The body of a man was found on the bank of the river at Biggs yesterday. It was recognized as that of a man who was drowned near that place on the second instant. He had been a laborer on a work train.

At noon today an accident happened to the wheel of a car belonging to a gravel train, on the main track at Celilo, which resulted in tearing up the track for several hundred yards and delaying the west-bound passenger over an hour.

Two Indians, one from Celilo and the other from Warm Springs, got fighting drunk last night and were placed in the cooler by Marshal Driver. They were arraigned this forenoon before his honor, Judge Gates, who fined them $5 each, which they will have to work out on the streets.

The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Navigation Company has leased the steamer Gamecock to be placed on the run between here and Portland. She will be used exclusively as a freight carrier and will be in command of Captain Johnstone, who has been master of the steamer Reliance. The Gamecock was to make her first trip from Portland today.

C. N. Burgett arrived this afternoon from Shaniko with the remains of the late Francis Rose, who died suddenly of apoplexy last Sunday. The funeral will take place from the residence of Mrs. Maud Eddon, on Fourth street, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and the interment will be in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Open hostilities between the contractors and union labor were resumed Saturday in Chicago when at noon about 3000 union carpenters quit work. They demanded a half holiday Saturday. The contractors refused to accede, save during the summer. The carpenters had returned to work for the contractors under special permits from their unions, although the big building trades strike still continues, affecting 40,000 men.

Here is a bargain for any one looking for a pleasant little home in one of the most desirable locations in the city; quiet and nice neighborhood; no dust; near to school; well finished; newly painted; four-roomed house. Fine lot; bearing fruit trees; good garden spot; small barn; chicken house, etc. Party must have the money, and we are instructed to take any reasonable offer. A denizen of the tenderloin district started in to hold an Irish wake in that part of the town last night and succeeded in getting arrested by Nightwatchman Lake. She was booked as a drunk and disorderly, but as she had no money and the marshal could not well put her to work on the streets, and in the event of imprisonment would be worse than an elephant on the hands of the city authorities, she was discharged this afternoon after she had sobered up. In the shindy last night she had one of her arms badly chewed and got a pair of as handsome black eyes as you would see in a fair.

James McLane, aged 63, was roasted as a prune drier on the farm of Samuel McLane, near Philomath, last Sunday. He was alone at the drier, which he was attending. Smoke from the drier brought his brother to the scene, when the victim was found lying at the mouth of the furnace in which there was a very hot fire. He was lying on his back, and was dead. The flesh on his neck, shoulder, right breast and right side, as far as the spine and as low as the hip, was literally cooked. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death, with indications that the cause might have been an epileptic fit.

George Macey, alias Bill Davis, was arrested yesterday at La Grande under information sent from here by Marshal Driver, charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses. Last Friday Macey succeeded in obtaining $30 from Bob Hahn on a check for $88, bearing the forged name of J. T. Armstrong, who lives on the old Jensen ranch above the Indian village on the other side the river. Mr. Hahn had cashed other checks of Mr. Armstrong and supposed this one was all right. He was undeceived when he presented it at French's bank for payment. Meanwhile Macey had skipped. He was traced by Marshal Driver to Arlington, from thence to Pendleton, and from Pendleton to La Grande, where he was captured. Constable Hill went up to La Grande last night to bring Macey here for trial.

Miss Laura T. Sharp, of Salem, who has been visiting relatives at Klamath Falls, has returned home and is the possessor of a very peculiar and unusual trophy which she captured during her sojourn there. It is a two-headed snake, about fourteen inches long, of the water snake variety, perfectly developed and healthy in every way, except in the matter of the extra head. The two heads start from the neck on even terms and grow out clearly independent of each other. Sometimes they lie close together and parallel, and again they diverge to an obtuse angle. His snakeship is a great curiosity, and Miss Sharp has been offered quite a price for it.

Meade Hughes was arrested here yesterday for a crime he is alleged to have committed on the 8th of last July. On that day Hughes and another man whose whereabouts is not known drew a pistol each on a number of fellow carpenters who refused, at the bidding of Hughes and his companion, to stop work on one of the D. P. & A. N. Co's. boats because of a misunderstanding with the captain. After the alleged offense Hughes and his companion skipped the town. Hughes had no sooner returned than he found himself in the jail. He was arraigned before Justice Brownhill this morning and, on pleading not guilty, his trial was fixed for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. In default of $250 bonds Hughes was remanded to the county jail.

The play at the Vogt opera house last night was well attended and gave general satisfaction. The pity is that when we have a respectable company like the Crawfords, we have not a house fit to give an entertainment in. The acoustics of the Vogt could not be worse if it had been specially built with the sole object of having no sound or articulation heard so as to be understood. It is impossible to hear one-fourth of what is said. To three-fourths of the audience at any play the playing is simply a pantomime and nothing more. There were at one time wires strung across the building that surely mitigated the evil to some extent, but these have been taken down. The situation is such that if nothing is done to remedy the evil we complain of, players will avoid the town, or should they come, the people will avoid playing that under existing conditions it is impossible to enjoy.

At the meeting held in the council chambers last night to take measures for holding a street fair and harvest carnival in this city, some time in the opening days of October, the following gentlemen were appointed as a general committee to meet tonight at the same place and come to a final determination in the matter: R. B. Sinnott, E. C. Pease, G. C. Blakeley, H. W. French, Chas. F. Stephens, J. P. McInerney, Ben Wilson, J. M. Toomey, J. C. Hostetter, N. Wheelton, H. J. Maier,

E. Schanno, J. A. Douthit, C. L. Phillips, Chas. Key, F. W. L. Skibbe. It was the general opinion that no great difficulty will be experienced in raising the necessary funds. The committee will be pleased to have the presence and counsel of all who are interested in the matter. The committee will convene at 8 o'clock and a large attendance of members and citizens is earnestly solicited.
