WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

"King of the Opium Ring." At the Vogt opera house tonight.

Rev. A. D. Skaggs will preach at the Christian church at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Call on Mrs. Morgan for art embroideries, also decorative work in oil and water colors.

Antelope has the promise of a campaign speech in the near future by Senator C. W. Fulton, of Astoria.

Quite a large number of people arrived on the train this afternoon from Sherman county and other points east.

A beautiful and artistic art exhibit may be seen at Mrs. Morgan's studio, on Third street, near Court. 9-13

Bert Bagley will be at the fair tomorrow between 1 and 3 o'clock with a Babcock milk tester, and will test samples of milk free of charge.

Miss Lane's collection of Indian baskets will be on exhibition all the week at the Lang residence on Fourth street, from 7 to 9 p. m., as well as from 2 to 5 as announced Monday.

Don't fail to attend the Rex ball at the Vogt opera house Friday night. During the opening grand march the identity of Rex, who is only known by the executive committee, will be revealed. Music by the Birgfeld orchestra.

The carnival executive committee has concluded to have a baby show Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. A cash prize of $5 will be given for the finest baby and a second prize of $5. A third prize of $4 will be given for the fattest baby.

Jack Daley brought over from Sherman county a lot of potatoes that for size and shape are hard to beat. One of them weighs four and a half pounds. They are of the Irish Rattler variety and from seed that Jack brought over from Ireland two years ago.

County court held a short session yesterday. The only business transacted was the granting of a retail liquor license to John Kintz, of Mosier, and the ordering of a warrant for $20 to be drawn in favor of Aden Glover for work done on the Tygh hill grade.

We are requested to call special attention to the fact that The Dalles has ample accommodation for all who will visit the fair, and at the rates that prevail when no fair is in progress. No one need hesitate to come here under the fear of lack of comfortable quarters. The Dalles has more hotel accommodation than any town of its size in the state.

In New York City James Kilduff, a wealthy democrat, deposited the other day $20,000 in cash to be bet on the prevailing odds that Bryan will carry Ohio. Bookmaker Ullman says that the chances are five to one against Bryan and that he will take part of the bet.

William Kelly, who robbed the store of E. J. Collins & Co. Saturday night of a quantity of gents' clothing, was examined today before Justice Brownhill and bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500. Not finding bail, he was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

A gentleman called at this office yesterday afternoon with a silk badge that was worn in the presidential campaign of 1840. It has printed on it the legend "Whig State Convention at Burlington, Vt., June 2, 1840. Favorable to the Nomination of W. H. Harrison, the Log Cabin Candidate. The People's Choice."

Said Barlow Adams today: "I have seen many a fruit exhibit in my life but I never saw anything to equal the one now at the fair. I would like to see a big streamer in front of the fruit booth with the letters painted on it in big letters: 'Wasco county apples against the world,' for the world cannot beat us."

An Indian, hailing from Columbus, while under the influence of liquor yesterday, was robbed by a white man of $1.50 in money, a pair of buckskin gloves and a pocket full of arrowheads. The robbery was done in broad day and in the presence of spectators, who, strange to say, allowed the thief to escape.

Representative Moody was advised today by the postal authorities at Washington that the mail service between Shaniko and Prineville had been increased from six to seven times a week, to take effect on the 14th, and that the new service between The Dalles and Shaniko will take effect on the 15th. Both of these contracts provide for star route box delivery, which is practically free rural delivery.

We learn from the Weekly Examiner of the 4th that Francis Bradley Durphy, who will be remembered by Dalles people for his connection with the North Dalles shoe factory, has got himself into very hot water down in Eureka, Calif., through being too much married. Two women claim to be his lawfully married wives, and there is talk of a third. Durphy claims that he got a divorce from one of the women in Clatsop county, and the woman claims that the divorce is fraudulent.

President L. E. Crowe, of the Commercial Club, has received a telegram from George Taylor, Jr., president of the Portland chamber of commerce, announcing that The Dalles invitation to the members of the chamber of commerce to attend the carnival had been accepted and that as many as possible would come here on Friday's noon train and leave for home on a special train at 7:30 p. m. President Crowe has appointed a committee of prominent citizens to meet the Portland visitors at the Umattilla House on their arrival.

The Chinese quarter of the city of San Francisco is the only place in America where the Chinaman really feels at home. Chinatown in any other American city is but a name; in San Francisco it is a fac-simile of men and things in the land of Li Hung Chang. Charles E. Blaney and Charles A. Taylor, the authors of "The King of the Opium Ring," which will be seen at the Vogt opera house tonight, have successfully copied San Francisco's Chinatown. The environments and costumes are said to be perfect. The story of the play is intensely melodramatic. The "king" of the opium ring falls into the power of the highbinder, and to save himself from imprisonment he sells the "queen" to the wily Chinaman, who proposes to marry her. The "queen" is abducted by the highbinder's emissaries, and just in the nick of time to prevent the marriage there appears upon the scene "Ironside," an old sailor, who has discovered that he is the "queen's" father. While the theme of the melodrama is on new lines, there is lots of fun and comedy in the action.

The Fair a Grand Success.

The fair and carnival is so far an unqualified success. The attendance yesterday, day and night, far exceeded the expectation of the promoters and indicates that it will be one of the most successful ventures The Dalles has ever engaged in. The exhibits are numerous and are all artistically and handsomely placed. It is doubtful if The Dalles ever had as fine an exhibit of fruit and vegetables. In size and variety it exceeds the show made at the late Portland carnival ten times. A large lot of apples from the Hood River fair were brought here, and big and handsome as they are beyond all peradventure, they are no handsomer nor better than those exhibited from other parts of the county. In point of fact, the county has outdone itself and beat all former records in the line of fruits. It is doubtful if a finer collection of apples could be gotten together in any other place on the American continent. The sight is worth ten times the price of admission.

The receipts yesterday from all sources were very satisfactory, and the attendance warrants the assurance that the fair will be a success financially. While the hotels were all filled and every room occupied, the city easily took care of the big crowd without any inconvenience to the visitors.

The weather yesterday and today is on its very best behavior and gives promise that it will continue to do so.

NEGLECTED PORTLANDITES.

A Business Proposition Was Postponed to Pay Homage to Royalty.

The big crowds in town yesterday surged toward the throne; we were headed that way ourselves, but it was worth the effort, for today we are inspired to wonderful tasks because royalty has deigned to notice us. The royal cortege and equipages charmed the populace. The exhibits of luscious fruits claimed the horticulturists' eye. The rich fabrics cling close to many a lady's heart. The orchestra threw its bursting notes heavenward, only to be caught by the receptive ear of a delighted people. The poor piano men were left alone. And yet how could be, for their instruments are certainly beautiful. We found lately, however, that it was only a temporary distraction. Town people and country people for miles around paid us their respects in the afternoon and evening. The Jacobsen Book & Music Co.'s exhibit of high-grade pianos and organs was second only to the queen.

We are a loyal people, loving our queen and obeying her decrees; then, too, there are other instincts strong within us—it is the power of the dollars and cents. We respect law and order; we follow the precepts of an enlightened people. Music is a necessity. The piano is the king of musical instruments. The reigning kings of this musical throne are the Weber, the Kimball and the Chickering. Will you not pay your homage today? Taxes are lightened, for it is a day of rejoicing.

The Jacobsen Book & Music Co. are selling at cost. They have just taken the agency for these pianos and they wish to introduce them into twenty-five homes, at least in and around The Dalles. They can't make a mistake right on the start. Every assertion and claim is verified by facts. All pianos and organs at cost; this much only. Remember this: $296 buys a $400 piano.

Yesterday Mr. W. H. Dufar, of Dufar, could not withstand our "at cost" proposition. He gets a beautiful oak Kimball. Mrs. Mary Halpapp, of this city, turns in a fine organ for a strictly up-to-date cabinet grand. She wanted to buy next spring, but feeling this opportunity would probably not come again, waived whatever objections she had and ordered her piano sent home today. This week ends it. As a business proposition you should call and see us. We can talk to you better than we can write to you. Come in today; we want your influence in upbuilding this business in this community. Jacobsen Book & Music Co.'s store on Second street, or at their booth in the fair.

PEOPLE COMING AND GOING.

Fred Clarke arrived in the city yesterday from Moro.

J. P. Jones, traveling passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Turner, of Hood River, came up on the Iralda today and went out to Dufar to visit friends near that place.

H. W. Wells left on the noon train for Heppner, where he expects to buy a band or two of sheep to place on his ranch near Prosser.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly, of Kingsley, are in the city looking over several pieces of property with a view of purchasing a home and residing here. Mr. Kelly recently sold his farm of 400 acres to John Hicks.

Strayed from my place on the bluff, a 2-year-old Jersey heifer; dehorned; ear mark on both ears; branded bar Z on both hips. Liberal reward paid for her return.
