The Baby Show.

Next to the school children's procession the most interesting feature at the carnival yesterday was the baby show. Thirty-two white babies contested for three prizes of six, five and four dollars for the "finest," second "finest" and fattest baby. N. Whealdon and Martin Donnell gathered up seven Indian babies and entered them in a special race for "natives." The judges were selected from the Portland visitors and their identity was purposely concealed in the crowd of spectators, while their names are known only to the executive committee.

The first prize for the fattest white baby was awarded to Edna Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Weber. Second prize for finest baby, George Russel Clair Alden, son of Capt. and Mrs. C. M. Alden.

Fattest baby, May Colson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Colson. Best Indian baby, Tes Louse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louse, of Warm Springs. Fattest Indian baby, Annie Wasla.

The awards to the Indian babies were $1.50 for the best and a dollar for the fattest. But the mother of each of the seven Indian contestants got something that she valued far more than a monetary prize. E. O. McCoy took a fancy to the fat Indian prize-winner and, unpinning his carnival souvenir medal, he fastened it on the dress of the little one. This was a signal for the other six Indian mothers and there was no peace in camp till each of their babies was similarly decorated.

A beautiful and artistic art exhibit may be seen at Mrs. Morgan's studio, on Third street, near Court. 9-13

ICE CREAM and ICE CREAM SODA

At Andrew Keller's.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Hon. W. H. H. Dufur informs the Dalles Dispatch that the forest ranges on the Cascade reserve will all be called in on the 15th instant.

Too much credit cannot be given to the cereal exhibit which was collected and fitted up by G. T. Parr, of the Eastern Oregon Land Company. In beauty of design there was nothing to exceed it on the carnival grounds.

Among the apple exhibitors at the carnival whose names were not published in the list of last Thursday are C. H. Garrison, C. H. Smith and I. Matney, who brought some very beautiful apples from the upper Mill Creek country.

The Chronicle force has been working at big pressure for the past week, and in order to give them part of a holiday and an opportunity to visit the carnival and take in the foot ball game we go to press at two o'clock. This is our apology for paucity of news.

The attendance at the carnival yesterday was considerably larger than that of any other day. The number of school children alone is estimated at little less than a thousand including 600 from The Dalles. These and several hundred visitors from Portland, Heppner and other places had the freedom of the grounds and yet the admission tickets sold nearly equalled those of the opening day.

The Vogt opera house never presented a more brilliant appearance than it did at 10 o'clock last night when the grand Rex ball opened. The big room was handsomely decorated with no end of American flags and bunting, Japanese umbrellas, and Chinese lanterns lighted by electricity. This was the work of Mr. Stringer for which he is entitled to great credit. The attendance at the ball was very large and the floor was crowded till 2 o'clock this morning. The music was excellent—all that might be expected when Mr. Birgfeld is leader. The one disappointment was the non-appearance of Rex owing to a failure of the royal robes to arrive in time. However, they are here now and Rex will appear on the carnival grounds tonight, without fail, some time about 8 o'clock.

Three or four farmers were gathered yesterday at Cross' grocery corner and their conversation turned on the issues of the pending campaign. Among them was Mike Stacher, who years ago used to act as nightwatchman at the company's shops before they were removed to Albina. Mike has been a life long democrat and, German that he is, in spite of German opposition to free silver he was loyal to his party four years ago and voted for Bryan. Here is Mike's contribution to the conversation yesterday, as overheard by a bystander: "Well, gentlemen, I have been a democrat all my life and I voted for Bryan four years, but I'll never do it again. Times are good as one could reasonably ask them to be. Money is plenty and interest is lower than it ever was. Four years ago I could not borrow a dollar to save my soul. Now people are actually running after me and others to get us to borrow. I have made up my mind to take no chances on a change and I am going to vote to let well enough alone."

The pigeon cotes of F. J. Bonn and H. F. Zeigler were greatly admired at the fair, and either of the gentlemen was sure of an audience as long as he stood in front of the cotes and explained the character and habits of the birds. Mr. Zeigler, by the way, has some remarkable birds in his collection of homing or carrier pigeons. He has a hen that took the first prize at the world's fair in a race from Chicago to Milwaukee, a distance of 300 miles. This bird has a long distance record of 700 miles. Another bird, "Joe," has a record of 32,800 miles of travel in twenty-seven trips, between England and Belgium. Another, "Blue Boy," won first prize three times in a 500-mile race between a station in Georgia and Trenton, N. J. A blue checkered hen has a record of 450 miles at an average speed of 1500 yards a minute. Another, "Henry Z.," made the distance between Seattle and The Dalles in two hours and a half. Another won a 450 mile race between San Francisco and Los Angeles and came home shot in both wings and permanently disabled. And still six others have each a 500-mile record between Bourdeaux, France, and Antwerp, Belgium. One of Mr. Zeigler's birds is 22 years old. He says homing pigeons live for fifty years.

The Chronicle notes the following among the "biggest" things in the carnival horticultural exhibit. The biggest apples were from Hood River. Not that individual samples from other places did not equal individual samples from Hood River, but comparing the varieties all around, Hood River is entitled to the honors. Indeed unsurprisingly large and beautiful as the carnival apple exhibit, confessedly is the late Hood River exhibit was nearly twice as large and almost correspondingly beautiful. Perhaps the largest and most complete box of apples was that of William Ehrek of Hood River. They are the Hydes King of the West variety. The biggest squash belongs to S. F. Blythe, editor of the Hood River Glacier. It weighs 120 lbs. The biggest cabbage by Harry Mahear. The biggest watermelon by Robert Cooper. The largest Hubbard squash by G. W. Fligg. The biggest carrot by A. P. Vance. The biggest pumpkin by Hans Hansen. The biggest potatoes by Jack Daley of Sherman county. Of these last it may be said that others were as large or nearly so but there is this in favor of Mr. Daley's "Irish Rattlers," they were by odds the handsomest potatoes in the show and they were raised without a drop of irrigation in the driest portion of Sherman county.

THE CARNIVAL WEDDING

Will Take Place at Nine O'clock—List of Presents and Their Donors.

The carnival wedding will take place tonight without fail. The young couple, whose identity is only known to the wedding committee, Messrs. Lake and Bolton, telephoned at Tygh this forenoon that they were on the way and would arrive here about 5 o'clock p. m. They come from Wapinitia, and that is all the information the committee would reveal. The marriage will take place on the Band Stand at 9 o'clock sharp, and the ceremony will be performed gratuitously by Rev. U. F. Hawk, pastor of the M. E. church.

The following is the list of the wedding presents and their donors. The presents are now on exhibition in the queen's booth:

Maier & Benton, heating stove; A. M. Williams & Co., one pair of blankets and two pillows; Prinz & Nitschke, hardwood dining table; Pease & Mays, mattress, bedding, etc.; H. Herbring, bed spread; L. Rorden & Co., toilet set; W. A. Johnston, lamp; Mays & Crowe, cook stove; Jos T. Peters, copper wash boiler; Great Northern Furniture Co., rocker and one chair; Diamond Rolling Mills, barrel of flour, sack of whole wheat, sack of germ meal, sack of graham; New York Cash Store, one comfort; Umattila House, set of tinware; J. M. Toomey, Columbia Hotel, carving set and knives and forks; J. Bour, of the Midway, a bed room set; J. E. Adeck & Co., an alarm clock; editor CHRONICLE, a year's subscription to the paper.

The following citizens contributed $1 each, $15 in all, towards a present of dishes: A. Buchler, Ben Wilson, Dan Baker, Obarr Hotel, Wm. Marders, Jacobsen Book & Music Co., Clarke & Falk, I. C. Nickelsen, G. C. Blakeley, M. Z. Donnell, Charley Frank, Johnnussen, F. Lemke, Nelson & Keyes, Chas. Michelschke; James Falt & Co.

Webers, Kimballs, Chickering's AT COST.

TONIGHT at 11 o'clock our "Introductory Sale of HIGH-GRADE PIANOS AT COST" WILL CLOSE.

The Jacobsen Book & Music Co. are our agents for the Weber, Kimball and Chickering Pianos. All instruments may be had of them after today for exactly the same price and on as favorable terms as the same can be had of us in Portland. Remember your town people; our ten days' experience here justifies us in saying that all lines may be had in The Dalles as reasonably as in Portland. Don't think of purchasing an instrument until after you have seen Messrs. Menfee & Parkins. They have arrangements with us, as wholesalers of pianos, which enables them to do business if you are in the field for business. We commend them to you.

EILERS PIANO HOUSE,

Portland, Oregon.

PEOPLE COMING AND GOING.

John Johnson, wife and children, of Erskineville, are in the city.

Miss Mollie Proebstel is in the city from La Grande visiting friends.

Antone Berg, a resident of Grass Valley, is visiting with the family of August Buchler.

Mrs. Eda McFarland, who has been visiting her brothers here and in Antelope, returned to her home in Seattle yesterday.

Mrs. L. P. Rounds' Appointments.

Mrs. Louisa P. Rounds, state organizer and lecturer for the W. C. T. U., will speak at the Congregational church on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Rounds is superintendent of the department of peace and mercy. She will visit the schools on Tuesday and talk with the little ones on the duty of kindness to pets, animals and one another. Mrs. Rounds has large experience on the platform and we hope there will be a large audience to listen to this gifted woman. Her subject on Monday evening will be "Christian Citizenship."

Mrs. Rounds desires to meet the members of the Union on Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Congregational church.

The Union most cordially invites all and ladies to come out at that time.

Our busy women may not have given sufficient thought to the inculcation of the "Law of Kindness" in the minds and hearts of the boys and girls. The boy who is thought to be gentle and kind to the dog and horse, will never grow up to be a criminal, or the girl who is trained to be thoughtful in the care of her pet, will not fail in filial duty to the dear mother when her steps are going down the vale of life.
