The only store in this city where the Genuine Imported Stransky-Steel Ware is sold.

A little higher in price, but outlasts a dozen pieces of so-called cheap enameled ware.

BEWARE!

Other wares look like it, but the genuine has the name Stransky-Steel Ware on each piece. Do not be deceived. First prize at 16 International Exhibitions. Highest award at World's Columbian Exhibition, Chicago. Preferred by the best cooking authorities, certified to by the most famous chemists for purity and durability. It is cheapest because

BEST.

Remember this celebrated enameled ware is especially imported for and sold in this city exclusively by us.

It does not rust nor absorb grease, does not discolor nor catch inside. Is not affected by acids in fruits or vegetables, will boil, stew, roast and bake without imparting flavor of previously cooked food and will last for years.

We caution the public against imitations.

Lost—White bird dog; yellow spot on head. Reward for return to H. W. Ludloge, room 7, Mrs. Brittain's.

Rembe Boeten brought to town today, from the neighborhood of Trout Creek, 28 head of fat beeves which he sold to Wood Bros.

We have a Whitman full circle steel hay baler for sale. Has been used only one season. Will sell cheap and on time. Inquire of Hudson & Brownhill.

An action for divorce was instituted in the circuit court today by Ida Speicenger against Henry Speicenger. The complaint was filed by Ned Gates as attorney for the plaintiff.

We regret to learn that Mrs. C. F. Stephens is quite ill at her residence in this city. She has been confined to her bed for about a week and was worse rather than better this morning.

Next Saturday the ladies of the Good Intent Society will have on sale at Mrs. Jones' cafe, next door to J. P. McInerney's store, pies, cakes and all kinds of pastry. Call and buy something for Sunday.

Emer Graves, of Antelope, has received the contract for carrying the mails between The Dalles and Shaniko, and service will begin on October 15th. Mr. Graves receives $2,880 per year for his services.

John Hilbert, grand organizer of the Ancient Order of Forresters, is in the city in the interest of this beneficiary society, which was established in England in 1745 and is the oldest beneficiary order in the world.

Jap Foster, who was serving a ninety-days term for the larceny of 25 cents' worth of wood from a neighboring woman up in the pines, was released yesterday upon suspension of sentence, after serving twenty-three days.

Mair & Benton will offer 100 feet of half-inch Maltese Cross spray hose as a reward for the best exhibit in some line of horticulture, as may be determined by the carnival executive committee. The retail price of this prize is $17.50.

Sheepmen are complaining of big losses of sheep in the Wallows mountains. W. H. Graves has lost 200, G. J. Wagner 110, Peter Bondan 500, and N. C. Longfellow about 100. It is believed wholesale stealing is being carried on by an organized gang of thieves.

It is said that the Portland creditors of the Paul F. Mohr transportation enterprises lately held a meeting in Portland and appointed a committee, of which James Lotan is chairman, to consider the proposition for an extension of time for paying the claims.

The Campbell & Wilson millinery parlor is the place to buy up-to-date head wear at right prices. All the new things in street hats. Patterns and trimmed hats can be found there, also a fine line of children's school hats and baby bonnets.

The Irish-Americans, whose hatred for England induced them to enter the Boer army, have apparently got all the fighting they want. They are now, it is said, clamoring for their pay and threatening to lick the Boer officials if they don't get it.

The party who has been talking for some time of erecting a distillery here has contracted with Mr. Stadelman for the lease of his orchard and sufficient grounds on which to put up the necessary buildings. It is expected that the necessary papers will be made out and signed within the next couple of days.

J. J. Brown, who lives on the bluff in the neighborhood of Tenth street, was arrested this morning on complaint of J. W. Moore, charging him with using obscene language in the presence of women. Brown was released on his own recognizance to answer to the complaint before Justice Brownhill tomorrow afternoon.

We have a great bargain in farm property 2 1/2 miles from Mosier. One hundred and sixty acres of fine land; eighty acres cleared and in cultivation; good house, barn and out buildings; fine orchard; near to church and school. One thousand dollars takes the farm if bought within thirty days. Call on or write to Hudson & Brownhill.

J. O. Yisli, of Cross Keys, one of our many prominent sheepmen, was in Shaniko on Tuesday. On that day Mr. Yisli sold his 1900 clip of wool, 59,000 pounds, at the Shaniko warehouse for 15 1/2 cents a pound to a Boston firm. This is the first sale of wool to be effected in Shaniko. But it will not be the last, by any means.—Shaniko Leader.

The contract for the erection of the inclosure for the carnival was let to Hugh Glenn yesterday, his being the lowest bid. The contract calls for a fence eight feet in height, with the necessary doorways and a grand arch at the main entrance, corner of Third and Washington. Lumber was placed on the ground and a force of carpenters set to work this afternoon.

A postoffice inspector returned recently from a tour of inspection of postoffices in twenty-eight counties in Michigan. All but two were in excellent condition. In one office the postmaster could neither read nor write, and his clerk was deaf and dumb. Farmers when inquiring for mail had to either get it themselves or write their requests on slips of paper so the clerk could find out what was wanted.

The Antelope Republican says: "A crew of men, headed by the assistant engineer of the Columbia Southern, started Saturday morning from Shaniko to Farewell Bend to survey a railroad route from there to Shaniko. Another crew had previously started surveying in the Haystack country. It appears the C. S. is kind of restless, in spite of the assurances to the contrary." The Shaniko Leader says it is not the C. S. but The Dalles Southern that is doing the surveying.

A very just and indignant complaint reached this office this forenoon of a span of horses that were left hitched to a farm wagon from early yesterday morning till this morning, when the marehal took them to a livery stable and had them fed at the expense of their owner, a rancher from the neighborhood of Chenoweth Creek. For full twenty-four hours the poor beasts stood tied to a post, without a bite of food or a drop of water, while their owner was probably holding high jinks in the saloons. There is a law for this brutality and somebody should see that it is enforced.

The marriage of Mr. Ernst Lueddemann and Miss Elizabeth Eleanor French took place last night in the M. E. church in the presence of a large number of invited guests and friends of the bride and bridegroom. The bridegroom has been connected with French & Co.'s bank for some years, and is a young man whose steady and industrious habits have earned him the respect of all who know him. The bride is the amiable and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. French. The young couple have the earnest wishes of a host of friends for a long and happy life. They left on the early train this morning on a two months' wedding trip, which will include a visit to Mr. Lueddemann's former home in Alabama, also a tour through eastern cities. Full particulars of the wedding and the numerous wedding presents will be given tomorrow.

Pell Simison, a well-to-do stockman from Monument, Grant county, died yesterday in this city of inflammation of the intestines, superinduced by the kick of a horse last Wednesday week, which was being unloaded from a boat at the D. P. & A. N. Company's landing. Mr. Simison had been in Portland disposing of a lot of horses and was on his way home. On arriving here on the boat he was leading from it a race horse he had brought with him when one of a span of horses in front of him kicked back at Mr. Simison's horse, but missed his mark and the blow landed on Mr. Simison's abdomen. He was able to walk to Dr. Ferguson's office where he had the best of medical care and attention, but without avail, and he passed away suddenly yesterday afternoon. A post-mortem examination showed that the injury to the intestines was too severe for any human help. The remains were prepared for shipment at Crandall & Burget's undertaking rooms and will be taken to the deceased's old home at Jefferson, Or., for interment. Mr. Simison was unmarried and about 40 years of age. A half brother from Jefferson will accompany the remains to that place.

A man giving his name as L. Cosgrove was arrested here last evening by Night-watchman Like, charged with stealing a finger ring from J. E. Adeox & Co. Cosgrove had been in Adeox & Company's store and purchased three cheap, second hand watches from Mr. Adeox. At the same time Mr. Adeox's partner, Mr. Liebe, was showing rings to a lady and Cosgrove managed to steal one that was left by itself for a moment on the show case. The thief had hardly left the store when the loss was discovered and in 20 minutes Mr. Like had him behind the bars. Cosgrove was easily traced to a house of ill fame where he was trying to dispose of the ring. He will be arraigned in the morning and will, it is understood, plead guilty.

PEOPLE COMING AND GOING.

Miss Maude Gilbert came up from Portland yesterday, where she is attending the Portland Business College.

Otto Yisli, a prominent citizen of Cross Keys, called at this office today. He will be in the city for several days.

Miss Elizabeth Schooling, who has been ill for over two months, was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland on the noon train.

Miss Evelyn Steele, who arrived yesterday from Portland to attend the Lueddemann-French wedding, will remain a few days, the guest of the Misses Michell.

Reno Rondeau, son of Remi Rondeau, of Kingsley, was a passenger on the afternoon train for Philomath, where he goes to attend a second term at the college of that place.

Carl Peetz, the well-known Sherman county rancher, was in town today on his way home from St. Martin's Springs, where he received great relief from an attack of rheumatism.

Votes for Queen of the Carnival.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the vote for queen of the carnival stood as follows:

Cora Joles	171
Valeria Liebe	159
Annie Haslam	142
Grace Scott	128
Lizzie Bonn	86
Luise Michellbach	62
Clara Nickelsen	47
Georgia Sampson	8

The Colonel and the Farmer.

Colonel—My down-trodden friend are you aware that the empire is ruining you?

Farmer—Well, Colonel, I told Maria I'd go to town and buy her a set of Empire furniture for the bedroom today, but I reckon 'twont quite ruin me.

Colonel—But your liberty is in danger.

Farmer—Not's long as I behave myself, and I always calculate to do that.

Colonel—But my friend, the trusts, with the money trust at their head, are biggaring you.

Farmer—Well, they'll be a long time doing it. I'm in the money trust myself now.

Colonel—But surely you are afraid of the ravages of the Octopus?

Farmer—I don't care a rap for no Octopus as long as the pesky grasshoppers keep out of the way.

Colonel—But there's the mortgage.

Farmer—Yep, lent money on one yesterday.

Colonel—But surely you do not approve the retention of the Philippines.

Farmer—Colonel, when I get hold of a good thing, I keep hold of it. When I get money enough to buy more land, I buy it.

Colonel—But, my dear sir, would you put the man-made dollar above the God-made man?

Farmer—No, but I'd put the man-made dollar in the man-made bank. And I must get there before the bank shuts up. So you'll have to excuse me, Colonel.

Colonel—But, my misguided friend, think of the Declaration—

Farmer—How did you know that Bill Gibbins made one to my second daughter, Ellyz Ann, last night? Yep, and I've got to go and price pianos and things this afternoon. Good-bye. (Exit singing.)

"So, I like to see a five and I like to see a ten. So, ho, here we go for McKinley in again."

Millinery Opening.
