

For President- WILLIAM M'KINLEY, Of Ohio.

For Vice-President- THEODORE ROOSEVELT, Of New York.

WORSE THAN WAR TAXES.

Some of the Bryan organs are in a state of mind on account of the war taxes and complain that the citizen is "fined" by the government:

- When he sends a telegram. When he draws a check. When he becomes a member of a corporation. When he transfers his stock. When he insures his house or his life. When he assigns his assurance. When he makes a note to raise money for the payment of other taxes. When he buys a money order. When he executes a lease. When he sends a paid telephone message. When an indemnity bond is given. When a bill of exchange is drawn. When a citizen executes an instrument necessary in the sale of merchandise on 'change. When he ships goods by freight or express. When he clears a vessel and files a manifest. When he executes a power of attorney. When he buys proprietary medicines.

When he chews gum. When he uses any perfumes or his wife indulges in cosmetics. When a note is protested. When a warehouse receipt is given. When merchandise is insured in a custom house. Well, there was a blissful time when this country was not paying war taxes. It was from 1893 to 1896:

- When business men were failing. When banks were suspended. When manufacturers were closing their shops. When the wheels of machinery were silent. When factory chimneys were smokeless. When wage-earners were out of jobs. When idle men walked the streets in despair. When women and children went ragged and hungry. When thousands of families, accustomed to prosperity and too proud to beg, suffered in silence. When the cry for bread was heard in the land. When free soup houses kept many people from starving. When many enterprises were at a standstill. When the grim specter of want was a familiar sight.

This was when the party of "tariff reform" and "free silver" was getting in its deadly work. It was harder for working people to buy a loaf of bread than it is to buy a roast beef now. It took longer to earn a suit of clothes then. In short, all the people are more prosperous and comfortable in this time of "war taxes" than they were in that time of depression and idleness. Everybody knows that this is so, and yet the party of calamity is emitting hypocritical groans and insincere flattery in an effort to create discontent and advance its political fortunes. We don't think it will fool many people, because memory is not a lost human faculty, and experience is a faithful teacher. - Rochester Democrat.

The great disaster at Galveston is not without its aftermath of consolatory and admirable results. Toward that stricken city sweet and blessed Charity is speeding as fast as steam and electricity can carry her, from every part of the country, from every state, and even from across the oceans. The broken and bruised hearts she cannot heal, but all that can be done to make life tolerable if not comfortable for the sufferers, and to supply all their physical needs, will be done by the great, sympathizing American people. - Telegram.

Carl Schurz advises the American people to say to the republican party: "You are discharged with a reprimand. But before you go be sure to pass the laws necessary to prevent Bryan from wrecking the country."
