

DEATH OF "MAN OF THE IRON MASK"

Remarkable Story of Thomas Colt, the Subject of the First Sabine Operation—Surgeons Made a New Face for Him.

New York, Sept. 17.—The Bellevue Hospital patient, known as the "Man With the Iron Mask," is dead. Thomas Oliver Colt was his name. He was related to the family of gunmakers of that name, and was born in Connecticut. At the age of 15, while playing ball, he was struck in the face by a ball, his cheek bones being fractured and his nose broken. Erysipelas followed and the nose was lost, as was a portion of his face. He was brought to Bellevue Hospital by his parents, the head of the surgical division of that institution being Professor Thomas C. Sabine, who heard the story and said he would make the boy a nose. The result was the first Sabine operation as it is now known.

Colt's left hand was placed on his face and the third finger relieved of the nail and placed on the bridge of the nose. It took two months to grow there, while it was held in position by a plaster cast, and then it was cut from the hand at the second joint. Thirty-two operations and two years in the hospital gave a new face to Colt.

In 1896 he married Miss Plate, of Orange, N. J. She said she reciprocated his affection because of his mind. In November, 1896, he shot her in New Jersey, and then shot himself. Both lived, and he was tried for murder. He was convicted and sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary. After serving two years he was pardoned.

He took every means of concealing his features when in public. In August he was admitted to Bellevue Hospital, suffering from Bright's Disease. He was fearful that other patients would see his face, so he kept it muffled and became known to the other patients as the "Man With the Iron Mask."

Cataract Cannot Be Cured. With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Cataract is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Cataract Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Cataract. Send for testimonials, free.

Hall's Family Pills are the best. 12 Germany and England.

New York, Sept. 17.—A dispatch to the Times from Paris says: An important functionary of the German foreign office now in Paris says that it will soon be generally recognized that Germany, Great Britain and Japan are in accord as to the policy to be followed in China, and that opposition to their plans comes principally from Russia, with whom of course is France.

Little doubt is entertained that Germany is sincere in her declaration that she does not seek territory, but merely to maintain the principle of the "open door" and to obtain proper indemnity for the outrages her representatives have undergone. There is a belief in well-informed diplomatic circles that the German emperor's policy is gradually veering round in a sense favorable to Great Britain, and that for a long time he has done what he could to bring about a better understanding between his own country and Great Britain, but has been greatly hindered by popular ill will on both sides.

Prince Henry's visit to London is regarded as of great political importance, as indeed the commencement of the rapprochement between Germany and Great Britain seems desired by the Kaiser. The Prince will maintain the principle of the "open door," and side with Great Britain against Russia. His mission is to smooth matters over with the former country.

"My baby was terribly sick with the diarrhoea," says J. H. Doak, Williams, Oregon. "We were unable to cure him with the doctor's assistance, and as a last resort we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I am happy to say it gave immediate relief and a complete cure." For sale at Blakeley's drug store.

A Photographic Checking Clock. An apparatus that has at least the merit of novelty is on exhibition in London. It is designed as a checking clock to record the hour of the arrival of employees at their places of work. The novelty consists in a sensitized photographic ribbon attached to clock-work. Each employee, as he or she arrives, presses the button of the machine and immediately his or her photograph, together with a photograph of the clock showing the moment of arrival, is impressed on the movable ribbon. It is said that the photographs can be made at the rate of 40 a minute.—Youth's Companion.

The Up-to-Date Maiden. He—Will you elope with me if I will bring an automobile around at 11 o'clock to-night?
She—Yes, but it must be an electric automobile—not one of those horrid-smelling gasoline affairs.—Somerville Journal.

A New York Tree. A towering elm tree which used to stand in St. Paul's churchyard, New York, and which was said to be 100 years old, has been cut down. The tree used to stand on a line with Washington's pew, and was one of the picturesque landmarks of lower Broadway.

Red Hot From the Gun. Was the ball that hit G. B. Steadman of Newark, Mich., in the Civil War. It caused horrible ulcers that no treatment helped for twenty years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. It cures cuts, bruises, burns, boils, felons, corns, skin eruptions. Best pile cure on earth. Twenty-five cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by Blakeley, the druggist. 3
