco county exhibit at the carnival a box of peaches, one of which measured 11½ inches in circumference. They were of the Squeehanna variety and were nearly all of uniform size. If any county, save Wasco, is able to beat them we shall be surprised.

Virchow, the German scientist, says the way to live long is to "be born with a good constitution, take care of it when you are young, always have something to do and be resigned if you find that you can not accomplish all you wish." It is easier to live long with a poor constitution than to violate the other conditions and reach old age.

By using a lymph discovered by a Paris physician it is now possible, according to reports from that city, to regenerate the red globules in the blood of lepers. Dr. Metschnikoff, of the Pasteur institute, is the discoverer, and he thinks that when he has improved the serum he may be able to rejuvenate the organs of the human body.

Fifty men are employed riprapping and cementing the rock work at the locks. The work will last all winter, but the present contract will not complete the south wall. Another contract, involving the expenditure of $125,000 will be necessary to make the locks navigable in stages of moderate freshet. In its present condition, river boats are obliged to suspend travel at certain stages of flood, but the next contract will enable craft to go through the locks with the river five feet higher.

Charley Denton sold here last week thirty-three boxes of second-crop strawberries that were pronounced the equal in size and flavor of the summer berries from the same vines. They were grown on the Denton ranch, on Mill creek, and were the result of liberal irrigation after the first berries had been picked. Mr. Denton would have had double the quantity to dispose of had not a lot of boys, while fishing on Mill creek made a stolen raid on the patch. It may be added that the vines are full of blossoms as if they were set on producing a third crop.

John Burke, who for more than fifty years lived on the bank of the Columbia river, a short distance below Vancouver, is dead. Mr. Burke was 86 years of age and was one of the oldest residents of Clarke county, says the Independent. He was a native of Ireland, and when yet quite young he emigrated to Australia. From there he came to San Francisco, and in the early '40s moved to Vancouver, where he had since been engaged in farming, at which he was very successful. Mr. Burke left a wife, 85 years of age, and five children, three daughters and two sons, three of whom reside in Clarke county.

Little was done Saturday and today in the way of soliciting subscriptions for the proposed harvest carnival on account of the pressure of business on the members of the finance committee, and probably nothing will be done tomorrow as it is collection day; but an earnest effort will be made Wednesday, and the success the committee meets with will determine whether we are going to have a fair or not. As the matter now stands it must not be taken for granted that the thing is going to be held whether or no. As a matter of fact it will require more unity of action to make the fair a certainty than has yet been manifested.

Henry S. Bail died at the Umatilla House yesterday forenoon of a complication of diseases. The deceased was from Illinois and was traveling for his health. He was accompanied by his wife and had arrived here from Hood River Saturday night. A son living in Portland was telegraphed for early Sunday morning, when it became apparent that the end was near. The son arrived here at noon and had the remains taken to the undertaking parlors of Crandall & Burgett, where the body was embalmed by C. N. Burgett and prepared for shipment to Portland, where it was taken on the early morning's train. The deceased was 59 years of age.

Census returns show that the population of the country is about 75,000,000. Of the 52,000 enumeration districts, 17,000 have been counted, showing a population of 25,000,000. According to the law of averages this would indicate the population of the country to be 77,000,000. But as the count proceeds the general average of the districts falls off enough to modify the total. The figures show thirty-three per cent of the population live in towns of more than 8000 inhabitants. In 1890 it was twenty-nine per cent. In the East from Massachusetts to Pennsylvania the average will be higher. The decade just closed has been a great one for immigration.

Jap Foster, who has been living all summer in a tent in the pines with one Mrs. Dillman, to the great offense and annoyance of the neighbors, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Marshal Driver, on the complaint of a neighbor charging him with the larceny of a quantity of fire wood. When brought to the city jail and searched, the marshal found on Foster's person a roll of greenbacks and other money amounting to between $1500 and $2000, which, however, was not taken from him. Foster was arraigned in the justice court Saturday evening and the case was set for hearing tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. His bonds were fixed at $250, which he put up instantly, in gold twenties.

Lessons in Geography.

"Patrick," said the teacher, "please tell the class what a lake is." "A lake (leak), sir," answered Pat, "is a hole in a tin can."

"What is an island?" asked the teacher, addressing her interrogation to the class in geography. "An island, ma'am," replied Johnny Broadhead, a studious lad who had Porto Rico in mind, "is a body of land entirely surrounded by politics."

The Paul Mohr Portage.

A Spokane dispatch to the Oregonian says the officers of the Central Navigation Company at that place say that negotiations are under way for a sale of bonds which is expected to supply the money for complete construction. Col. I. N. Peyton, of that city, president of the company, made the following statement:

"The Spokane stockholders invested in the stock of the company just as one would invest in any business enterprise. They paid for their stock in cash. Not only that, but they have advanced out of their own pockets about $50,000 additional, for which they hold as security nothing but the note of the company. About $200,000 in cash has been expended on construction so far. It is estimated that it will take about $150,000 to clean up the debts of the company, complete construction and put the system in operation. We have put up all the money we can, or feel inclined to, and so suspend operations. A deal is pending for the sale of bonds, which may be completed soon, which will provide funds for completing the work. The road will cost nearly double what was at first estimated. There is no truth in the story that there is trouble between the president of the company and the stockholders. There has always been the utmost harmony among the local stockholders."

PERTINENT PRESS COMMENT.

The Salem Journal calls the editor of the Woodburn paper "an impoverished intellectual siwash and degenerate digger."

This is not a good time to make the American flag eat dirt. And besides there is no man big enough for the job. Democrats who contend that the money question is settled, and that there is no danger from that source, overlook the fact that Bryan's greatest desire is to unsettle it.

Wages for farm hands will be low if Bryan is elected, is one of the points of argument to be used by the democrats this fall in Umatilla county. Ha! Ha! that is one truth the democrats have discovered.—Pendleton Tribune.

Mr. Bryan put his foot in his mouth clear up to his knee when he promised to withdraw the soldiers and the authority of the United States from the Philippines, and yet extend the Monroe doctrine over the islands. That alone is enough to skin him. And yet he solemnly promises to do these things—if he is elected.—Salem Statesman.
