

You May Have Heard

Such expressions as "The Coat seems to be alright, only the collar doesn't seem to fit;" or "I think the back wrinkles a little." There is where the average clothier "falls down;" he doesn't try to avoid the wrinkles in his clothing; he is neglectful of details. When we sell you a suit of clothes we want your friends to be able to say—

"Who's Your Clothier?"

Fall Styles in Gents' Suits and Overcoats, Top-coats and Ulsters. We never have shown a greater collection, and from the immense sales already we know that our prices a little lower than elsewhere. PEASE & MAYS

Mays & Crowe

The only store in this city where the Genuine Imported Stransky-Steel Ware is sold.

A little higher in price, but outlasts a dozen pieces of so-called cheap enameled ware.

BEWARE!

Other wares look like it, but the genuine has the name Stransky-Steel Ware on each piece. Do not be deceived. First prize at 10 International Exhibitions. Highest award at World's Columbian Exhibition, Chicago. Preferred by the best cooking authorities, certified to by the most famous chemists for purity and durability. It is cheapest because

BEST.

Remember this celebrated enameled ware is specially imported for and sold in this city exclusively by us.

It does not rust nor absorb grease, does not discolor nor catch inside; is not affected by acids in fruits or vegetables, will boil, stew, roast and bake without imparting flavor of previously cooked food and will last for years.

We caution the public against imitations.

Tunwater Charley, the Tunwater siwash, who was arrested yesterday for drunkenness, was arraigned this morning before his honor, Judge Gates, and after depositing $3 in the city treasury was discharged.

Congressman Tongue will speak in Washington three times during the campaign. Governor Geer will stump sections of Idaho and Washington. It is not definitely settled whether or not the Governor will take in Ohio.

Hudson & Brownhill are receiving enquiries daily from the east for farm property, and any persons having farms for sale would do well to place them in their hands for sale, and thereby get advantage of their extensive advertising free of cost.

E. G. Bolter recently purchased 400 head of cows with calves and dry cows in the southeastern part of this county and in Harney, paying $36 for the former and $25 for the latter. He will take them to his farm on lower Trout for breeding purposes.

C. W. Phelps, a former resident of this city and father of Attorney G. W. Phelps of Heppner, died of dropsy of the heart at Berkeley, Calif., yesterday morning. The remains will arrive here on the noon train tomorrow and the funeral will take place at 3 o'clock p. m. from Crandall & Burgett's undertaking rooms. Friends of the deceased are invited to be present.

The Rev. W. E. Potwine, pastor of the church of the Redeemer at Pendleton, will officiate at St. Paul's Episcopal church tomorrow, Sunday, the 23d. Morning prayer at 11, followed by holy communion; evening prayer at 7:30. Baptismal service at the Sunday school hour, 10 a. m. An opportunity will be given to contribute to the Galveston fund at these services. Mrs. Klein will sing the offertory.

The fishing records have all gone broke, says the Glacier. Wm. Stewart in four hours' fishing at Tucker's bridge Monday afternoon looked twenty salmon trout, the aggregate weight of which was forty five pounds. This is at an average of a fish every twelve minutes, and it takes ten minutes to land a salmon trout. Mr. Stewart says he quit in disgust when he pulled out a salmon, or he would have been fishing yet. The catch was made with a barely-hook, and is what you would call genuine sport.

There is nothing so pleasant in the experience of a singer as visiting the scenes of early successes, and Mrs. Ella Lark-Klein tells us that she looks forward to appearing before a Dalles audience with more pleasure than anywhere during her career. She has always considered her former experience in this city as the stepping-stone to her subsequent successes. It is impossible to forget the cordial reception and encouragement extended her talents here some years ago, and in coming back to sing again she says there is a sentiment felt for which mere words seem inadequate.

Since her appearance here last she has been over half the world, meeting with one long series success; but she has always pointed with pride to the incentive given for hard work in study by her friends here, which has been so productive of profit and pleasure. Next Monday evening she will offer a program of unusual interest, since it will comprise the compositions of our best modern composers, with a generous intermingling of popular selections to give pleasure to all. And an interest is always felt in the assistance of the best local talent, which will be added to the above numbers.

Wanted.

Four or five boys, going to school during winter, to board. $12 a month with room and plain washing. Across street from High school. Apply at Chronicle office.

MAYS & CROWE'S STORE ROBBED

Robbery Led to the Death of a Negro at Arlington, and After All Was Probably Accomplished by Local Talent.

The store of Mays & Crowe was robbed last night of Colt's revolvers, razors and pocket knives to the value, as near as can be estimated, of about $125. The thieves obtained entrance to the store by unlatching the hook of the iron shutter of a back window and forcing the window open. The unlatching was easily accomplished by a small pine stick that the robbers discarded and which was found lying on the ground at the base of the window. The window was evidently forced by a stronger instrument, as the marks of its pressure is visible on the window sill. A bullet hole was made in the plate glass at the east front entrance of the store, for what reason it is impossible to determine.

The robbery occurred after midnight and Marshal Driver, on being informed of it, telephoned to the marshal at Arlington to be on the look out for suspicious characters, with the result that on the arrival of the next passenger train from The Dalles the Arlington marshal hailed a negro, who dropped off the train, and ordered him to throw up his hands. The negro made as if he was reaching for a pistol and the marshal shot him dead. The dead man, it was found, had no weapon and none of the stolen goods were found on him.

As the store of Pease & Mays has been robbed a number of times during the past three or four years, it is not in the least improbable that this last robbery, and probably the others, was done by local talent.

Bryan's Soliloquy.

To be, or not to be, a president!
Four years ago I told my countrymen
Of direst woe, were I defeated then,
That would enshroud our land. To such extent
Were they alarmed I barely missed the goal.
Ah, me! McKinley won. Prosperity,
Instead of ruin, both on land and sea,
Has made our nation great. But by my soul,
As nominee of three great parties—say!
I'm in the race again to "sink or swim,
Survive or perish" howsoever slim
My chances are—a mighty game I'll play.
So down McKinley: call him tyrant—king—
Aly with anarchists—aye, anything!
—WALTER ALLEN RICE.
