The only store in this city where the Genuine Imported Stransky-Steel Ware is sold.

A little higher in price, but outlasts a dozen pieces of so-called cheap enameled ware.

BEWARE!

Other wares look like it, but the genuine has the name Stransky-Steel Ware on each piece. Do not be deceived. First prize at 10 International Exhibitions. Highest award at World's Columbian Exhibition, Chicago. Preferred by the best cooking authorities certified to by the most famous chemists for purity and durability. It is cheapest because

BEST.

Remember this celebrated enameled ware is especially imported for and sold in this city exclusively by us.

It does not rust nor absorb grease, does not discolor nor catch inside, is not affected by acids in fruits or vegetables, will boil, stew, roast and bake without imparting flavor of previously cooked food and will last for years.

We caution the public against imitations.

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured." For sale at Blakeley's drug store.

Through the months of June and July our baby was teething and took a running off of the bowels and sickness of the stomach," says O. P. M. Holliday, of Deming, Ind. "His bowels would move from five to eight times a day. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house and gave him four drops in a teaspoonful of water and he got better at once. Sold at Blakeley's drugstore.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

A Bryan and Stevenson club has been organized at Kingsley with fifty members.

Professor Sandvig's second dance of the season will be given at the Baldwin Saturday night.

The circuit court of the state of Oregon for Sherman county convenes at the court house in Moro Monday, Oct. 1st.

The sheriff will turn over to the county treasurer next Monday about $5,000, the amount of taxes collected during the month of September.

Last night, on Third or Fourth street, between Lincoln and Washington, a fancy pink net scarf, Finder please leave at this office and receive a reward.

The executive committee of the street fair and harvest carnival have established the carnival headquarters in the Gates brick building, corner of Third and Union.

Dr. Jack Daily, the original and producer of this county, took a fine sample of his frontier farm 1900 crop to The Dalles for exhibition in the Harvest Carnival.—Observer.

Dr. Bros. have sold all their interest in their saw mill, logging camps, steam log saws, and dwelling at Cascade Locks, to the Storey & Kaepler Lumber Co., of La Crosse, Wis.

Tomorrow evening at the Methodist church Mrs. Ella Lark-Klein will sing the beautiful sacred selection "Come Unto Me," Mr. Wm. Birgfeld accompanying her at the vocalion.

John D. Whitten, a prominent Kingsley farmer, was in town last night. Mr. Whitten has just received a patent for a harrow that can be attached to an ordinary plow and harrow each furrow as it is turned over.

The carnival executive committee will ask that all business, as far as may be possible, shall be suspended between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock on the opening day of the fair that everybody may have a chance to attend and witness the grand parade.

Arrangements for holding our fourth biennial horticultural exhibit at Hood River are going along smoothly, and everything points to it being the most successful exhibit of the products of Hood River, White Salmon and near-by points ever held, says the Glacier.

There will be some special exercises at the M. E. Sunday school tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Presentation of rewards to those who have committed the golden texts for the quarter, recitations and singing. All the friends of the school are urged to be present.

Our farmers are becoming interested in The Dalles Harvest Carnival. Many of them desire to attend, as it was impossible for them to be there when Portland was in. They were then too busy, but most of them will be free to take a lay-off by the date of the Dalles fair, and they're going to do it.—Observer.

We have just received instructions to sell one of the finest building sites in the city, also modern cottage, on Alford avenue. This is indeed a bargain; an elegant 7 room house, good lot and barn, fruit, lawn, and all modern conveniences. This property positively must go at any reasonable offer. For further particulars see Hudson & Brownbill.

W. A. Johnston will offer a Syracuse Best Chilled No. 601, 14 inch plow for some form of exhibit of cereals to be determined soon by the carnival committee. A large number of similar prizes will be offered by The Dalles merchants, which will be published as soon as the committee has time to arrange and classify them. A number of prizes will also be given for unique features in the parade.

Judge Mays went across the river this morning, and in company with Mr. Rorick, of North Dalles, examined the grade leading to the top of the Klickitat mountain with the view of seeing what is necessary to be done to put it in good condition for the teams hauling wheat to this market. Mr. Mays has collected several hundred dollars from Dalles business men, which will be expended on the grade under the supervision of Mr. Rorick.

Malden S. Jameson, formerly deputy United States marshal at this place and a great favorite among The Dalles young people of nine years ago, died in Portland yesterday forenoon, aged about 30 years. Mr. Jameson was in the Philippines with the Oregon volunteers, where he obtained an honorable record as a soldier. While there the seeds of the disease to which he finally succumbed were planted in his system. His interment awaits the coming of his mother from New York, who was telegraphed for a short time before his death.

A four-horse team belonging to John Proctor, of Klickitat county, while on the way to the ferry this morning got scared at a locomotive near the Baldwin saloon and, turning quickly around, tipped the wagon so as to throw the driver from his seat and made a wild dash back to the neighborhood of Pease & Mays' implement warehouse, where they were stopped by Adolph Shonder. On Second street they collided with the brewery wagon, which, however, was not injured. The horses, when caught, had not been even scratched, but the coupling apparatus of the wagon was smashed in several places and had to be taken to Frank Gunning's hospital for repairs.

The executive committee of the street fair and harvest carnival have appointed the following additional committees:

On accommodation, to provide lodgings for such visitors as the hotels and lodging houses may not be able to accommodate, Ferd Dietzel and W. H. Butte. On the queen, to select and superintend the preparation of the royal robes, which will be as rich as money can buy and be the exclusive property of the queen after the carnival is over, Mrs. J. S. Schenck, Mrs. W. H. Eddy, Mrs. J. S. Fish and Mrs. T. J. Seufert. On amateur photography, Mrs. W. Lord, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Miss Jennie Marlen and Mr. Arthur Saufert. On display of ladies' fancy fancy work, Mrs. H. S. Wilson, Mrs. C. E. Cushing and Mrs. Alice Sheldon. On wedding, to secure and furnish a couple who are willing to enter into the holy bonds of matrimony and have the knot tied as part of the carnival ceremony, and at the expense of the committee, A. E. Lake and Simon Bolton.

W. H. Vanbibber, as nice old man as ever lived, has quit "peddling milk" in The Dalles after thirty-five years continuous services, says D. C. Ireland in the Observer. Every morning of these long years with one exception, at a little after midnight Van covered the three miles between The Dalles and his ranch and delivered to his customers the two milkings of the previous twenty-four hours. He has grown rich and prosperous and might years ago have retired from business on an ample competency had not old habits kept him in the harness. He has sold tons of milk that he never got any pay for; but never sued a customer. Once he was leaving the lactic fluid at an out-of-the-way place to a poor widow with two invalid sons. Noticing the difficulty which the grand old man had to deliver that quart, a cash customer close by remarked to Van one bitter cold morning: "Why do you do it? You'll never get a cent." "That's where you're mistaken, my friend," said Van cheerfully, "God Almighty has paid that bill years in advance."

J. B. Brown, of this city, who was tried yesterday before Justice Brownbill on complaint of J. W. Moore on the charge of using obscene language in the presence of Mrs. Rachel Moore, wife of the complaining witness, was acquitted of the crime, the evidence, in the opinion of the justice, failing to prove the charge. Mrs. Moore swore positively that Brown, in a loud, angry voice, called her vile name, in presence of Frank and Mabel Spencer, who stood at a distance of about 150 feet; near enough, as Mrs. Moore admitted, for them to hear all that was said. The defense put Frank Spencer on the stand, who testified that he and his sister heard Mr. Brown and Mrs. Moore salute each other as they met at the time mentioned in the complaint; but Mr. Brown used none of the language Mrs. Moore accused him of using, and if he had he (Mr. Spencer) would have heard it. Three of Mr. Brown's neighbors were called and bore strong testimony to Mr. Brown's good reputation in the neighborhood of his home, where he has resided for two years as a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

Obituary.

B. F. Lewis, father of Mrs. J. F. Moore of this city, died suddenly yesterday afternoon, Sept. 28, at the residence of his daughter. Mr. Lewis was born in Erie county, New York, Feb. 3rd, 1824. When 26 years old he crossed the plains to California and located at Placerville where he engaged in mining and packing and subsequently went into the mercantile business in the town of Lawiston which was named after him.

He was married at Sacramento, California, in 1856. In 1870 he moved to what is now Lake county, Oregon, where he buried his wife eight years later. From the death of his wife Mr. Lewis has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Moore. He leaves four sisters, all living in Minnesota, one brother living on the Pacific coast, and two daughters. The immediate cause of death was apoplexy. Mr. Lewis was a man of strict honor and integrity and of kindly and generous impulses. He will be sadly missed by the immediate members of his family and by the little ones of the neighborhood with whom he was a general favorite.

Big Squashes.

A man from Twin Oakes farm called at the Glacier office Tuesday. Seeing W. P. Watson's big squash, he was reminded of the big squashes grown in Nebraska. He said he worked for a man who had five acres in corn and squashes. The squashes were so big they couldn't get them into a common wagon bed and had to put on the hay rack to haul them in from the field. The man took off enough squashes to fatten sixty head of beef cattle that winter, besides forty bushels of corn to the acre. A man from Frankton who heard the big squash story said a rancher in Montana was growing a big squash for the state fair. A careless hired man, in boxing about the squash, accidentally cut it off the vine. The rancher was greatly grieved at his loss, but the hired man said he could raise it by hand. Fortunately the stem was still on the squash, and procuring a pan of milk, the stem was inserted and the milk soon disappeared. The squash was fed in this way until ripe. It was taken to the state fair and took the premium for being the largest of its kind. On opening it a nice roll of Jersey butter was found in the center.—Hood River Glacier.
