Last Night's Concert.

The visit of Mrs. Klein to our city has furnished music-lovers a treat which has been greatly appreciated. While here she has not only kindly given the attendants at each of our churches an opportunity to enjoy her beautiful voice, but the public in general have had the privilege of listening to two entertainments in which her singing has been the principal attraction. The last one was given last night at the Methodist church, and while not being so largely attended as the merits of the program deserved, there was a good-sized audience present.

The ease with which Mrs. Klein renders the most difficult selections makes the pleasure of hearing her the more pronounced and each number received a hearty encore, which she generously answered with what may be termed the "old songs," but are ever new, and by most of the listeners the more enjoyed from that fact.

The program opened with a piano duet by Prof. Birgfeld and Miss Schmidt, and if there were any in the audience whose tastes are not educated to classic instrumental selections and do not usually appreciate them, last night was an exception, for the rendition was not only faultless but the musicians especially happy in their selection.

The quartet by Mrs. Groat, Misses Michell and Willerton and Prof. Landers and Dr. Eshelman was so well appreciated and pleasing that they were compelled to answer to an encore.

Although having been persuaded with difficulty to repeat the duet which has twice before been given by them, Misses Michell and Bonn certainly felt that it was none the less enjoyed from the hearty applause and encore given.

Miss Jenkins, while a stranger here, won for herself many admirers by her rendition of "The Whistling Regiment," and the encore which followed and was of an entirely different character gave proof of her versatility as an elocutionist of merit.

Of the product of this well-known brewery the United States Health Reports for June 25, 1900, says: "A more superior brew never entered the laboratory of the United States Health reports. It is absolutely devoid of the slightest trace of adulteration, but on the other hand is composed of the best of malt and choicest of hops. Its tonic qualities are of the highest and it can be used with the greatest benefit and satisfaction by old and young. Its use can conscientiously be prescribed by the physicians with the certainty that a better, purer or more wholesome beverage could not possibly be found."
