MISFORTUNE CAME IN CLOUDS.

New Jersey Family Was Visited by an Extraordinary Series of Mishaps.

Francis Fielder, who lives at Turkey. a small village near New Brunswick. N. J., is wondering why misfortune is persistently pursuing him and his family, says the New York World, Recently his son Edward fell from a scaffelding at Long Branch and was so badly hart that for a long time his life was despaired of.

Then Mrs. Fielder slipped from the stoop of her home, breaking her collar bone and several ribs. The next day Mr. Fielder slipped on some loose hay and fell out of the mow. He was shaken up so badly that he had to keep in his bed for several days. Next a favorite horse died of glanders and all his live stock had to be quarantined and the outbuildings disinfected. While this was heing done a message was received from a son, at Asbury Park, announcing that he had lost a horse by theft. The younger son, Garfield, was the next vicitim of the family Nemesis. He was riding his wheel to work when he ran into a chicken and was thrown against a post, having a collar bone broken and a shoulder dislocated. Now that all the members of the family and most of the live stock have been victims of misfortunes in one way or another, Mr. Fielder hopes the fates have been satisfied and that brighter days are about to dawn.

TEN AGES OF WOMEN.

They Pass Through Stages of Seven Years and Then Await the End.

It is held by a recent writer on woman that the seven stages of her life may be reckoned as composed of multiples of seven. The first seven years are infancy, the second seven childhood, the third seven girlhood, the fourth seven brings a fully developed womanhood. From 28 to 35-the fifth seven-might be called the infancy of age, for in those years one learns to exercise the faculties and perceptions that have been developed in the previous groups, Up to the age of 42 the lessons go on. Character is being matured and fixed, the definite trend of life established. After that few changes are made in the real person. Slight variations and modifications of opinion there may be, but nothing deep or vital is likely to transform the life.

The common phrases, "a confirmed old bachelor," and "a confirmed old maid," applied to unmarried men and women over 40 are tacit admissions of that fact, intimating that mental and physical habits are so strongly rooted that the adaptability of earlier years has ceased to exist, and the person is ineapable of adjustment to a new environment. The tale goes on. Fiftysix, a sturdy middle life; 63, the encroachment of age; 70, the span of existence—the decade of sevens, beyond which lies a mere waiting for the end.
